$20,000 War Chest Planned to Back Solicitor

ATLANTANS ASKED FOR NEEDED FUNDS IN BUNCO BATTLE

Enthusiastic Meeting Is Held by the Committee Appointed by Citizens Tuesday Evening.

IMMEDIATE RESPONSE EXPECTED BY NEWELL

"Temper of Atlanta in This Emergency Clearly Shown by the Piedmont Gathering," He Says.

A war fund of $20,000 will be raised by citizens of Atlanta backing Solicitor-General John A. Boykin in his fight to clean up the police department. This was determined at the first meeting of the committee named at the Piedmont hotel mass meeting Tuesday night.

The meeting was held Wednesday morning at the offices of John A. Manget and a general plan of campaign was mapped out. It was determined that counsel must be employed immediately and that the solicitor-general should be given every aid and every agency to assist him in gathering information to be placed before the special investigating committee of general council.

Another meeting will be held Thursday at the offices of Colonel W. L. Peel in the Peters building. On account of the broad scope of work that the committee is to undertake it was enlarged Wednesday by the addition of Jerome Jones, editor of the Journal of Labor and a leader of the trades federation, and Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, prominent Atlanta clubwoman. Mrs. Richardson was named on the committee following the resignation of Mrs. B. M. Boykin, who asked that she be excused on account of being related by marriage to the solicitor-general.

Call Issued to Citizens.

Immediately after the organization meeting a call was issued to all citizens of Atlanta, who are in the fight for law and order, to contribute to the war chest. Alfred C. Newell, chairman of the committee, declared that the financial details of the fight must be arranged immediately in order that the solicitor-general may co-ordinate his forces before he is called to present his case before the council proceers.

"We expect an immediate and hearty response," said Mr. Newell. "No one who attended Tuesday night's meeting could doubt the temper of the people of Atlanta in this emergency. It was strikingly demonstrated at this meeting.

"There was no set program. This was made evident by the fact that the first two speakers, Mayor Key and former Congressman Howard both counseled that the people of the city permit these conditions to take care of themselves.

"But that wasn't the spirit of that meeting. From the moment that Colonel Peel declared that it was no time for talking about letting John Boykin conduct this fight single-handed and alone and Robert C. Alston asserted that Atlanta must either follow the leadership of the solicitor-general or Floyd Woodward, the feeling of the meeting was unmistakable.

Proved Beyond Peradventure.

"The people know that there has been either connivance with organized crime by our detective department or that it has been woefully and shamefully incompetent. The fact that this bunco band thrived here for years unmolested proves this beyond peradventure.

"But here is the situation. The solicitor-general is confronted by a foe that is just as subtle as it is sinister. It has unlimited resources and experience in combating truth and justice. It has had a predatory hold on the public for years and it isn't going to surrender that hold without the fiercest kind of a struggle.

"I am not accusing Chief Beavers or Chief Poole or any one individual, but someone is guilty in this affair. And it is for us to give the solicitor-general every assistance in the world in uncovering before the council investigation just on whom that guilt rests.

Will Have Ample Funds.

"It isn't to be doubted that we will have ample funds at once. The investment should appeal to every citizen of Atlanta. Right now we are getting an advertising that is a more costly burden to Atlanta than was the great fire of 1917. The only way we can counteract this advertising is to show the world that Atlanta citizens stand

MINERS CALL BIG STRIKE IN BRITAIN

Unless Government Gives In by Thursday, Work Will Be Completely Paralyzed.

London, March 30.—Great Britain has come to the crisis in the dispute between the coal miners and the government.

The miners' federation has issued a call for a general strike of all mining trades, including the pumpmen and other maintenance men, to begin at 10 o'clock Thursday night unless there is a settlement in the meantime. This development came suddenly, with the government's refusal to grant a subsidy payment on coal produced.

Only once before have the miners, in striking, called out the pumpmen, and on that occasion only certain mines were affected. These are the men who operate the machinery which keeps the water out of the tunnels.

If allowed to accumulate for even a short time, the water may wreak incalculable damage to the mines.

Second Big Crisis.

For the second time in six months, the government and British industry thus is faced with a coal crisis of tremendous potentiality. The general strike being scheduled to begin at 10 o'clock Thursday evening.

On the previous occasion, the miners—backed by the powerful tripple alliance, including transport workers and railway men—succeeded in forcing Lloyd-George and the labor ministry to compromise. They lacked, however, public opinion, which was distinctly against the strike, and failed to win the fixed flat wage increases of 2 shillings a day they demanded. The government had made ample provision for maintaining industry and transportation lines in the event of a strike.

Under the present system, coal is sold in England at approximately the cost of production, all profit coming from sales abroad. The government has, therefore, consistently fought to keep up production and, upon the increased output, would have depended the payment of increased wgaes.

Compels Victim To Drive Machine To Robbery Spot

Daring Thief Takes $170 in Cash and Also Steals Automobile.

Boldly stepping into the rear seat of a new automobile owned and driven by R. C. D'Hollosy, of 114 East Merritts avenue, last night about 9 o'clock at the crowded corner of Forrest avenue and Peachtree streets, a thief forced Mr. D'Hollosy to drive down Currier and into other darkened streets, and finaly, in front of Mr. D'Hollosy's own home, held up his victim at the point of a pistol, took $170 in cash and completed his sensational job by forcing the owner from the car and driving away with it.

This is the startling story of the brazen robbery told by Mr. D'Hollosy, a well known Atlantan, southeastern representative of an eastern lubricating oil firm, to city police and to a Constitution reporter. The bandit is described as being a young man of apparently 24 years of age, well dressed and ostensibly refined.

Man Climbs In.

According to Mr. D'Hollosy, whose mother lies at the point of death on Merritts avenue, he had driven to the drug store at the corner of Forrest avenue and Peachtree street to procure some medicine. His car he parked on Peachtree about 10 feet from Forrest, headed north. As he started to drive away, he saw the young man climb onto the runing board and into the tonneau. Thinking it some friend, Mr. D'Hollosy spoke to him.

"Drive on down that dark street and shut up, d— you," is the reply that Mr. D'Hollosy says he received, together with a punctuating prod in the back from a pistol.

The pistol was kept on him until, by his captor's orders, he had driven within 20 feet of his own home, on Merritts avenue, near Dayton place, where the thief ordered him to stop. Then, according to the victim's story, the "stick-up man" rifled his captive's pockets, ordered him out of the car; and himself taking the wheel, drove away with Mr. D'Hollosy's handsome new car, speeding up Merritts avenue.

Son of John Williams, Hero of Somme Retreat, Says Father Is Innocent

Dr. Gus Williams Denies Peonage Charges and Allegations Brothers Plotted Racial Trouble.

ALLEGED SLAYER WILL FACE TRIAL TUESDAY

Prominent Planter Will Be Tried in Newton County Court — Special Term Called in Jasper.

BY MARION KENDRICK.
Constitution Staff Correspondent.

Covington, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—On the now famous Williams "murder farm," twenty miles from here, Dr. Gus Williams, hero of the Somme retreat and wearer of the British war cross, in giving for the first time his version of the case, this afternoon denied that his father, John S. Williams, was guilty of the killing of eleven negroes held in peonage and that his three younger brothers were members of a conspiracy to start a racial riot. A few hours after he issued this statement, federal officials raided the farm and arrested several negroes to be jailed as material witnesses.

Three automobiles, occupied by the federal agents and Sheriff B. L. Johnson left Covington late this afternoon for the scene of the recent atrocious murders. The government men came here from Atlanta, and their movements and plans were kept secret even after they had departed on their mission. After arriving at the Williams plantation, the rounding up of the negroes was carried out without any disturbance, but only five of the witnesses desired for the prosecution of peonage cases in the federal court next week were found.

Witnesses Taken to Atlanta.

A thorough search of all the surrounding territory was made for the missing negroes, and it was finally decided that they had fled. None of the Williams' family was seen during the raid, it is reported, and no effort was made by anyone to interfere with the removal of the negroes. The witnesses were carried to Atlanta, where it is understood they will be lodged in the Fulton county tower.

When Dr. Williams, who is the oldest son of John Williams, and a practicing physician, was informed that correspondents of The Constitution and The New York World were working on the case in the vicinity of the Alcovy, Yellow and South rivers, he invited them to visit the Williams home. It had been intimated by the physician that he would be willing to enter a full discussion of the atrocious murder cases with the correspondents, and then they arrived at the home, which is situated on a high hill from which one may view the countryside for many miles, he assumed an attitude of perfect willingness to answer all questions.

While Williams was discussing the case, Judge John S. Hutcheson, in Covington, was informing counsel for both sides that the trial of the older Williams will be started next Tuesday morning in the Newton county superior court and that more than one hundred jurymen had been summoned to be present in order that an early selection of the trial jury may result. In the Ocmulgee judicial circuit, Judge Park had already issued an order for a special term of the Jasper superior court and grand jury on April 11 to probe the charges against the planter and three of his sons.

Charges Falsehood.

Dr. Williams declared that all the reports that Floyd Johnson, the

SEVEN-YEAR TERM GIVEN TO DONAHUE FOR MAIL ROBBERY

Alleged Master Crook Had Already Served 26 Years and 10 Months for Various Offenses.

$65,000 BOND THEFT HIS LATEST OFFENSE

Long Trips Taken by Postoffice Investigators to Arrest Him—No Decision on Appeal.

Thomas Donahue, alleged master crook, whose combined jail and penitentiary sentences already received for various crimes ranging from petty larceny to felonious assault total 26 years and 10 months, was convicted in federal court Wednesday afternoon for holding up a United States mail truck in Atlanta on the night of June 15, 1920, and was sentenced to serve seven years in the federal penitentiary. His attorneys are undecided as to moving for a new trial.

The case went to the jury early Wednesday afternoon, and the jury deliberated for 30 minutes before returning a verdict of guilty. The convicted man made no statement to the court. Lasting for three days, the trial proved to be the most interesting yet of the present session of court. Each day a large crowd of spectators thronged the room.

Counsel In Case.

The case was argued by Hooper Alexander, United States district attorney, who, with D. J. Meyerhardt, assistant district attorney, has prosecuted the case, William Schley Howard, counsel for the defendant, and James A. Branch, Mr. Howard's partner.

When the mail truck was held up, $65,000 in bonds was secured by the bandit, some of which have been recovered by postoffice inspectors in Philadelphia pawnshops. Pawnbrokers from that city testified for the government that Donahue is the same man who pawned the bonds.

Donahue's conviction ended one of the most important criminal cases, and one of the most difficult to develop, ever confronted by local postoffice inspectors. Inspector N. A. McKew, who was assigned to an investigation of the robbery, figured out Wednesday that if his various trips made during his investigation had been combined in one continuous journey, he would have traveled completely around the world. His official reports show that in connection with the Donahue case, he made seven trips to New York City, one to San Francisco, one to Los Angeles, and also trips to other large cities, including Washington, Boston and Philadelphia.

The hold-up of the mail truck was spectacular. It was on its way to the Terminal station with two men in charge. When not more than two blocks away it was held up, as the driver was about to turn into Mitchell street, and Donahue stepped aboard. He covered both men with pistols, forced them to drive to the outskirts of the city. There he bound them, looted the truck, and left it.

Long Criminal Record.

Donahue is a man 54 years of age. His criminal record shows that when he was only 18 years old, he was convicted in New York city of a charge of petty larceny, and imprisoned one year and fined $50.

Two years later, on November 23, 1887, he was convicted in the same city, under the name of Thomas Daly, for felonious assault, and sentenced by Judge Cowing to serve seven years in Sing Sing. It is believed that he was paroled in that case, for the records show that only six years later, he was sent to jail for three months for burglary.

Sent to Sing Sing.

After enjoying his freedom for only a few days, he was sent up to Sing Sing in the same year from Brooklyn on a charge of grand larceny. His sentence was four years and ten months. He served only a part of that sentence.

Other subsequent convictions resulted in sentences as follows: 1899, Chicago, burglary, one year in the house of correction; 1900, Newark, robbery and assault, three years in the Trenton penitentiary; 1902, Rochester, grand larceny, four years and nine months in the Auburn prison; and 1907, Philadelphia, entering postoffice to steal, five years in penitentiary.

Criminal cases are said to be pending against him in the following cities: Syracuse, New York and Philadelphia.

Lieutenant W. D. Coney, Georgia Aviator, Dies Of Injuries in Crash

Brunswick Airman, Born in Atlanta, Trained at McPherson and Tech, Held X-Country Record.

GIVEN PROMOTION UPON DAY OF CRASH

Body on Way to Brunswick for Burial There Saturday—Officer Pays Tribute to Coney.

Natchez, Miss., March 30.—Lieutenant William Devoe Coney, 27, who was seriously injured when his airplane crashed into a tree near Crowville, La., last Friday morning, died of his injuries at a local hospital here at 5:20 p. m. today.

The death of the lieutenant, whose back was broken in the fall, resulting in a complete paralysis of his body from the chest down, was not unexpected, as his physicians had announced earlier in the day that he could live only a few hours.

Mrs. E. F. Coney, his mother, of Brunswick, Ga.; Mrs. W. H. Devoe, an aunt, of Jacksonville, Fla., and E. F. Coney, a brother, of Brunswick, Ga., were with the flyer at the time of his death, having been constant attendants at his bedside since their arrival here last Sunday.

Lieutenant Coney is a son of the late Edgar F. Coney, a lumberman of Brunswick. He was born in Atlanta in November, 1893. His youth was spent in Brunswick.

Student At Tech.

At the outbreak of the Mexican trouble in 1916 he enlisted with the Brunswick Rifles, an infantry organization, and saw service on the border. Returning to Brunswick in 1917, about the time the United States entered the European war, he entered the officers' training camp at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., where he was commissioned as a second lieutenant of infantry. Later he was transferred to the air service, receiving his preliminary training at the ground school at Georgia Tech in Atlanta. He was assigned as flying instructor during the war and had no opportunity to see service at the front. On the day he was injured the announcement was made at San Diego, Cal., of his promotion to a first lieutenancy.

Major Claggett announced tonight that the body of Lieutenant Coney would leave Natchez at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning and that the funeral will be held in Brunswick, Ga., on Saturday. The major will accompany the party to Brunswick for the funeral, having abandoned his plans, for the time being, to visit the scene of the accident to make an investigation.

Lieutenant Coney was under the command of Major Claggett at Kelly field, Texas, during the time he served as an instructor, and tonight the major paid a high tribute to the sterling qualities of the deceased aviator.

HELD RECORD FOR CROSS-COUNTRY FLIGHT.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 30.—Lieutenant W. D. Coney left Pablo Beach near here on his second attempt at a transcontinental one-stop flight shortly after midnight March 24. He had previously made a flight from San Diego, Cal., to Pablo Beach in 22 hours and 27 minutes actual flying time, establishing a new record.

Leaving San Diego, Cal., on the eastern flight shortly after midnight, February 22, Lieutenant Co-

WILL BACK JONES AGAINST BARRETT

Hot Fight Is Now Promised for Police Board Position Resigned by Maddox.

Alderman C. R. Garner and Councilman J. A. Couch, two members of the fifth ward delegation in city council, announced Wednesday that they will support R. E. Jones to succeed J. W. Maddox as police commissioner from the fifth ward.

The third member, W. M. Etheridge, is still standing firmly by Ellis Barrett, young attorney, whom he nominated in the recent race against J. W. Maddox, and who tied his opponent, but was counted out of 2 votes through an error.

It is declared by Garner and Couch, who supported J. W. Maddox, that Jones is free from alignment with any faction, and has never been in politics before. For eight years he has been superintendent of the Spratt Chair company, near East Point, of which Alderman Nelson T. Spratt is president.

The election is scheduled for next Monday, but it became known Wednesday that the contest will be prolonged two weeks through announcement of Mayor Key, who must preside in council when elections are held, that he will be absent from the city, leaving Monday morning on the "Greater Georgia Tech" tour.

Horace McCall was the first selection of the Maddox faction, following Maddox's resignation. He is in the employ of the government and withdrew from the race after learning that while an employee of the United States, he could not hold a municipal office.

Friends of Ellis Barrett claim that enough votes in council have been pledged him to assure his election. On the other hand, the Maddox adherents assert he will be defeated.

University Band Will Greet Tech Industrial Tour

Georgians Will "Play Tourists Into Athens" in Most Approved Style.

Among the greetings which will be extended the party on the Georgia Tech Industrial tour of the state next week, when 35 cities and towns will be visted on a special train, the one at Athens will be particularly grateful to all those members of the party who are from, or connected with the Georgia School of Technology.

At Athens, home of the state university—Tech's classic rival on the athletic battle field—the university band, with a delegation of students, is to welcome the Tech party and "play them into town" in the most approved and cordial style.

The announcement of this evidence of esteem and good feeling between the great schools—which some years ago severed athletic relations—has struck a responsive chord in the hearts of Tech and Georgia students and alumni. It is regarded by the tourists as a bit of fine spirit on the part of the university that will go far to cement a better understanding, begun wholesomely at the great basketball struggle in Atlanta recently when the two teams were brought together in a tournament, and the student bodies of both gave the public a splendid lesson in sportsmanship and fine courtesy in their behavior toward one another.

Appeal of Citizens' Committee For Funds to Fight Bunco Ring

To carry on the fight for law and order we need $20,000. This money will be expended in furthering the plans of those determined to see that justice and truth prevail at the pending inquiry before the committee of city council appointed to investigate the charges made by Solicitor-General Boykin. These funds will be used to employ counsel, obtain information and further the fight for good government. The need for this money is immediate and imperative. The solicitor-general has fought, and is fighting, single-handed, subtle and sinister foes. They have at their command unlimited resources and long experience in combating truth and justice. We desire to give every citizen and every organization an opportunity to contribute to the cause in this—the most critical period of Atlanta's history.

WILL YOU HELP?

DEFICIT IS SHOWN BY 202 RAILWAYS, EXECUTIVES SAY

109 Roads Failed to Earn Expenses and Taxes in February—16 of These in South.

BIG LINE ASKS CUT FOR 26,000 WORKERS

New York Central Seeks Authority to Put Reduction Into Effect by April 1.

Washington, March 30.—A deficit of January of $1,167,800 was shown for 202 railroads of the country in reports submitted to the interstate commerce commission, the Association of Railway Executives announced tonight. Tabulation of the reports as furnished them, the association added, showed that 109 of the railroads whose reports were made available failed to earn expenses and taxes during the month. Of these 109, it said, 45 were in the eastern, 16 in the southern and 48 in the western districts. This compares, it was added, with 88 who failed to earn expenses and taxes in December.

Operating revenues for January, according to the announcement, were $468,934,000, an increase of 5 1-5 per cent over January, 1920, while the operating expenses were $442,474,000, an increase of 6 3-5 per cent over the corresponding period a year ago. The net operating income which was not given, represented a decrease of 120.6 per cent as compared with January, 1920, it was said.

Freight Revenues.

Freight revenues amounted to $323,58[illegible],000, an increase of 4 1-5 per cent over the previous January, and passenger revenues were $105,247,000, an increase over January, 1920, of 14 3-5 per cent. Last August, it was explained, freight rates were increased 33 1-3 per cent and passenger fares 20 per cent. The carriers, however, showed a decrease in the bulk of freight carried of 14.7 per cent on the net ton miles, and 6 1-2 per cent on the passenger miles as compared with January, 1920.

The roads failed by $68,439,800, the announced statement said, to earn the amount estimated under the increased rates fixed by the interstates commerce commission, in accordance with the transportation act.

Southern Conditions.

Southern roads failed by 75 per cent to make the profits estimated, the railway executives declared. Complete reports from the southern lines gave their operating revenues as $78,557,000, an increase of 6.7 per cent over January a year ago, with operating expenses $71,441,000, an increase of 7.8 per cent over January the year previous.

The net operating income was $3,616,000, a decrease of 8.2 per cent compared with January, 1920.

SEEK REDUCTION OF 26,000 MEN.

Chicago, March 30.—Provisional reduction of the wages of approximately 26,000 unskilled workmen on the New York Central railroad, to be effective April 1, was asked of the railroad labor board today. Immediately relief from the present rates was sought pending a hearing on permanent reduction later and at the same time announcement was made that conferences with other classes of labor were in session this week and that reductions in every class of railway employees was being considered.

The unskilled labor dispute came before the board after conferences with employees early this month had failed to reach an agreement on any wage reductions. The case is the first one brought by a carrier, and is considered, in railroad circles, as the first move on the part of the trunk lines to cut their payrolls.

The railroad appeared, prepared to submit extensive data on wages in other similar industries and on the cost of living, but the board decided to confine the present case to the question of immediate reductions.

Mass of Statistics.

Railroad representatives then presented a mass of statistics, showing the rates paid for similar labor in other industrials, and the case was concluded, with a decision expected by the end of the week.

During the testimony of J. Aronson, counsel for the New York Central, A. O. Wharton, labor member of the board, inquired into the proposed reduction, and inquired how the unskilled labor class was selected for a cut.

Reductions of 17 to 31 per cent were proposed in various classes of unskilled labor on the New York Central and a comparison with common labor in other industries

FORCES CHILDREN TO ENTER MACHINE AND SPEEDS AWAY

Drives to Atlanta, Where He Surrenders to Police. Shoots Self During the Struggle With Wife.

OCCUPANTS OF AUTO HALF FROZEN ON TRIP

Jewett S. Peek Was Released From Sanitarium Only a Few Days Ago. Young Son Disappears.

Having shot his wife to death while she held her year-old babe in her arms, Jewett S. Peek, well-known farmer who lives four mles beyond Roswell, and who is declared to be mentally unbalanced, Wednesday afternoon forced two of his children, his sister-in-law and two of her children, thinly clad, into an automobile and drove through the biting cold twenty miles to Atlanta, where he surrendered to the police. He shot himself in the left wrist during the struggle that ended in his wife's death.

This is the tragic chapter that ended its action when the half-frozen people arrived before the Atlanta police station Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Clyde Peek, clad only in a thin house dress; two of her children, half-frozen by the chill wind; the 16-year-old son of the slayer, and the year-old babe—its dress drenched and its chubby face spattered with flecks of its mother's blood—were the occupants of the car, according to the Atlanta officers who arrested the man and took him to Grady hospital to remain under guard during the night.

Search for Young Boy.

Another feature of the tragedy, as citizens of Cobb county related it Wednesday night, was that an 8-year-old son of Peek, who had seen his mother slain, disappeared immediately after the sad happening and had not been found at an hour well past midnight.

Insanity is believed to have been the cause of the deed, since it is authentically reported that Peek, about a month ago, engaged in wild and dangerous gun-play that resulted in his being declared demented and in his being sent to Dr. Brawner's sanitarium near Smyrna. About two weeks ago, however, he was released from the institution and until his actions Wednesday afternoon had been thought again the normal, respected, well-to-do planter he had been before his first derangement.

When he arrived at Grady hospital late Wednesday afternoon, say the physicians who attended his wound, he was raving incoherently about a mob, seeming to possess the obsession that a crowd of men had been following him for weeks, had finally overtaken him and had shot him in the wrist. Doctors adjudged him a paranoiac immediately after his arrival.

Slaying in Afternoon.

The slaying of Mrs. Peek occurred at about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, all of the family being at home. Peek's brother, Roland, drove up to the gate of the J. S. Peek home, it is said, and it was then that the slayer began his fray. It is said that in addition to killing his wife, he also attempted to kill his 15-year-old daughter, one of five children.

Had Baby In Arms.

According to the story told, the mother had her baby in her arms and when shot by her husband, fell face forward, covering the child. The bullet which killed Mrs. Peek entered below the left ear and came out above the right eye. Her death was instantaneous.

Then it was that the crazed man forced the children, 16-year-old Leroy and the blood-soaked babe, into his automobile and began his wild ride to Atlanta. Having gone a short distance, he stopped and made his sister-in-law, Mrs. Clyde Peek, with her two children, enter the car, goes the account given a Constitution reporter Wednesday night.

When the car arrived in Atlanta, the children, except the older boy, and Mrs. Peek, were huddled into the bottom of the car's tonneau to avoid the cold.

Sheriff Branson, of Cobb county, came to Atlanta immediately after hearing of the tragedy to carry Peek back to the jail in Marietta, but physicians at the Grady hospital advised him to let the man spend the night there, as his condition was bad.

Display of Delirium.

The bullet was not taken out of his arm until late at night, and he fell asleep after his first display of delirium. An officer of the Atlanta force remained on guard over the prisoner throughout the night.

Mayor H. I. Weaver, of Roswell, said Wednesday night that the entire community was aroused over the happening and that searching parties were out looking for the 8-year-old child who had disappeared just after the fatal shooting.

After Peek had been placed in the hospital, Leroy, his son, immediately drove his aunt and the children back to the home. Attaches of Grady supplied the woman and the children with blankets to supplement the insufficient clothing all of them wore so that the trip to Roswell would not be as unbearable as they had declared the trip to Atlanta with Peek.

Negroes Arrested For Cheering Jury In Murder Trial

Savannah, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—After having been warned by Judge Peter W. Meldrim in the superior courtroom here that their noisy demonstrations interfered with the business of the tribunal, between 200 and 250 negroes, most of them men in the gallery of the courtroom as spectators at a trial of one of their race charged with murder, were ordered arrested and were accordingly "rounded up" by deputies and marched off to the police barracks, where "vagrancy" charges were lodged against a number of them.

Percy Mangum was being tried upon a charge of the murder of his friend, William Nelson, on Christmas day. When Mangum was given a verdict of not guilty the gallery crowd began a vociferous demonstration. Having rapped them down numerous times through the progress of the trial, the patience of the judge was worn out, and his peremptory order followed, creating consternation among the blacks. Deputies allowed few to escape, though they hid behind doors, under benches and in corners.

DEFEATED CUBAN CANDIDATE ASKS ACTION ON VOTING

Washington, March 30.—Jose Miguel Gomez, defeated liberal party candidate for the Cuban presidency, was in Washington today to appeal to the state department for establishment of a provisional government in the island under an American chief executive, if necessary, to superise new elections.

In collaboration with Dr. Manuel Rafael Angulo, representative here of his party, the liberal leader has prepared an extensive protest against the conduct of the recent Cuban elections to be filed with Secretary Hughes this week if he will receive it. No appointment has been made as yet at the department for this purpose.

General Gomez explained to the Associated Press today that the protest charges he has been kept out of the presidency by fraud and intimidation.

He was convinced, General Gomez declared, of the sincerity of Major General Enoch H. Crowder, sent to Cuba by President Wilson as an official advisor before the elections, but insisted that the American officer had failed to obtain for the liberals the freedom in the exercise of the franchise which the United States government had declared indispensable.

Burroughs to Rest Under Mossy Boulder Of Boyhood Times

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., March 30.—A large boulder, upon which John Burroughs played as a boy and sat in study of nature as a man will form the headstone of the grave where his body is to be interred next Sunday, on the eighty-fourth anniversary of his birth.

The burial plot, selected today by relatives of the great naturalist who died suddenly yesterday while returning to his home near here on a passenger train, is high in the Catskill mountains at Roxbury. A landscape expert accompanied a funeral director there today to plan a little park around the grave.

A few feet from the burial ground stands the old house in which Mr. Burroughs was born. A little distance away is "Woodchuck Hole," the summer camp of the naturalist. His friends who enjoyed outings—Thomas A. Edison, Henry Ford and H. S. Firestone—are expected to attend the funeral services Saturday.

THREE DEAD, ONE HURT IN AUTO-TRAIN SMASH

Plano, Texas, March 30.—Three children were instantly killed and one man was perhaps fatally injured when a northbound interurban train, late today, struck an automobile 3 miles south of here, on the Dallas-Denison line. The party, all of Harlan, Iowa, was traveling overland, in two automobiles, on their way from San Bernito, Texas, where they had spent the winter.

APPOINTMENT URGED FOR FLORIDA CITIZEN

Washington, March 30.—Eugene C. Ashe, of Key West, Fla., was introduced today to President Harding by George W. Bean, republican national committeeman from Florida, who urged Mr. Ashe's appointment as minister to Cuba. Mr. Bean said he also favored selection of C. W. Logan, of Jacksonville, as a member of the shipping board.

TAXI DRIVER IS SHOT TO DEATH IN WOODS

Spartanburg, S. C., March 30.—(Special.)—Guy McDowell, white, a local taxicab driver, was found dead in a body of woods three miles west of the city this afternoon with several bullet holes in his head. The police are investigating, but the manner of his death has not yet been determined. He had been missing since yesterday.

RAILROADS REFUSE CUT ON PERISHABLES

Dallas, Texas, March 30.—Railorad representatives late today refused to grant the rate reduction of 35 per cent on perishables requested by shippers of fruits and vegetables. Announcemnt of the refusal was formally made after completion of testimony of shippers and producers from various parts of the south at a hearing of the interstate commerce commission.

MEN MAKE CLAIM OF INCONSISTENCY

Says A., B. & A. Takes Money From U. S. and Then Refuses to Pay Intended Wage Scale.

Representatives of the fourteen brotherhoods now on strike against the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway, issued a statement Wednesday declaring that while the road is refusing to pay its employees a wage scale intended by the transportation act it is nevertheless accepting funds guaranteed by the government under this act. The labor men also claim that men who have replaced the strikers on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic are incompetent and the operation of the road as now conducted is dangerous.

The statement calls attention to the fact that the receiver for the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, in order to obtain a loan of $125,000 with which to pay back wages, is planning to pledge as security $269,402, which the receiver in his petition before the federal court stated was due from the government under the guarantee section of the transportation act.

Statement On Service.

No reply was made by officials of the A., B. & A. to the brotherhood charges, but the statement was given out by Passenger Traffic Manager W. W. Croxton that the company is giving daylight train service, both passenger and local freight, and that the officials expect this service to improve with each day.

Mr. Croxton explained that all embargoes against all "dead" freight in carload lots and less than carload lots had been lifted. This applies to all points on the line of the A., B. & A., and is taken to indicate the greatly improved local freight service in operation.

The railroad officials gave out a letter received from Mayor W. S. Davis, of Tyrone, Ga., protesting against a statement said to have been given out by Val Fitzpatrick, leader of the brotherhoods, in which it was claimed that Fitzpatrick had given a wrong impression concerning the attitude of the Tyrone people regarding the strike.

Statement of Men.

The statement of the men is as follows:

Press reports this afternoon show that the A., B. & A. railway is to obtain a loan of $125,000, for which they will pledge as security $269,402, which the received stated in his petition is due from the government under the guarantee section of the Transportation act. The guarantee to railways under the transportation act when paid will be taken from the public treasurer, therefore, the public will pay the bill. It is to be noted that if the A., B. & A. railway accepts this amount from the government as a guarantee under the transportation act they will be accepting for the railway funds guaranteed by the same law which gave to the employees of this road just and reasonable wages which the railway has refused to pay to the employees. The law is fine in so far as payment to the railway is concerned, but, according to the receiver's actions, it is entirely wrong when it comes to providing payments to employees for service rendered the public. Has the time arrived in America that a railroad can receive the benefits accruing to it under a federal law and at the same time refuse to comply with that law in matters affecting the welfare of human beings?

No railway can operate efficiently and safely unless competent employes are in its service. In order to be competent and efficient for this character of employment it is necessary that men have years of training in the actual operation of the industry. Any railway operating official who has practical experience will testify to the correctness of this assertion. In fact, certain officials of a railroad have sworn in court that in order to have competent employees it was necessary that they employ members of labor organizations. These officials know this from experience because they endeavored to operate with incompetent employees, just as the A., B. & A. is to operate with incompetent employees. Evidence in the possession of the employees who left the service shows that there are incompetent and inefficient employees in service of the A., B. & A. railway and it is for that reason alone that inefficient and unsafe service to the public is being furnished and for which the public pays the rates established by the transportation act.

As a demonstration of the unsafe conditions it should be noted that on March 24 a passenger train going west reached Pyriton, Ala., when the crew in charge of the train discovered that they had passed Highland and gone for a distance of about one and one-half miles, where they were reminded that this passenger train was to have met a freight train at Highland. A collision in this case was averted only because of the fact that the freight train had not reached Pyriton prior to the arrival of the passenger train. When the crew discovered they had passed the point where they had orders to meet another train they immediately backed the train to that point without it being protected by flagman as required by operating rules of the railways. This is one of the many cases of inefficient operation of this property and shows that serious accidents are likely to occur because of the incompetency of persons engaged in the operation of this road.

Letter From Mayor Davis.

The letter of Mayor W. S. Davis, of Tyrone, Ga., attacking the statement attributed to Val Fitzpatrick, follows:

Hon. B. L. Bugg, Receiver A., B. & A. Railway Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Sir: I notice a statement from one Mr. Val Fitzpatrick in The Constitution this morning in which he denies that there is any such incorporated town as Tyrone. He brands the statement published by you a day or so two ago and signed by myself as Mayor of Tyrone, as an "unadulterated fake," and accuses me of rank deception in furnishing you that statement.

Mr. Fitzpatrick ought to have had more sense, occupying the position that he does, than to have made the statement credited to him by The Constitution, as he could have very easily ascertained that Tyrone is an incorporated town by referring to the acts of the Georgia legislature of 1911, page 1604. The acts in question show conclusively that Tyrone is an incorporated town in accordance with the laws of this state, and I wish to state that we have a regular city government for our town, and I am its duly constituted mayor.

It is needless to say more than what I have just said, but I wish to reiterate my former statement that Tyrone is opposed to the methods adopted by the former employees of the A., B. & A. railroad, and we are squarely behind you in your efforts to operate this important railroad line for the benefit of our citizens and other communities reached by your road. Mr. Fitzpatrick is the man who is undertaking to deceive the public by his gross misstatement of the facts as he hands them out with such reckless disregard of the truth as above referred to. Mr. Fitzpatrick had better come down and take a census of our town before he makes any other statements as to our population, as he grossly misstated the truth about this.

I trust you will have this letter published in order that we may be set right before the world.

With best wishes for you, and for the A., B. & A. railroad, which so adequately has been serving us, I am, your very truly,

(Signed.) W. S. DAVIS,
Mayor of Tyrone, Ga.

Courtesy Visit Paid to Harding By French Envoy

Former Premier Now Free to Take Up Real Business of Mission.

Washington, March 30.—Rene Viviani, former premier of France, was received by President Harding at the white house late today after he had formally presented his credentials as an envoy extraordinary to this country to Secretary Hughes at the state department.

At both the white house and the state department visits, M. Viviani was accompanied by Ambassador Jusserand, and, according to statements by officials at their conclusion, the former premier's visit remains nothing more than "one of courtesy." It was intimated by those attached to his mission, however, that as an envoy from France he would give an attentive ear to any suggestions involving the relations of France with the United States.

The only formal announcement was one issued at the white house after the conference with President Harding, which said that "M. Viviani called to pay the compliments and utter the good wishes of the president of France to the president," and added that he "emphasized the desire of France to continue the friendship between the two republics and expressed gratitude to America for the great things done since his previous visit." Formal announcement was also made that President Harding would give a dinner at the white house in honor of M. Viviani on April 5.

Conference Is Short.

The conference at the state department, which was also participated in by Under-Secretary Fletcher, lasted for an hour and a half, and later Secretary Hughes called at the hotel where M. Viviani is stopping to return the visit. The only comment Mr. Hughes would make was an expression of his pleasure in receiving the former French premier and at the opportunity of renewing an old acquaintance. M. Viviani intends to go to Baltimore tomorrow with Ambassador, Jusserand to attend the funeral of Cardinal Gibbons. He will return here immediately and tomorrow night attend a dinner given in his honor at the French embassy at which Vice President Coolidge and Senator Lodge, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, will be present.

M. Viviani has now accomplished the announced purpose of his visit to the United States. He has paid his respects and the respects of the French government, whose envoy extraordinary he is to President Harding and can now return home, but if he did he would be an extraordinary envoy, indeed. This is not meant to intimate that there is any intentional deception behind the announcement of his reasons for coming, but to say that it is fiction, polite and proper fiction, not really meant to deceive.

Conversations with members of Viviani's party, distinguished representatives of France in their own right, seems to reveal that the work that the former prime minister has cut out for himself is this:

Wants American Support.

Obtaining from the American government some sort of gesture calculated to impress Germany on the one hand with America's concurrence in a policy requiring her to pay to the fullest extent she can for the damage done by the war, and calculated to impress France on the other hand, that America will not support a policy of actually crushing Germany. The first part of this endeavor by Viviani has been more or less anticipated. The second part is perhaps new and may need some explanation.

Politics in France is no more simple than in this country. When it is written that France wants this or France wants that, it does not mean necessarily that France is a unit on the subject. It is the custom to believe that all France is clamoring for Germany's life blood, and it is true that this might fairly be said of a certain large portion of the French. It is going to require the birth of new generations to bring about any real tolerance in France toward Germany and the German people. But that does not apply to the whole French government. The responsible heads of the French government, in fact, are compelled to devote much of their efforts to keeping this passion of the people in check. Only a little less passionate on the subject than the people is the majority of the French chamber of deputies.

At a time when the reparations clauses were being finally drawn at the Paris peace conference, Bonar Law and James Barnes, members of the British commission to negotiate peace, got together one Sunday and agreed that the terms were so harsh that they practically guaranteed another war when the time came that Germany could again make war. They placed this view before Lloyd-George and he agreed with them, but said he had been unable to persuade Clemenceau. He suggested that they talk with Clemenceau and endeavor to modify his views. They did so and were surprised to have Clemenceau declare his sympathy with their contention. But, he said, any terms less severe on Germany would not be ratified by the chamber of deputies. This might have sounded like a simple case of "passing the buck," but the debate in the chamber that preceded ratification of the treaty revealed that not many members of the chamber were satisfied with the severity of the terms; they argued in the familiar phrase, "We won the war, but Germany has won the peace."

Some Recognize Limit.

The best minds in France recognize that there are limits to the amount that Germany can pay and that a Germany industrially destroyed cannot pay. They are endeavoring to find a compromise between their judgment and the demands of the chamber and the people at large. An indication by the United States of its views and its purpose might be couched in such language as to enable the French leaders to obtain such a compromise.

Viviani has other purposes, of course. They include discussion of trade relations with this country, and understanding of the present administration's exact attitude on the league of nations or as to the formation of another such organization of lesser scope, and the handling of France's debt to the United States. But, primarily, there is excellent reason for believing that a declaration of the kind described—aimed both at Germany and his own country—is the one principal object of Viviani's coming.

NEGRO CONFESSES TO KILLING PAIR

Mystery of Death of Aged Man and Boy Near Birmingham Cleared by Statement.

Birmingham, Ala., March 30 — John Whiteside, alias Ambry Garrett, brought back from Chattanooga Saturday night, made a complete confession of the murder of J. L. Bourgouis, 73, and Lacey Murphree, 15-year-old boy, this afternoon in the office of County Solicitor Joseph R. Tate, according to the solicitor.

This announcement was made by Mr. Tate immediately following the confession, in which the negro alleged to have admitted committing the double murder several days ago near Henry Ellen and in which he gave his right name as John Whiteside.

According to Tate the statement of the man was as clear and clean-cut and tallied exactly with the evidence which officers had worked up against him. Mr. Tate said the negro stated he had stolen the corduroy suit he had on, the shotgun with which he shot Bourgouis and Lacey Murphree, a pistol and a watch from his cousin, Andrew Garrett, near Vincent. After the thefts, according to the alleged confession, Whiteside was attempting to make his escape and was lying in the bushes in the woods through which the aged man and young boy passed returning from their fishing trip, and when he saw them he was afraid they would report his whereabouts to the officers, so he fired at the old man, killing him instantly. When the boy started to run he then fired on him.

He then escaped from the woods and later sold the gun to a farmer in the vicinity for $2 and made his way to Chattanooga, where he was captured.

DEMAND EXPLANATION OF MEXICAN KILLING

Washington, March 30.—Representatives have been made to the Mexican government demanding that the murderers of two Americans killed in that country about three weeks ago be apprehended and punished.

The cases involved, the state department announced, were those of Edward Davis, a mining man, killed near Sonora early in March, presumably by bandits, and A. D. Bridges, negro plantation caretaker, killed by bandits in Vera Cruz state.

MARINE AIRMEN TO RESUME FLIGHT EARLY THURSDAY

Fayetteville, N. C., March 30.—Two marine corps airplanes which left Washington yesterday for a flight to St. Thomas, V. I., and forced to land at Richmond yesterday owing to trouble with one of the planes, arrived at Pope field here at 2:45 this afternoon. The flight from Richmond to Camp Bragg consumed 5 hours and 15 minutes.

On account of rain and heavy fog, the fliers had to change their course and go several hundred miles out of their way, but did not make any landing between Richmond and Fayetteville. They expect to leave here early tomorrow morning for Paris Island, S. C.

JOHN WILLIAMS' SON SAYS FATHER INNOCENT

young white man who testified before the grand jury of Newton county today regarding the alleged conspiracy to incite the white people here against the negroes and an attempt of the Williams boys to bribe him to sign affidavits favoring their father, had been approached by his brothers with such an object in view were absolutely false.

"The first they knew of this latest attempt to arouse public sentiment here against us," he said, "was when I told them the other night about the rumors I had heard in Covington. The real truth about the situation is this: Johnson came to my mother's house the night after father had been arrested and told of meeting the car filled with negroes on the Allen bridge over the Yellow river.

Had Seen Two Bodies.

"He stated that he had seen two black bodies in the car, and the negroes had told him if he told any one about them they would kill him. At the time they told him this, he said, they held their guns on him, and since then he had been sleeping with his gun. He told my mother that he had decided to come voluntarily to her and tell of the occurrence, because he wanted to help my father. And now they tell me he has confessed in Covington before the grand jury that it was all a 'frame-up;'" he continued.

Williams was then asked how his father and brother had been able to operate the farm with so many negroes leaving.

"When the federal agents came through this section several weeks ago investigating peonage conditions and told the negroes that they should be making more money and working only eight hours a day, my father decided to let all those dissatisfied leave," he replied. "He even gave the negroes who owed him money enough funds to get them out of the county and cancelled their debts.

Operate on Reduced Scale.

"With shortage of labor, he decided to plant most of the land in cultivation this year with grain and operate on a reduced scale. The place is 'run down,' anyway, for both my father and mother were worried about us during the war. All four of us were in service," he said.

"Are the peonage charges against your father and brother true?" he was asked.

The man hesitated, as if considering the question from all viewpoints before giving his answer.

Others Guilty If They Are.

"Well, if they are guilty of peonage, there are many other farmers in Georgia guilty of the same crime. It is true they have bailed negroes out of jail, but they have paid them wages and given them clothes to wear.

"The reports about a stockade being located on this farm and negroes compelled to sleep in it every night are all damn lies!

"You don't see any stockade around here do you?" pointing to tenant houses on surrounding hills and valleys. The negroes were not made to sleep together in such a place, but stayed in these houses that you can see from here," he asserted.

House Located on Hill.

The hill on which the Williams home is located is one of the highest in Jasper county and the land is now in a high state of cultivation. The residence is a typical Georgia country home of the farmer of moderate income—plain, but attractive with many of the conveniences found in cities. Three automobiles were housed in as many garages, while the physician's car stood in front of the home.

A small garden of roses in full broom, climbing vines, shrubbery and trees hide parts of the house. The wife of one of the Williams boys was sweeping the front porch when the newspaper men arrived, but went indoors soon afterward, leaving only the elder brother to discuss the case. None of the other boys appeared, and Dr. Williams refused a request to interview them, stating that they preferred to remain silent until the trial.

No Definite Action.

After hearing testimony throughout the day on the alleged conspiracy to cause a race riot here and secure perjured testimony favoring John Williams, the grand jury recessed tonight without taking any definite action, but announced that the investigation will be reopened at a future date. In scheduling the Williams' trial on Tuesday, Judge Hutcheson stated that he was not calling a special term, but owing to the large number of criminal cases and the importance of this particular indictment, he had decided to prolong the present session another week.

Thoughout the day large groups of farmers were to be found at the courthouse, and the only topic of discussion was the Williams case and the excitement here Sunday night, when the rumors of a negro uprising caused hundreds of people to leave their homes. Men with beards, dressed in overalls and overcoats, smoked and chewed tobacco while they discussed the many angles offered by the series of rapid developments.

It was noticeable that not a woman was seen in the crowd.

Judge Hutcheson would recess court for a few minutes during the short afternoon session, and immediately the rumble of half whispered conversation would sweep over the room. The frequent voicing of the names Williams and Manning left no doubt of subject under discussion.

And the same is true in the business houses of the little city. Every one is talking about the case with the expressed expectation of further startling disclosures. Despite all this interest, however, Newton county people desire an early ending of the case, for it is pointed out by some of the leading citizens that even though they have acted promptly in the prosecution, they do not appreciate the notoriety of the situation.

In connection with the sensational trial next week of the planter, much comment has been heard here on the probable attitude the state will assume toward Clyde Manning, the negro who confessed his participation in the murders and led officials to the graves on Williams' farm and in the Alcovy river. Many people have voiced the opinion that the negro would not be hanged, but that Solicitor A. M. Brand would recommend mercy.

When the solicitor was asked tonight to outline his position regarding the negro, he refused to make any statement, but turned to article 6, section 41, of Park's Annodated Code of Georgia, and referred the newspaper men to "persons acting under fear." The law reads:

Law Is Cited.

"Acting Under Threats—A person committing a crime or misdemeanor under threats or menaces, which sufficiently show that his life was in danger, shall not be found guilty; and such threats and menaces being proved and established, the person compelling by said threats and menaces, the commission of the offense, shall be considered a principal, and suffer the same punishment as if he had perpetuated the offense."

In his confession, Manning declared that he killed several of the negroes under orders of Williams, who him if he disobeyed he would be killed himself. Solicitor Brand is evidently delaying adopting a position on the Manning case until after the result of the Williams trial is known.

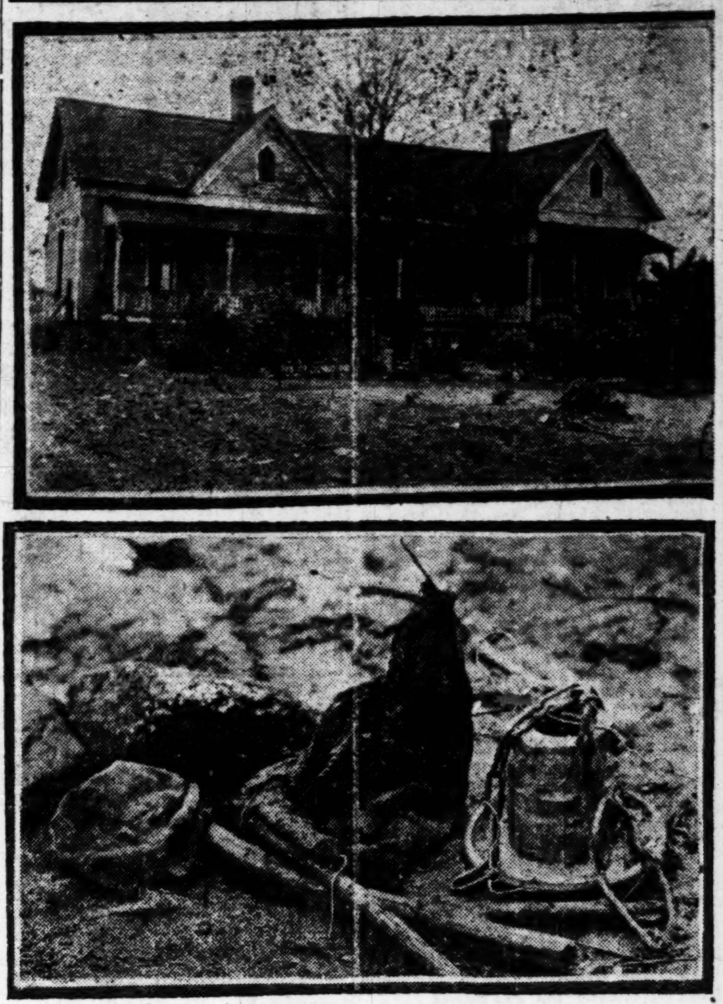
Opposed Returning Negroes.

Chattanooga, March 30.—Revelations regarding alleged peonage in south Georgia, brought to a head by the finding of the bodies of eleven negroes employed on the Williams plantation in Jasper county, and recent letters received by a local attorney, has revived interest in a habeas corpus case filed here two years ago to prevent the removal of several negroes to Oglethorpe county, Georgia.

John Mucle, a negro, was arrested here on the charge of "shooting at another," at the instigation of Georgia parties, but obtained his release by habeas corpus. He was then rearrested on a charge of shooting at a party whose name was given, and returned to Oglethorpe, presumably for trial, but in a recent letter to his attorney here, he stated that he had never been tried, and that he was bailed out and placed at work on a cotton plantation, from which he is not allowed to leave. At the trial here, Mucle charged that he was a victim of a scheme to place him in peonage.

About the same time, the same plantation owner and the same officers came here and arrested Lula Jackson, a negress, her two children and two negro men. The children and the men were immediately taken back to Oglethorpe county, but the mother secured a lawyer and resisted requisition. She was later lured across the Georgia line and returned to Oglethorpe, where she was placed at work in the cotton fields along with her children and the other negroes, none of whom have ever been given a hearing, according to the letter of Mucle to the local attorney, whom he urged to come to Georgia and help them secure their freedom.

Scenes in Jasper Tragedy



Top: The home of John S. Williams, Jasper county farmer, now held in Fulton county jail under indictment for murder in connection with the killing of eleven negroes on or near his farm, and who will be placed on trial in the Newton county superior court next Tuesday. The residence is located twenty miles from Covington on the Covington-Monticello highway. Bottom: This picture shows the large iron cotton mill screw, which was tied with chains and wires to the bound-together bodies of "Little Bit" and John Brown and the stones and sack ued to weight the body of Charlie Chisholm, all of which were found in the Alcovy river. Clyde Manning declared in his confession that he and Charlie Chisholm help down the first named blacks and, later, he and John S. Williams, prominent Jesper county farmer, drowned Charlie. The cap in the picture was removed from the head of one of the dead negroes.

LIEUTENANT CONEY, AVIATOR, IS DEAD

ney was forced down before noon at Bronte, Texas, because of engine trouble. Remedying a faulty carburetor, the flyer left there on the afternoon of February 23, made a stop at Dallas and arrived in Jacksonville at daybreak of the 24th. His time from Dallas to Pablo Beach was seven hours and eleven minutes.

After his arrival at Pablo Beach, Lieutenant Coney visited his relatives at Brunswick, Ga. In preparation for the return trip to San Diego, he flew to Montgomery, Ala., to effect necessary repairs to a propeller.

Twice Postponed.

His planned departure for the return flight was postponed twice because of adverse weather conditions.

Plans for the transcontinental flight originally called for the departure of another aviator from Jacksonville at the same time as Lieutenant Coney set out at San Diego. This flier, who was stationed in Texas, in trying to reach Jacksonville for the start, became lost in the expanse between El Paso and Dallas and was unheard of for several days. His experiences caused the aviator to order his share in the flight abandoned.

OFFICER PASSES TRIBUTE TO DEAD.

Mongomery, Ala., March 30.—Major W. R. Fitzmaurice, commanding officer of the intermediate air station near Montgomery, whose guest Lieutenant Coney was during a visit to this city, tonight declared that the trans-continental flyer was the most enthusiastic aviator he had ever met.

'Lieutenant Coney made his flights for no personal glory, but for the good of the profession. He was a close student of aviation and was enthusiastic in its progress."

Lieutenant Coney came to Montgomery from Jacksonville to have his machine repaired. While here he was the guest of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs at luncheons.

[illegible]y Known Here.

Lieut[illegible] Coney was known to many people in Atlanta and throughout the state, having received his training at Fort McPherson and Georgia Tech.

His mother, who was at Jacksonville when he attempted to break his own record for the first time since his flying career began, begged her son vainly not to make the flight.

NEWS OF DEATH EXPECTED IN BRUNSWICK.

Brunswick, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—Though Brunswick has daily been expecting news from Natchez, Miss., of the death of Lieutenant William Devoe Coney, daring Brunswick aviator, the announcement which came late this afternoon, bringing the sad tidings, has cast a shadow of gloom over the entire city. Ever since the accident last Friday, hundreds of Brunswick people have crowded local bulletin boards, anxious to hear better news from the bedside of the popular young Brunswick officer.

Through being detailed as a flying instructor during the war, he was denied his wish for service overseas.

In February, when the air service wanted a flier to break the record from the Pacific to the Atlantic coasts, the young Brunswickan was selected. He did not succeed in making the trip within twenty-four hours, as was desired, and requested permission to make the return trip. On this trip he met his death through the fatal accident at Crowville, La., last Friday. Although funeral arrangements have not yet been made, it is announced that Lieutenant Coney will be buried in this city.

REDUCTION IN WATER RATES UPON COTTON

Houston, Texas, March 30.—The Mallory and Morgan lines today announced a reduction of 16 cents in the rate of cotton by water from Galveston to New York, or from 66 cents to 50 cents a hundred, effective May 10. The Morgan line, in addition, will equalize its rate out of New Orleans with the new Galveston rate. The rate recently was reduced to 46 cents at New Orleans, and it will be advanced to 50 cents.

WAIT COTTON MEN FOR CONFERENCES

Discussions on Crop Disposition May Be Deferred to Permit Growers to Arrive.

Washington, March 30.—Preliminary conferences of southern cotton growers with the department of commerce and war finance corporation in an effort to work out some plan of disposition of the new cotton crop are scheduled to begin tomorrow at the department of commerce, officials said today, but because of the distance some of the cotton men have to travel meetings may be deferred until next week.

Conferences with the cotton men, department officials said, are to be held in co-operation with the war finance corporation to devise means to enable cotton producers to sell their crops overseas. The cotton situation in the south was the subject of discussion at the cabinet meeting yesterday and later President Harding declared that the problem was a serious one.

Cotton growers from southern states are expected to attend the series of conferences. What plans will be discussed is as yet undetermined, officials asserted, but it was believed that the war finance corporation would handle the credit phase of the cotton experts, while the departmen of commerce would co-operate with the cotton men by advising as to the most favorable foreign markets to which American surplus cotton could be shipped.

Mystery Letters Sent to Attorney In Murder Case

Three additional anonymous messages, signed "Tim-Bo-Tim," have made their mysterious appearance in connection with the slaying of Fred G. Thompson, by J. C. Thomas, at Lakewood, several weeks ago, the letters being received Wednesday by Lowndes Calhoun, of counsel for Thomas.

The envelope, containing the letters and other literature, was left at his home by a boy, according to Mr. Calhoun, who is associated with J. H. Leavitt in the defense of Thomas. Both attorneys pointed out the similarity in reference between the letters and cards received by Mr. Calhoun and letters received by Thomas before the cutting affair which were signed "Eyes of the Unknown."

Three Cards Left.

With the letters were three printed cards, dated respectively March 1, 6 and 11, and obviously designed to be sent to prospective members of a certain secret order. The first card reads:

> Sir; The eyes of 5,000 men, who are preparing for eventualities, are upon you.
> You are being weighed in the balance!
> What will be the outcome?
> The call is coming! Are you able and qualified to respond?
> Discuss this matter with no one.
> TIM-BO-TIM.
> Atlanta, 3-1-21.

The attorney stated that the similarity in the references in this card and the letter received by Thomas signed "The Eyes of 1,000 Men" was [illegible]ed.

This was the second card:

> Sir: You have heard from us because we believe in you. We are for you and NEED you!
> A Real Man?
> The impenetrable Veil of Mystery is drawing aside. Soon you will appear exactly as you are.
> Are you a REAL MAN?
> Lift your eyes to the Fiery Cross and falter not, but go forward to the Light!
> Discuss this matter with no one.
> Atlanta, 3-6-21.
> TIM-BO-TIM.

Here the phrase, "Are you a real man?" and the signature in the Thomas letter were pointed out by the attorneys as similar. The third letter read:

> Sir: You have been weighed in the balance and found NOT wanting!
> Strong Men—Brave Men— R-E-A-L Men. We need such MEN. We know you are one.
> The Goblins of the Invisible Empire will shortly issue their CALL. Be discreet, preserve silence and bide its coming.
> Discuss this matter with no one.
> TIM-BO-TIM.
> Atlanta, 3-11-21.

Other Literature Left.

In addition to these cards, the envelopes left at Mr. Calhoun's home contained a business card of a representative of the secret order, the names and titles of the secret order, and a reprint of a Herbert Kaufman editorial in McClure's Magazine for April, 1920, entitled "Scum o' the Melting Pot," calling on Americans to put out of the country all the bolsheviks, a pamphlet explaining the aims and creed of the secret order; and a blank certificate to the effect that the owner had "donated" the sum of $10 to the "propaganda fund" of the order and was a full-fledged member.

The Fulton county grand jury will continue its investigation into the cutting at Lakewood Thursday when it convenes. A number of witnesses appeared before the jury in this matter Wednesday.

Among the witnesses called were H. J. Norton, life-long friend of Thompson, who led the search for his body; Homer Pitts, who admits he drove the so-called "death car" on the night of the killing; Edwin N. Shute, a passenger in the car; and Mrs. L. M. Ayers, business partner of Thomas in the conduct of a weiner stand on Decatur street.

The mysterious fifth man who was said to be in the automobile party the night of the slaying was not produced before the grand jury unless he was some one whose name has already been connected with this affair. Plennie Miner, special investigator in the solicitor's office, refused to give his name, but keeps on saying that "he can produce him when he is wanted."

This Pastor Solves Housekeeper Problem By Marrying One

Glen Cove, L. I., March 30.—The housekeeper question is solved forever for Rev. Dr. James S. Holland rector of Saint Paul's Episcopal church. His first one left the rectory after some disagreement and the second one brought suit for $2,000 damage after he felt compelled to dismiss her. She charged breach of employment.

Then along came Mrs. Edna Luyster Valentine, a widow, 41, just seven years younger than the minister, and as a housekeeper she was perfect. More so, she appealed to the minister's heart.

They were married at Saint John's Episcopal church, Brooklyn, Wednesday, to the no little surpprise of his parishioners, by his own brother, the Rev. Dr. T. B. Holland.

Are You Old and Tired at 40? Take a Tonic!

Why friend, you're just in the prime of life at 40! There's no excuse for your playing out at this age. What you need is a general, all-around toning up of the system—particularly the blood.

Medical science tells us a person who takes good care of himself or herself should not become infirm with age until around the sixtieth year. Certainly 40 is far too early.

Take care of yourself, friend; that's what is necessary for health. Get plenty of sleep. Eat plain, substantial foods. Exercise in the fresh air. Keep your system well flushed out. And above all things keep your blood pure!

Wholesome blood gives you life and vigor; bad blood makes you dull and listless. Maybe that's exactly what ails you now! Try cleansing the impurities and poisons from your blood stream and see if it doesn't bring back the old time spring and vigor to your muscl . Thousands have had that experience.

For this cleansing, you will find S.S.S., the famous old herb remedy, excellent indeed. S.S.S. has given a light step and a sparkling eye to hosts of people who thought they were "through" at 40, but who in reality needed only a thorough blood cleansing to make them feel young again.

Get S.S.S. from your druggist today—right now, while your health is on your mind. Start taking it at once, then write in detail about your physical condition to Chief Medical Advisor, 859 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Georgia, and he will give you individual expert advice free.

Hallin—Browning.

Miss Frances Elizabeth Hallin and E. Furman Browning were married Saturday evening, March 27, by Dr. Henry Alford Porter, pastor of the Second Baptist church, at his home in Ansley Park.

Librarian to Address Atlanta Woman's Club.

Miss Mary L. Titcomb, library chairman of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, will arrive in the city Friday for a two days' visit, and will speak at a public meeting at the Atlanta Woman's club on Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Miss Titcomb will be the guest of the Carnegie Library school while in the city, and will give two lectures before the library institute that is being held by the school—one on Friday and another on Saturday.

Miss Titcomb is one of the most distinguished women in the library profession, being the librarian of the Washington County Free library, Hagerstown, Md. In addition to her work in her own profession, she has always been an active club woman both in the state and the national federation. Her visit here is of unusual interest to all club women by virtue of her official position as general federation chairman, and it is expected that a large audience will be present to hear her on Saturday afternoon.

The meeting has been called by Mrs. Irving Thomas, president of of the Atlanta Woman's club. Miss Titcomb will be entertained at tea after her lecture by the education committee, of which Mrs. R. M. Striplin is chairman, when the guests will have an opportunty to meet her.

Miss Martha Bartholemew Meets With Success.

Miss Martha Bartholomew, of Atlanta, who has for several years been doing advanced study of music at the Detroit Institute of Musical Art, is meeting not only with recognition for the unusual character of her student work, but with success in occasional professional engagements.

Musical Courier of recent date has praise for her work as accompanist at a recital in Chicago by Francesca Zarad, a French soprano, as did the Chicago papers, which called Miss Bartholomew's accompaniments skilled, and her training in ensemble excellent.

She will spend the first week in April at Louisville, Ky., going as musical delegate to the annual convention of her sorority, Delta Omicron.

A special distinction for Miss Bartholomew in April is that she is to be given a hearing by the renowned Ossip Gabrilowitsch, conductor of the Detroit Symphony orchesta, and one of the most noted artists, both as pianist and conductor, in America.

Mrs. Todd Entertained.

Mrs. George Burleigh Todd, the guest of Mrs. Herbert Reeves, was honor guest at a tea given by Mrs. George Harris at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Most of the delegates will leave on the morning of April 5 on the N., C. & St. L., at 8:40 o'clock.

Senior Club de Vingt.

The senior members of the reorganized Club de Vingt will meet in the lounge room of the Georgian Terrace on Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock for their regular weekly dance. The dancing will be chaperoned by a number of the parents of the members who are welcome at all dances and classes given under Arthur Murrey's direction.

The seniors are planning a tea-dance on Saturday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, at the Georgian Terrace. The Garber-Davis orchestra has been engaged for the occasion.

The sub-senior members of the Club de Vingt will have the second of a series of dances at Craigie house on Friday night, April 8, at 8:30 o'clock. This group of 15-year-old boys and girls meets on Monday afternoon at the D. A. R. chapter house.

St. Luke's Guild To Give Musical.

A delightful musical is being planned by committee number 9 of St. Luke's guild to be given Wednesday afternoon, April 6, at the home of Mrs. David Woodward, 655 Peachtree street. Quite a lovely program will be rendered by some of Atlanta's most talented artists.

It is hoped that not only members of St. Luke's will enjoy this concert but also the public. Tickets of admission may be had at 50 cents each from any of the following young matrons who are sponsoring this affair: Mrs. G. F. Burs, Mrs. Arthur Kelley, Mrs. George Campbell, Mrs. George L. Cork, Mrs. J. C. Walsh, Mrs. Spurgeon King, Mrs. Robert Pringle and Mrs. F. C. Alderson.

A Daily Signed Recipe By Delmonico's Chef

Tangerines A La Valeria

Cut four tangerines at the top and remove the sections without bursting the peel. Skin the sections, cut into small pieces and mix them with one dozen nice and ripe crushed strawberries, one peeled banana cut in small dices and one ounce of powder vanilla flavored sugar. Fill the peels with this preparation and place on a tray containing broken ice. Decorate with a few green leaves and serve very cold.

Music Club Guests At Luncheon Yesterday.

The luncheon given yesterday at the Piedmont Driving club for the visiting delegates in attendance upon the South Atlantic district music clubs, was one of the social happenings of yesterday, and the Atlanta Music Study club, with Mrs. Armond Carroll as president, assisted by the the officers, were hostesses of the occasion.

The eight tables were adorned with baskets holding pink roses, and sprays of apple blossoms. Silver candlesticks held pink candles, and the place cards were hand-painted in dogwood blossoms.

Mrs. Armond Carroll made a welcoming talk to the delegates, as did Mrs. Ewell Gay, chairman fo the entertainment committee, and Miss Nan Stephens responded for the state officers, delegates and contestants who were special guests.

Mrs. W. O. Chears rendered several lovely songs which delighted her hearers.

Assembled at the luncheon were the visiting delegates and many of the members of the Atlanta Music Study club.

Mrs. Carroll, Mrs. Clifford Hatcher, Mrs. Ewell Gay and Miss Nan Stephens officially received the guests.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Armond Carroll, Miss Nan Stephens, Mrs. Hermance, Mrs. Dowman, Mrs. George Wright, Mrs. P. H. Jeter, Miss Evelyn Jackson, Mrs. Madeline Keipp, Mrs. Rucker McCarty, Mrs. Connert, Mrs. Fred Thomas, Mrs. Guy Woolford, Mrs. Frank Pogue, Mrs. R. R. Bradley, Mrs. Gorham, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. G. L. Browser, Mrs. Cliff Hatcher, Mrs. Fharretts, Mrs. Shallenberger, Mrs. Martha Clarke, Miss Sledge, Miss Printup and Mrs. Vaissiere, of Rome, Mrs. John Lamar Week, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Mrs. John Lucy, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. Mortimer Browning, of Greensboro; Miss Barnett, of Washington; Miss Gibbons, of Charleston, S. C.; Mrs. W. E. Smith and Miss Evelyn Smith, of Cheraw, S. C.; Mrs. J. Norman Wells, of Greensboro; Miss Elizabeth Harris, Miss Adelaide Clarke, Miss Bertha Foster, of Florida; Miss Augusta Lofton, of Columbia, S. C.; Miss Emily Knok, of Raleigh, N. C.; Mrs. Helen Caldwell, of Greensboro; Mrs. Bess Whitaker, of Oakridge; Miss Martin and others.

Mrs. Winsborough To Speak.

The visit of Mrs. W. C. Winsborough, of St. Louis, who will speak Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at a mass meeting at the North Avenue Presbyterian church, is anticipated with much interest by her many Atlanta friends.

Mrs. Winsborough recently has been in the orient where she visited many of the mission stations and she expects Friday afternoon to tell the people of Atlanta just what she saw during this trip.

The meeting, which will be open to men and women of all denominations, will be held in the auditorium of the church.

Mrs. Winsborough, who formerly resided in Atlanta and who has been a frequent visitor here since leaving for St. Louis, is at the head of all the women's work of the Southern Presbyterian church. She is a woman of delightful personality and is a splendid speaker. Her address will be most interesting.

To Mr. and Mrs. Summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sawtelle will entertain informally at supper Sunday night at their home on Park Lane in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sumner, of Liverpool, England, who are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Troup Howard.

NAMES OF EVADERS WILL GO TO LEGION

Indianapolis, Ind., March 30.—Lists of men classed by the war department as draft evaders will be furnished all American Legion posts in the United States beginning about April 1. P. C. Harris, adjutant general of the army, made the announcement to national headquarters of the legion today.

Luncheon Given in Honor Of Mr. and Mrs. Walthall

Mrs. T. T. Stevens entertained Wednesday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Walthall, at an elegantly appointed luncheon, at the Atlanta Woman's club, following a meeting of the Tallulah Falls Industrial school and memorials committee, of which Mrs. Stevens is chairman.

The members of her committee, and a number of special friends, were invited to meet these distinguished dramatic stars, who are now playing at the Atlanta theater. It was with great regret that Mrs. Stevens announced that Mrs. Walthall was unable to be present.

Mr. Walthall has expressed his desire not to have his individuality completely submerged in that of "The Little Colonel," but after the many tributes to him by the men and women present at the luncheon, he asserted that the character had an added appeal to him.

In Mrs. Stevens' introduction of Mr. Walthall, she insisted that "we people of the south do not want Mr. Walthall to be separated from 'The Little Colonel.'" She introduced all of the speakers with the ease and grace so characteristic of Mrs. Stevens.

Mr. Walthall expressed his keen pleasure at being the guest of Mrs. Stevens, and in having the privilege of meeting the representative women of Atlanta present at the luncheon. He stated that he appreciated to the fullest extent the many expressions of interest in his work.

Interesting short talks of welcome were made by M. L. Brittain, W. W. Memminger, Dudley Cowles, Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, Miss Alice Baxter, Mrs. John A. Perdue, Mrs. Lollie Belle Wylie, Mrs. Emma Garret Boyd, Mrs. L. D. Scott, Mrs. Purser, Mrs. J. C. Harris, Mrs. Hugh Willet and Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith.

Mrs. Irving S. Thomas, president of the club, welcomed Mr. Walthall in the name of the club.

All of the speakers expressed the opinion that Mr. Walthall,, as The Little Colonel, had given to the world the true history of the war between the states—the colonel showing the spirit, daring and courage of the confederate soldier.

Mrs. B. M. Blackburn delighted those present wtih an original poem, "Mammy's Dream." Mrs. Blackburn is a real interpreter of negro dialect, and is always heard with enjoyment.

The clubhouse was attractively decorated with purple iris and pink azaleas, and a delicious luncheon was served.

Mrs. Stevens was handsomely gowned in a dark-blue Georgette, with hand-embroidery over gray taffeta. Her flowers were carnations.

Mrs. Irving Thomas wore a blue Georgette, and her corsage was of pink sweetpeas.

Preceding the luncheon, Mrs. Stevens' committee transacted important business. This committee gave $1,000 to the Tallulah Falls Industrial school last year, and $100 to the Celeste Parrish memorial fund. Mrs. Stevens declared that equally that much would be contributed this year.

Mrs. E D. Rhodes reported that her committee had collected over 150 books for the school library, among which was a well-known encyclopaedia. She also stated that several hundred dollars' worth of millinery material had been presented to the school for a millinery department.

Mrs. W. K. Wyant announced that a dance would be given Friday night at her home. 24 Druid place, for the benefit of the Auditorium fund. This money will be given from this committee.

Mrs. W. B. Price-Smtih is vice chairman of this committee, and Mrs. L. C. Matthews is secretary and treasurer.

COULD NOT KEEP HOUSE

Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Says Mrs. Pitts of Newburgh

Newburgh, N. Y.—"My trouble was a weak back and I could not walk two blocks without being tired out. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in a newspaper and decided to give it a trial. Now I can do my own work and walk with ease. I always keep the Vegetable Compound in the house. It certainly is my best friend and I could not keep house without it. I have recommended it to many and always shall. You may use this letter if you wish."—Mrs. EDWARD PITTS, 2 High St., Newburgh, N. Y.

It has been said that "backache is an invention of the Evil One to try women's souls," but even so, it is more often a symptom of a female trouble which sooner or later declares itself. Day after day it drags a woman down and night after night prevents restful sleep. Such woman should follow Mrs. Pitt's advice and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It contains no narcotic or harmful drugs.

JOHNSON WILL REST IN WEST VIEW TODAY

Funeral services of Rockwell Johnson, prominent Atlanta business man, who died Monday afternoon at a private hospital, will be held this morning at 11 o'clock at the North Avenue Presbyterian church, with the Rev. Dr. Richard O. Flinn officiating. Interment will be in West View cemetery. The following will act as pallbearers: W. D. Beachman, C. W. Butler, J. W. Bates, H. L. Sibley, James M. Reeves and John M. Brice.

Mr. Johnson, who was forty-one years old, had been a resident of Atlanta for a number of years, coming here from Columbus in his youth. He was connected with the J. K. Orr Shoe company, having held some of the most important positions of that firm until ill-health forced him to retire several months ago.

He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Misses Ann and Helen Johnson; his mother, Mrs. F. B. Johnson; one sister, Miss Helen Johnson, and a brother, Gilbert Johnson.

ALLEGED MUTINEERS ARE GIVEN LIBERTY

New Orleans, March 30.—United States Commissioner Browne late today discharged from custody Philip Bender, Henry Elpan, Hans Raudin, L. Kuprezuff and R. Dorsh, charged with mutiny in connection with a disturbance aboard the shipping board vessel Alton near Rio de Janeiro last month.

The men were examined by officials of the department of justice in efforts to ascertain if they had any knowledge of the Wall street bombs explosion last September. No evidence was found which would warrant their being longer held, it was stated.

The Two Violins

ONE sold for fifty dollars. The other sold for five thousand dollars. Wherein lay the tremendous difference? What made one so much more valuable than the other? The answer is —TONE. Tone is the most valued element of a violin—of any musical instrument—of a phonograph.

A group of men concentrated their efforts for many years on that one element of TONE in the production of a phonograph. Their aim was perfection. They were indifferent to time and unshaken by haste. Finally they reached their ideal. Today their product is known as the Sonora. Each Sonora at its price represents matchless value.

3 EXPRESS CASES MAY BE DISMISSED

Judge Evans, at Macon, Considering Dismissal of Charges Against Jordan, Knight and Radney.

Macon, Ga., March 30.—Three more defendants will be released on verdicts of not guilty directed from the bench unless additional evidence to prove their guilt is furnished by the government, Judge Beverly D. Evans declared in federal court here today in the trial of 46 men indicted on charges of conspiracy to steal goods valued at over $1,000,000 from the American Railway Express company. Seven defendants have already been freed on requests of the government for dismissal of charges.

The three other defendants, who Judge Evans said he was considering releasing, are Carlos Jordan, L. Knight and J. R. Radney.

Character witnesses were introduced this morning by the defense in the cases of Charley Burgess, O. L. Smith, Will Griggers and Dan McLendon.

Before noon, counsel for W. V. Meeks, Charles Burgess and J. N. Smith had closed the cases of their clients. J. N. Smith, on the witness stand, denied charges against him.

Men of prominence in many walks of life took the witness stand to testify as to the good character of many of the persons on trial.

Conductor J. N. Smith, one of the best known of the accused men, during the cross-examination following his general denial of the charges against him, admitted that he knew that W. A. Hughes had been arrested before he wrote the letter ordering a set of harness returned from his farm, saying that it didn't belong to him.

Conductor Smith said that at one time, Messenger Ernest G. Fields pawned an automatic pistol to him for $10, which he said was the only transaction in which he had figured.

A bit of romance entered the case when Eugene Stovall took the stand in his own defense. He told of having a sweetheart, in front of whose home the train passed every day.

Candy for Sweetheart.

"I dropped candy off to her every time I passed," he said, "but I purchased the candy, and did not take it from express shipments." Hughes had told of alleged thefts of candy by Stovall.

R. C. Chancey, whom Hughes had said sold a barrel of fish at Hartford, to a negro for $14, dividing the money, denied the charge.

Henry Young, negro, of Hartford, said: "One time I went down to the train to see if any fish had come for me. I asked Mr. Chancey, and he said, 'No, but there's a barrel you can buy from that man if you want them.' I jumped in the car and bought the fish and paid the man $10."

C. A. Peacock, white man, of Hartford, Ala., testified that he saw Young buy the fish from Hughes, and not from Chancey. He also testified that the character of Chancey was good.

FERTILIZER PRICES SUFFER BIG DROP

Reduction, Result of Agreement, Totals 50 Per Cent.

Columbia, S. C., March 30.—A general reduction of the fertilizer prices in the south of from 45 to 50 per cent since February has been made by the manufacturers through agreements reached between the large manufacturers and the national board of far morganizations, it was announced here today by Dr. H. E. Stockbridge, chairman of the special committee to confer with the manufacturers with a view to getting a drop in the prices.

After conferences of the special committee from the national board of farm organizations with representatives of the manufacturers in New York, Washington and Atlanta, the decrease of from 45 to 50 per cent was allowed, Dr. Stockbridge announced.

TEXTILE WORKERS STRIKE ON DENIAL OF PAY INCREASE

Columbus, Ga., March 30.—Several hundred textile workers of the Eagle and Phoenix mills, one of the largest cotton mills in this section of the state, walked out today following refusal of demands for a 30 per cent increase in wages and more time.

The mill operatives claim that they are not making enough to live on, and that it is absolutely necessary that their pay be increased and the mills run longer hours. Officials also issued a statement saying they realized that the salaries were too meager, but that they had been running at a loss and could not grant the request of the employees.

This is the first action of this kind since 1919, when there was a general strike among the textile operatives in the several mills in Columbus, and many thousands of employees were out. No official action has been taken by either side.

OTTO PRAEGER QUITS AS POSTAL ASSISTANT

Washington, March 30.—Otto Praeger, of San Antonio, Texas, second assistant postmaster-general, has resigned, it was announced today, and will vacate the office April 1. No successor has been named as yet, Postmaster-General Hays said today.

Charles Fails In Dramatic Try At Coup d'Etat

Ex-Emperor Under Strict Guard as Hungary Turns Cold Shoulder.

Budapest, March 30.—(By the associated Press.)—Count Stefan Bethlen, fully empowered to act for the safety of the state as the plenipotentiary of Regent Horthy, has been sent to Steinmanger, the west Hungarian town near the Austrian border, where former Emperor Charles has taken refuge after his vain attempt to regain the throne. Count Bethlen, who at one time was adviser to former Premier Archeduke Joseph, has a strong force of troops at his disposal to suppress any civil war movement, should any be attempted.

Premier Teleky and Count Julius Andrassy, former foreign minister and friend of the former ruler, accompanied Count Bethlen to endevour to persuade Charles to leave Hungary immediately.

Under Military Guard.

Charles is under strict military supervision in Steinamanger. He has been deserted by his staunchest supporters and is not permitted to leave his room in Steinamanger castle to see his friends. The former emperor informed the government today that he was preparing for removal to some neutral country, probably to Spain. The Spanish representative, County Reale de Guarcia, told Regent Horthy Wednesday that Charles was under Spanish protection and that the Spanish government was offering its hospitality to the former ruler.

Bishop Count Mikes, who with many representatives of the Hungarian aristocracy was at Steinamanger with the former emperor, has been arrested charged with being the head of the movement to restore to the throne. General Lehar, in command at Steinamanger, who was suspected of backing the former monarch, with the west Hungarian army, asserted today he was loyally supporting Regent Horthy against the plotters.

Army Behind Regent.

General Belitska, the war minister, declared:

"The former king is not supported by the troops. The army, as one man, is standing behind Regent Horthy. Charles is a prisoner rather than a guest at Steinamanger."

Amidst stormy scenes today a mass meeting called by the farmers' party adopted a resolution asserting that "Charles and all the Hapsburgs have been definitely dethroned." The farmers demanded the enactment of a dethronement act and also that those guilty of aiding Charles be punished. The newspapers have not yet been permitted to publish news of the attempted coup, but it gradually is being learned by the populace.

The government is obviously concerned over what is to become of Charles, as it is assumed he cannot return to Prangins as he violated his agreement not to leave Switzerland without permission, and it is thought Austria will not be willing to accommodate such a potentially dangerous guest. It is reported that the Spanish relatives of Charles stand ready to help him if the plans for his restoration fail.

Dramatic Appearance.

When Count Hunyady, the royal aide, alighted from one of three dust-covered automobiles before the palace here Monday afternoon and went straight to Admiral Horthy, the regent, and announced "King Charles is here," he was at first believed to be mad, but the doubts as to his sanity were soon dispelled when Charles himself appeared.

"I am here to claim my throne, and I will not leave the room until my restoration is guaranteed," the ex-king announced to Admiral Horthy.

An excited discussion followed.

"I shall not discuss the validity of your majesty's claim," declared the regent, "but there must also be taken into consideration the fact that I have been elected by the national assembly to reign and until this question of constitutionality is settled I shall stick to my post."

Visibly Depressed.

Admiral Horthy also produced the note of the allies declaring their opposition to the return of the Hapsburgs. Finally the former emperor consented to go to Steinamanger to await the result of negotiations regarding his immediate restoration.

During his conversation with the regent a desire was expressed by Charles for a conference with the leaders of his party, particularly Count Julius Andrassy, former Premier Friedrich and others, but his hasty departure made such a conference possible.

Charles left the palace visibly depressed, but managed to relax his features into a faint smile at a porter in the palace who recognized him. Persons passing by on the street had no suspicion that the ex-ruler was one of the group of tired tourists they observed entering automobiles to be driven away.

Frontier Closed.

Vienna, March 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—The entire Austro-Hungarian frontier has been closed by joint action of the governments pending the final disposition of former Emperor Charles. The Spanish minister here has asked the government for a pass to enable the ex-ruler to cross the country and it is reported Charles intends transferring the entire former royal family to Spain.

BODY OF NEWNAN MAN IS SENT FROM FRANCE

Newnan, Ga., March 30.—(Special.) The parents of Charlton S. Leach, formerly of this city, who was killed in the last battle in the Argonne, in France, have been notified by the war department that the body has reached Hoboken, N. J., and will be sent to Newnan for burial.

The interment will be made in Oak Hill cemetery. Besides his father and mother, he is survived by four sisters and five brothers, two of whom also served in the army in France.

PLAN TO ABOLISH BUREAU OF CENSUS

Would Create Bureau of Statistics to Handle the Statistical Work of the Nation.

Washington, March 30.—Abolishment of the census bureau and creation in its stead of a bureau of statisticians which would handle all of the nation's statistical work plan for the reorganization of gov- is being considered by the administration as a part of the general plan for the reorganization of government departments, officials said tonight.

Concentration of the government statistical work in one bureau is favored by the administration, it was explained, to avoid duplication of al official statistical files.

Between the decennial census, it was said, the census bureau maintains only a skeleton force which was expanded when the enumerations of the country's population are made and the same procedure could be followed under a bureau of statistics.

A bureau of statistics, it was believed, would be placed under the department of commerce as most of the government figures have a bearing on the country's trade and additional legislation was not thought necessary as it would only involve a change in bureaus which could be effected by agreement among the members of the cabinet.

gave chase, but were unable to get another sight of the miscreant. Friends of Mr. D'Hollosy at Parker & Branan's drug store, at the corner of North avenue and Peachtree, reported to him that they saw his car drive north on Peachtree and turn into Ponce de Leon, driven at a speed estimated at 50 miles an hour, just a few minutes before Mr. Hollosy went into the store to notify the detectives of the theft of his money and his car. Night Chief Jett immediately got into communication with the county police and with the DeKalb authorities asking the mto assist in the hunt for the car and the thief.

At a late hour Wednesday night no trace had been reported of the escaped man, although officers of both counties, as well as several assigned to the task by the city authorities, were at work on the investigation. Chief Jett said that the daring of the deed, originating as it did with a pistol hold-up at one of the city's most active street intersections, was without parallel in his long experience.

SUCCINCTLY STATED.

No more concise, succinct and truthful statement has been made relative to the recent bunco ring exposures in the city of Atlanta than that made by Robert C. Alston in an address at the law and order mass meeting Tuesday night, in which he said:

"You can't clear the detective department wholly. You can't clear the police department wholly. You can't say they have been both honest and diligent. And no man will believe you if you do say it. I am glad the chief of police is here to hear what I say. It is as damnable if the police have been negligent as if they had been venal. The result of the negligence or venality is the same."

Mr. Alston has compressed a volume in this epigrammatic expression; he has presented the whole situation in a nutshell.

It is simply this: Was it venality that kept the detective department's hands off during the three or four years that an organized gang of bunco steerers, confidence men, pickpockets, highway gunmen and murderers operated with free hand and in defiance of all law, robbing and cheating and swindling and otherwise defrauding the public, plundering unsuspecting wayfarers of perhaps a million dollars, and even committing murder, brazenly and defiantly, under the very nose of the detective department?

If not venality, then it was gross, criminal incompetence!

The very admissions of the detective department prove either venality or incompetence.

The mere fact that these criminal operations continued day after day, night after night, for more than three years is absolute and irrefutable proof of that.

The statement alleged to have been written by the bellwether of the bunco ring, and which is vouched for by the head of the detective department—even without the mass of corroborative evidence that has been produced—sustains every charge that has been made as to the existence of the crime condition.

And the detective department itself has not even attempted to deny it, but, conversely, openly admits it, and seeks only to show that Solicitor Boykin himself was in on the divvy of the swag.

Even were that allegation true—as no right-minded citizen believes—what of it?

In a sense it would simply serve to compound the detective department's culpability—and to emphasize either its venality or its incompetence.

But, as Mr. Alston so forcefully and truthfully says, criminal negligence of duty and criminal incompetence is just as bad as venality!

If a man's house burns down it makes no difference to him, so far as his welfare is concerned, whether the fire was started by an incendiary, or was due to somebody's incompetence or neglect. In either case the house is gone!

If a man is bludgeoned and robbed by a highwayman his suffering is as great if the crime was committed because a policeman was asleep on the beat, as it would [illegible] a policeman paid the foot[illegible] do the job!

[illegible]fore long the public will, it is [illegible] be hoped, know exactly whether the detective department is guilty of connivance with crime or simply of crass stupidity and of incompetence.

There is no midlle ground—and it is for the detective department in defending itself against the righteous wrath of an outraged public sentiment, to hang itself only on one or the other of these two horns of the dilemma in which it is placed.

Either recourse is deadly!

A splendid beginning—a splendid initial step in the direction of a restoration of good government of law and order—was made by Tuesday night's meeting.

Let the good work go on without fear or favor, and with the sole purpose of getting at the cold, bare facts!

THRIFT MEANS YOU.

Thrift has ten commandments, but the trouble, as The Worcester Telegram has pointed out, is in the prevalence of the idea that they are only for "the other fellow."

There frequently seems to be nothing of a "personal" message in them for the individual who scans them, pronounces the verdict, "Good," and passes them up, or on—to the folks "that need them in their business!"

It is this attitude that cripples thrift work everywhere—work that is not to be taken up only to be laid down, or shifted to the shoulders of others.

The ten thrift commandments are constantly being reprinted for the benefit of the unthrifty, and they apply to all alike—

"Work and earn.
Make a budget.
Record expenditures.
Have a bank account.
Carry life insurance.
Own your own home.
Make a will.
Invest in reliable securities.
Pay your bills promptly.
Share with others."

That's the thrift gospel, and, once put in practice, it becomes an easy, as it is a profitable, one to follow.

Recently London Opinion, in a thrift article, named "The Success Family," as follows:

> "The father of success is work.
> The mother of success is ambition.
> The oldest son is common sense.
> Some of the other boys are perseverance, enthusiasm, co-operation.
> The oldest daughter is character.
> Some of the sisters are cheerfulness, loyalty, courtesy, care, economy, sincerity, harmony.
> The baby is opportunity.
> Get acquainted with the 'old man' and you will be able to get along pretty well with the rest of the family."

If that is considered "preaching," it's preaching with point and purpose. It is straight talk, and it strikes home.

If the work plans and thrift plans made for this year, here at home, as elsewhere, are faithfully adhered to, there will be a greater all-around prosperity in the summing up time.

Work and thrift are for every day and everybody. There is no shifting of a personal responsibility. Get the Thrift commandments by heart, and put them to work.

GETTING BACK HOME.

Many of the boys of the farms who some time ago went rainbow-chasing to the cities are getting back home.

That is the news which comes from many sources.

The youthful "gold-hunters," who did not know that they were leaving the real gold behind them when they turned their faces cityward, have come to realize that the home-fields can be made to grow all the dollars of their dreams.

And, after a varied experience of "ups and downs" in the crowded, big cities, the home-fields look mighty good to very many of them!

Of this back-to-the-farm movement in its own section, as elsewhere, The Cordele (Ga.) Dispatch says—

> "The Georgia boy who does not get the meaning of opportunity on the Georgia farm is missing his destiny. Georgia farming, when it takes on real business life, is going to be the best in the United States. We are not overdrawing it when we say Georgia farming, in no far distant day, will offer the best business opportunity in the United States. That statement is as true as time."

It's a good thing for the country that boys who were born on the farms and have had good farm training are coming to see that the farm has its big business opportunities as well as the city—that the gold's in the land—if the grit and get-there spirit is in the man.

Farm work has its "off"—blue days, like any other business has—no matter what it is. Life's Easy streets mostly run by dream-castles; but work wins, in the end, all the substantial things that help to make life worth while.

And work that makes for farm prosperity means business prosperity everywhere.

Getting back to the farm has its advantages—'specially about meal-time; but the slogan of the busy farmers is—"Work for your vittles."

Let any well-meaning poet make a spring statement, Winter immediately tells him he's another.

When free garden seeds come up and flourish, you've got to give congress credit for something.

Just From Georgia

By FRANK L. STANTON.

Old-Time Feelin's.

I.

You'll soon be sorter thinkin' 'bout the old-time hick-'ry limb
Where you hung your light belongin's where the old boys used to swim!
In the shaded spot an' cool
In the dear old swimmin' pool,
Where you scampered 'crost the common with the boys let loose from school!

II.

It's yonder in the blossoms—it's hidden far away;
An' wouldn't you give millions for a swim like that today!
On the old-time hick'ry limb,
Near the mosses trailin' dim,
To hang your light belongin's where the old boys used to swim!

III.

Oh, what are all your millions—your money piled so high,
To the old hills that seem reachin' to the blue of Boyhood's sky!
To that shaded spot an' cool
By the dear old swimmin' pool,
Where you scampered 'crost the common with the boys let loose from school!

Heard on the River Bank.

Fisherman don't sing, but many are the poems entitled "Fisherman's Song." Perhaps this brief one, from Georgia, fits some of 'em better:—

"Now is Spring in full control—
Runs old Georgy state,
There's a liar cuttin' a fishin'pole
And a liar diggin' bait."

This Is the Time!

"This is the time," says The Jefferson Capital-News, when—

"Boyhood is bursting from its winter shell, and believe mother, it certainly is not doing it noiselessly!

"This is the happy day when one little boy can track up more square yards of newly-scrubbed floors than an army of women can clean in the same time.

"This is the time when any little lad would rather be the driver of a delivery wagon, which rumbles along the open streets, than be president and sit in a white house all day.

"This is the time when the basement floor is cluttered up with kite sticks and the glue bottle is not to be found in its accustomed place, and mother's kitchen apron does duty as kite-tail.

"This is the time when more energy is spent upon finding last year's top than Columbus devoted to the finding of a new world.

"This is the time when being a boy is the best occupation on earth."

The Spring Picture.

Wild violets in the dreamy wood,
Meadows green and fair,
And the notes o' the mockingbird are good
At the river banks down here.

(Sweetheart-Lady,
In the bonnet bright,
You make the morning
And the dreams of night!)

The river's singing to the shiny day
All that the gardens know,
How can it run to the sea away,
When it loves the green land so?

(Sweetheart-Lady,
In the bonnet bright,
The light of morning
And the dream of night!)

The "Devils" Make Good.

"In these days of so much heavy sitting around," says The Craig Leader, "it is a pleasure to see two industrious boys from the ranks coming up like thoroughbreds. The editor of this great organ of the plain people has had the assistance of two 'devils' the past three months, and each tries to outwork the other. We are beginning to believe that all ambition was dead, and they have made us think differently."

Just Think of It!

Here, upon a springtime morn,
Comes a trouble-maker
Countin' up the rows of corn
In gallons to the acre!

A Memory.

We can never forget the old school exhibitions, with the old-fashioned "hickories" that made them so successful.

Says Stand by Boykin!

Editor Constitution: Those of the police and detective departments who seem to have fallen into the net spread by Solicitor Boykin in his effort to rid this city of a bunch of gamblers, in their attempt to discredit Mr. Boykin, act like a lot of children.

They charge Attorney Ewing, who, some time back, was associated with Mr. Boykin, of being and acting in the capacity of legal advisor for the gamblers. (I don't know whether there is any ground for such a charge or not, but suppose there were—does that indicate that the solicitor was a party to or had knowledge of the conditions unfolded, and if it does, would that clear the detective department?)

The writer believes, as do thousands of our best citizens, that John Boykin is honest and sincere in this work in trying to clean up this city, and, if given the support he is entitled to, he will do it.

Georgia is today resting under a cloud that is calculated to make [illegible] good citizen bow his head in shame.

If it is true that crooks were permitted to walk the streets of Atlanta unmolested whether they pay for protection or not, then our officers were not doing their duty and they should be displaced by men who will do their duty.

Bits of New York Life

BY O. O. M'INTYRE

New York, March 30.—Foreigners newly arriving in the New York harbor are impressed with the clear view of the city's skyline. Not a wisp of smoke is to be seen and it is proverbial that the metropolis is the cleanest city in the world, and yet people pay more attention to the bath here than in any other city.

The bath room is the great drawing power in renting an apartment. The other day I was privileged to inspect a new mansion in the East eighties. It is said to be one of the finest homes in New York. Our guide showed us all about—the art gallery, the billiard hall and bowling alley, the solarium, and the bed where after one retires may be electrically propelled out to a glass enclosed sleeping porch.

The greatest pride was in the bathroom. It was reserved for the last. It was a sunken tub with steps leading down into it and was seven feet long and three and a half feet wide. At one's elbow in the tub was a water proof telephone, a complete smoking equipment including an electric lighter.

There was also a rubber air cushion for a head rest. The faucets were regulated by little push buttons within easy reach ,and should a change of water be desired, the tub could be filled and emptied almost instantly. There was also a rubber covered chaise lounge where the bather may await the ministrations of the massuer.

It is said that the bathroom fully equiped cost the owner $37,000. It used to be that the bath room was tucked away in some obscure corner, but the modern apartment house now makes it as conspicious as the living room.

A couple of Broadwayites in front of the Palace were discussing a friend who was all liquored up the night before.

"Was he lit up?" asked one.

"I should say so. Just like a cathedral," answered the other.

If some beggars would give the time to honest work that they do to their miserable calling they would make a lot more money. In court the other day, one admitted that he "worked" from eight in the morning until eleven at night. During the rush hours, morning and afternoon, he sits with one leg doubled under him at the Park Place station. The rest of the day he hawks chocolate or trifles. The evening he spends panhandling along crowded streets.

A cafe quarrel is a common thing in New York. People here do not mind the stares of fellow patrons. A pretty young girl and a handsome young man began to pout. Soon there was an exchange of hot words. He got up and left her in tears. She sobbed for fifteen minutes unashamed. Then he returned bearing an arm load of flowers. They left arm in arm, but in an hour he was back at the same table with another girl. "The first one was his wife," the head waiter whispered.

A couple honeymooning here during the last snow storm wanted to take a sleigh ride in Central park. The husband searched stables and garages an entire day before a sleigh could be found. They found one only by going to Brooklyn where people still go sleighing. All the livery stables have them on hands over there.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

THE LUSTY TAPEWORM.

Tapeworms run from fifteen to twenty feet long, and, in this country, they come from eating rare or insufficiently cooked beef that is "measly" and fresh. The "measles" in such beef are the larval forms of the taypeworm in the animal's flesh, and these die if the meat is kept over three weeks in cold storage. Proper meat inspection does away with the danger, but in this country much of the meat marketed has never been inspected. The "measles" in the meat are very small and might easily escape the notice of one not expert in detecting the condition. In the intestine of man the larva develops into the adult tapeworm, and fixes itself at the head to the intestinal wall, by means of hooklets, to draw sustenance therefrom. The tapeworm does not, as popularly supposed, dispute with the host for the greater share of the food in the host's digestive tract. Nor is emaciation at all characteristic of tapeworm infestation; most actual hosts of this parasite are too stout, being abnormally heavy eaters and often somewhat cannibalistic in their taste for raw or rare meat. An enormous appetite with an emaciated or skinny body suggests tapeworm only to the victim of folklore or quack doctor bait.

Beginning with the head which is not larger than the head of a pin, the succeeding links or segments of oblong shape, yellowish, flattened, increase in size until they are perhaps half an inch wide and an inch long.

As a rule the presence of a tapeworm causes no disturbance of health, in child or adult. Sometimes there may be vague abdominal pains, nausea, diarrheal attacks and obstinate anemia. Only the finding of some of the characteristic segments in the intestinal discharges, or the tapeworm eggs by microscopic examination, would warrant a diagnosis of the presence of tapeworm. Treatment for the removal of tapeworm requires the administration of remedies which are too poisonous for any one other than the physician to undertake to give. Blindness has been caused by the ill-advised use of such medicines.

Cattle ingest the segments or the eggs, when their food is contaminated directly or indirectly by human excreta containing segments or eggs. From the intestine of the cow the embryos hatched from the eggs there penetrate into the flesh of the animal, also into the liver, brain and other organs, and come to rest there as "bladder worms." These are no larger than a raisin seed. The animal seems to show no ill effect.

$8,850,000.00 BOND ISSUE VALIDATION HEARING THURSDAY

Hearing on the rule nisi issued against the city of Atlanta to show cause why Walter R. Brown, an Atlanta attorney, should not be heard in his intervention against the validation of the $8,850,000 municipal bond issue has been set for Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock before Judge George L. Bell.

The hearing was scheduled for Tuesday morning, but owing to the unavoidable absence of City Attorney James L. Mayson, the case was continued until Thursday morning, when it will be heard as the first matter on the calendar. Attorney R. B. Blackburn is representing Mr. Brown.

A. M. E. MINISTERS HOLD MEETING HERE

The A. M. E. Ministers' union met on Tuesday in regular session in Bethel A. M. E. church, Rev. W. J. Williams presiding. The meeting was featured by a paper by Rev. A. U. Freeman, on the subject, "The Crucifixion."

Rev. H. H. Long, pastor of the A. M. E. church, of Dublin, Ga., spoke on the A. M. E. Minister's brotherhood. Rev. M. A. Fountain, pastor of the First A. M. E. church, Americus, Ga., spoke of the efficiency of the Sunday school work in his city and church.

Rev. R. H. Ward, pastor of Allen Temple A. M. E. church, announced his candidacy for the secretaryship of the trustee board of Morris Brown university, to fill the vacancy of Rev. W. D. Johnson, who was promoted to the bishopric at the A. M. E. general conference at St. Louis last May.

NEGROES ARE INDICTED FOR MERCHANT'S DEATH

Andrew Crow, alias "Shoestring," Tom Favors and Edward Pearson, negroes, were indicted Wednesday by the grand jury for the murder of Carl Rappold, a merchant, Saturday night, December 21, last year.

Rappold, who operated a store at 145 Sims street, was shot to death when three negroes attempted to hold him up just as he was closing his store. It was only recently that the negroes accused of the crime were apprehended and placed in the Tower.

Negro Sentenced to Die.

Voges Lamar, a negro, was convicted of the murder of a negro woman and was sentenced to be hanged April 13 by Judge Malcolm C. Tarver, of Dalton, who is presiding in the emergency division of the superior court. A motion for a new trial was made.

Price Georgia Paid Fake Stock Dealers Shown to Chamber

Freely furnishing the names of fraudulent stock companies and their agents, T. B. Conner, chief examiner of the Georgia securities commission, in a speech to the chamber of commerce forum luncheon yesterday on "Stock Bootlegging in Georgia," declared that these concerns had cost the people of Georgia far more than the bunco ring had been able to wring out of all their victims throughout the United States.

Mr. Conner cited the case of a Macon widow, who, it is claimed, had been defrauded out of $3,300, every cent she had in the world, by a company of officers, which are now being prosecuted in Texas by the United States government for fraudulent use of the mails. He declared that, while he held no brief for Floyd Woodward and his "pay" men, he thought that "they were a pretty decent set of fellows compared with despoilers of the widow and the orphan."

Case of Atlanta Widow.

The speaker also cited the case of an Atlanta widow who had been robbed out of $2,000 of the $5,000 which she had received as damages from a railroad company for the death of her husband by an enterprising bunch of Atlantans bold enough to undertake to sell securities without authority of law.

Following his address the meeting unanimously decided to ask favorable action by the board of directors of the chamber at their next meeting on all of the recommendations made by Mr. Conner. The speaker urged the chamber to cooperate with the Georgia securities department in its effort to enforce the blue sky law, and also in securing certain amendments to perfect the law, which Mr. Conner expects to have introduced in the legislature next summer.

Another matter which the speaker said needed attention, was the bill of Representative E. E. Denison, of Illinois, introduced at the last session of congress and to be reintroduced by Mr. Denison immediately on the convening of the extraordinary session of the new congress next month.

The Denison Bill.

Mr. Denison's bill would make it unlawful for any issuer or dealer in securities to use the mails to send their circulars and literature, offering their securities for sale into "blue sky" states, the securities departments which had not authorized the sale of such securities.

The motion seeking favorable action by the chamber of commerce on these matters was made by former state Senator Walter P. Andrews.

The forum committee had as its guest R. S. Cunningham, attorney for the securities department of Ohio, who was in Atlanta Wednesday. Mr. Cunningham also made a brief talk on the invitation of Chairman Alfred Newell, in which he declared that the investors of Ohio, according to estimates by his department, had lost last year $8,500,000 through the mail offers of rubber and oil stock from which the purchasers would never derive one penny of dividends.

Several weeks ago the chamber of commerce decided to have a standing committee to look after bogus stock investments and certain other frauds that are being perpetrated in Atlanta. Secretary Charles Robertson reported that this committee had already succeeded in driving from the city a number of fraudulent stock concerns.

WORTHLESS CHECK CHARGES RESULT IN MYERS' ARREST

At the instance of L. P. Whitfield, private detective representing the American Bankers' association, S. R. Myers, aged 40, giving his home as Savannah, was arrested at noon Wednesday on Edgewood avenue on a number of bad check charges. He is now held at police station.

Following his arrest, it was disclosed that two warrants, charging him with passing an alleged bogus check for $35 and another for $20, have been issued for Myers.

According to private detectives, the man is thought to be the same one who recently passed bad checks throughout South Georgia and Florida aggregating $16,000. He is said to be wanted in Jacksonville for forgery, but pending advices from the authorities there, he is being detained on the local warrants.

G. O. P. FACTIONS PLANNING DIVISION OF GEORGIA PLUMS

Reports from republican headquarters in the state indicate that the various party factions have composed their differences arising out of the distribution of presidential patronage, and have selected Dewitt C. Cole, of Marietta, to fill the office of internal revenue collector, with John Martin, of Atlanta, o be appointed postmaster of the city office.

Mr. Martin, who is affiliated with the Lincoln Johnson wing of the party, served as postmaster of the Atlanta office during President Roosevelt's administration, and was assistant postmaster under President Taft. He was also connected with the revenue office under previous republican administrations. Mr. Cole is affiliated with the so-called Adamson faction of the republican party in Georgia.

It is said that an agreement has been reached for the distribution of other presidential patronage, including the offices of United States marshals and United States district attorneys for the northern and southern sections of the sttae.

GAINESVILLE FIGHTING PHONE RATE INCREASE

Hearing Opened Wednesday and Will Be Resumed This Morning.

Hearing on the petition of the city of Gainesville for an injunction to prevent the Southern Bell Telephone company from increasing rates in that city will be resumed Thursday morning before Judge George L. Bell in the civil division of the Fulton superior court. The case was started Wednesday about noon. The municipality is attempting to keep the company from increasing the rates and from levying and collecting the rates, which were recently granted by the Georgia railroad commission by a majority vote of that body.

It is contended by the city of Gainesville that the municipality has a separate contract with the company under which the company agreed, for certain concessions, not to increase the rates in the town for ten years. Recently a protest from the city on the newly granted increase in rates was made to the railroad commission by City Attorney C. N. Davis.

In its decision early in February the commission by a majority vote of its members issued an order granting the telephone company increases in rates amounting to more than $900,000 a year. The rates in Gainesville were included in this decision.

The railroad commission was represented by Judge J. K. Hines. The telephone company was represented by McDaniel & Black, while City Attorney Davies and Ed Quillian represented the city of Gainesville.

Constitution Wants Copy of "Mother Shipton's Prophecy"

Several requests have been received by The Constitution from its readers for copies of a poem written in the seventeenth century, entitled "Mother Shipton's Prophecy."

This piece of poetry correctly forecasts many of the outstanding events of history, including the recent world war and told of the coming use of submarines and airplanes.

The Constitution would like to receive a copy of this poem for the benefit of those who have made inquiries.

DEFICIT IS SHOWN BY 202 RAILWAYS

was made by M. A. McClory, statistician for the road. Maintenance of way employees, he said, would be reduced from 45-48½ cents an hour to 33-35 cents.

Faram labor figures were introduced, backed by S. L. Striving, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation of New York, and Frank M. Bradley, head of the New York State Federation of agriculture.

Wage Comparisons.

Wages in 1920 average from $50 to $85, according to Mr. Striving's figures, and now were down to $35 to $65. F. E. Warner, of South Haven, Mich., president of a large fruit exchange, said the $75 wage in 1920 was now about $50, and the day laborer's hourly rate was 30 cents now as compared to 50 cents in 1920.

Wage schedules of 1920 and 1921 in two-score cities on the New York Central were submitted to show the comparative pay in other industries for common labor. Decreases of approximately 20 per cent were shown to be the average in Albany, Utica, Rome, Rochester and New York city. In the latter's suburbs, decreases as high as 33 per cent were recorded, and in Buffalo and Amsterdam, N. Y., decreases were around 30 per cent.

Twenty-five per cent decreases were shown to be the average in Cleveland, Alliance and Toledo, Ohio, and Fort Wayne, Ind.

Several points, including Syracuse, Rochester, Dunkirk, Ontario, New York and Erie, Pa., were reported as having decreases averaging 15 per cent.

COST OF SURVEY PLACED AT $4,000,000.

Washington, March 30.—A plan to require more complete data regarding wages and hours of railroad employees, proposed today by Representatives of the railroad labor board in confeernce with a representative of the interstate commerce commission, would cost the roads $4,000,000 a year, A. P. Thom, general counsel for the railway executives, told the conferees.

The conference was the first of a series between the two federal bodies to agree on a basis for data required of the roads. Horace Secrist represented the labor board and M. O. Laurens the commission. Mr. Secrist proposed 148 employee classifications, saying data now compiled by the roads was not sufficient to enable the railway labor board to act intelligently, as an accurate comparison with wages and hours for similar work in other industries was not shown. Mr. Thom proposed a plan for 123 classifications, adding that the roads were eager to give every assistance needed by the government.

SECURITIES OWNERS CALL CONFERENCE.

New York, March 30.—In an effort to hasten a settlement of the labor difficulties between the railroads and their employees, the executive of the National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities, meeting here today, invited the heads of the "big four" railroad brotherhoods to attend a conference in New York on April 4 to discuss the situation.

A special committee of 25, representatives of the various sections of the country, also was appointed and will endeavor to be helpful, a statement said, "in assisting to relieve the immediate situation, and later, generally helpful in such directions as may appear essential."

STATEMENT IS FILED BY COLONIAL TRUST

Surplus and undivided profits of $22,166.03, and other items of the financial condition of the Colonial Trust Company of Atlanta, were shown in a statement filed with the state department of banking, as of March 23. The bank has a capital stock of $148,400; its checking accounts amount to $50,806, and the savings deposits total $20,629. Time loans of the bank amount to $250,478, and the cash on hand is $17,894.

The Security State bank's statement shows undivided profits and surplus of $14,921; a capital stock of $60,00; time loans totaling $87,720, and cash on hand amounting to $3,610. T. J. Norman is cashier of the Security State bank, and secretary of the Colonial Trust Company of Atlanta.

FUNERAL OF MOORE TO BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services of Oscar Moore, well-known real estate man, formerly of Atlanta, who died Sunday at his home in Orlando, Fla., will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the chapel of Harry G. Poole, with interment in North View cemetery.

He is survived by two sons, Milton C. and Herbert G. Moore; one daughter, Miss Mattie L. Moore; four sisters, Mrs. Octaia Brown and Mrs. Joe Schwelbinz, of Pittsburg; Mrs. Cora Morgan, of Kingsland, Ga., and Mrs. Myra Summers, of Lawrenceville, and two brothers, Ross B. and Virgil Moore, of Atlanta.

Atlanta Promised Return to Spring Weather Friday

"After a day of cloudiness Thursday, the weather should brighten up considerably, getting warmer consistently," said C. F. von Herrmann, forecaster, breathing more easily after having successfully seen the fruit crop of the state through its recent narrow squeak.

Temperature in the neighborhood of 50 degrees is expected Thursday morning, and if the day succeeds in finishing without showers, which it more than likely will, said Mr. von Herrmann, Friday should proceed to give Atlanta a genuine return to spring-time, with all its appurtenances Washington predicts showers.

Other sections of the country have not been so fortunate in saving their crops of fruit, since much damage has been done by the recent wave of freezing and worse weather which swept eastward from the Oklahoma region and did much damage in the middle west and even farther east, confining its activity, however, to the region above the Mason-Dixon line.

Normal Temperature.

Washington, March 30.—Leaving widespread destruction behind it in orchards, the cold wave which crossed the Mississippi river Easter, passed out over the Atlantic today with a return to normal temperatures following in its wake.

The weather bureau said that in the Atlantic states north of Maryland the weather would be fair and warmer tonight and cloudy and warmer tomorrow, while in the South Atlantic states indications were that unsettled conditions and warmer temperatures would prevail tonight and Thursday with probably local rains. Unsettled weather was forecast generally for the eastern inland region.

Maryland Loss Heavy.

Cumberland, Md., March 30.—The financial loss in the Comberland-Potomac-Shenandoah fruit belt due to the frost Monday night will reach from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000, L. S. Johnson, in charge of the Cumberland fruit exchange stated today.

The belt takes in the area from Keyser, W. V., to Martinsburg, W. Va., and from Hagerstown, Md., to Winchester, Va.

Small in Ohio.

Columbus, O., March 30.—The damage done Ohio's early fruit crop by this week's freeze has been overestimated, it was asserted today by E. C. Cotton, head of the state bureau of plant industry.

"There will be some loss," Cotton said, "but it will not be unusually great, and there will be a good crop. Early reports always are exaggerated."

Damage in North Unknown.

Washington, March 30.—Government reports today said the freeze was "disastrous" to fruit, especially early varieties, but no attempt was made to estimate the extent of the damage. A strip starting in eastern New Mexico, crossing south Nebraska and moving eastward through Kansas, southern Indiana and Illinois, Tennessee and reaching the Atlantic seaboard was particularly hard hit.

Delaware and New Jersey fruit was said to have been "badly damaged," but the peach growing sections of the southern states escaped.

The exact damage will not be known, it is said, until warmer weather thaws out the frozen parts and discloses the extent of frost bite.

Big Tennessee Loss.

Nashville, Tenn., March 30.—Between 75 and 80 per cent of the peaches, pears, plums and cherries of Tennessee were killed by the recent cold snap, totalling a loss of about $2,500,000, it was estimated tonight by W. T. Morris, assistant commissioner of agriculture for the state.

Want Fraser Street School Maintained For White Children

Protests against making Fraser Street school into a negro school and protests against the gas and telephone rate increases, were voiced at a meeting of residents of the Fraser Street school neighborhood Tuesday night held in the home of Mrs. C. R. Whitlock, 406 Capitol avenue.

More than 500 signatures have already been secured for a petition objecting to changes in the school, and indorsing a plan to erect a better school for white children, and to build a negro school in the center of a negro section, instead of utilizing the Fraser Street School building. It was reported that the board of education will grant another hearing before acting on the plan to change the school into a negro institution.

M. F. Allen and W. M. Hairston will speak at the next meeting, to be held Saturday night in the home of Mrs. F. M. Fish, 527 Capitol avenue, when the gas and telephone rate increases will be further discussed.

W. H. BEDARD REPLIES TO DR. A. C. DIXON

Replying to a recent statement by Dr. A. C. Dixon, the following has been issued by Walter H. Bedard, of the Christian Science committee on publication for Georgia:

Christian Science is again attacked by Dr. A. C. Dixon, a minister of the Gospel, and as reported in The Constitution, he commits a gross error in classifying Christian Science along with the Unitarians, the Spiritualists, the Jews, the Buddhists and the Mohammedans. He says Christian Scientists deny the Deity of Christ, while on the contrary Christian Scientists believe Christ to be "The Divine Manifestation of God, which comes to the flesh to destroy incarnate error." See Science and Health, by Mary Baker Eddy, page 583.

Further in this text-book on Christian Science Mrs. Eddy describes at length the dual personality of Jesus the Christ. Jesus was the Human Name just as it applied to other Hebrew men, while Christ is more properly styled as the Divine Title of Jesus. Jesus said "Before Abraham was I am." He did not mean that the human man Jesus was eternal, but that the Divine Idea or Christ was and is the spiritual man, made in the image and likeness of God and therefore antedated Abraham.

Christian Science is healing the sick and destroying sin every day by following the teaching of Christ and those who desire to know the truth about it may get it by consulting the text-book above mentioned. By their fruits ye shall know them rather than by the attacks of a critic.

FINE TALENT FOUND FOR VAUDEVILLE SHOW

The Commercial High school vaudeville show will be presented Friday night at the school auditorium for the benefit of the athletic fund of the school. The frequent rehearsals under the direction of Mrs. Annie T. Wise, principal of the school, have revealed considerable latent talent, she said, and have made it certain that a splendid performance will be presented.

Two plays, written and acted by pupils of the school, comprise the larger part of the program. Several stunts and exhibitions of classic and eccentric dancing will also be shown.

BRISK SALE EXPECTED FOR SINGLE TICKETS

Chief Interest Centers This Year in Lucrezia Bori and Beniamino Gigli.

Opening Monday, the sale of single admission tickets for the approaching season of Metropolitan grand opera is expected to be exceptionally brisk, and patrons who desire to secure seats for one or more single performances are urged by officials of the Atlanta Music Festival association to avail themselves of an early opportunity to get the best of seats.

A great demand on the seating capacity of the Auditorium, where the seven operas will be sung, made by the season ticket sale, has left a limited number of choice seats, especially since the out-of-town orders for tickets continue to be received in greater numbers, owing to the reservations made this year for patrons not residents of the city.

Chief interest in the approaching season, it appears, centers about two opportunities Atlanta is given this year—to hear Beniamino Gigli, the sensational new tenor, heralded as a peer to Caruso, and to hear Lucrezia Bori, the great singer who returned the past season to the operatic stage after an enforced absence of five years, during which time she recovered the full strength of the wonderful voice she had completely lost.

New York critics have been unanimously surprised by the sweetness and beauty of Gigli's tenor, their reviews of his work having been enthusiastic, especially commending the fervor with which he sings his roles. Miss Bori, too, is heralded as having returned to the Metropolitan with the powers of her voice even wore marvelous than they were when she won her renown before the disability to her vocal chords.

The introduction of Mr. Gigli to his southern audience will be in "Andrea Chenier," an opera of Umberto Giordiano, which deals with a French revolutionary theme. The triumph which Mr. Gigli has won in his appearance in this opera comports entirely with the success the opera itself has attained upon its re-presentation after several years' absence from Metropolitan repertoire.

STROTHER TO CLIMB TALL BANK BUILDING

Bill Strother, the human fly, will climb the Marietta street side of the Citizens and Southern Bank building at 7:30 o'clock tonight, under the auspices of the American Legion and for the benefit of wounded soldiers. Climbing skyscrapers is regarded as simple work by him, his main attention now being concentrated on leaps from a speeding automobile to an airplane in flight, which he has contracted to do at fairs this summer.

With him is Master Vernon, 12 years old, whom he has aodpted. The boy has a light tenor voice, and will sing while Bill Strother climbs. He sang Tuesday at the Kiwanis club luncheon. Strother is well known as a nervy climber in many cities of this country, and he has scaled some of the most difficult buildings to be found. He began his career about three years ago in this city.

$20,000 WAR CHEST PLANNED FOR BOYKIN

firmly behind law, order and decency in government."

Solicitor-General Boykin resumed his ceaseless work on the bunco investigation before the grand jury Wednesday morning with refreshed spirits.

"I didn't attend the meeting," he said. "I wasn't invited and besides I was busy at home, taking care of the children while Mrs. Boykin represented me at the Piedmont, but I am sure now that I will be able to achieve my purpose—and that is to see that the people of Atlanta get the police protection that they pay for and those men who commit crime or connive with crime pay the penalty that the law provides and demands.

"I have never been afraid of how the people of Atlanta would stand on this question when the issue was squarely presented to them. But Atlanta is awake and Atlanta will do things. I can't find words to express the gratitude I feel for the expressions of confidence in me of that splendid gathering of men and women at the Piedmont. And I will use my every energy to see that this confidence is completely justified."

Ask Western Union Records.

Planning to have the Fulton county grand jury investigate the "alleged Floyd Woodward letter," to ascertain the truth or falsity of the charges in it, Solicitor-General Boykin, it became known Wednesday, has already served the Western Union Telegraph company with a subpoena duces tecum to produce certain records now in possession of the company, which it is claimed will throw light on the letter.

At the same time it was stated that an effort was being made by Judge J. K. Hines, attorney for Chief of Detectives Lamar Poole, to obtain from the Western Union its records of a $1,000 money order declared by Woodward to have been sent here from Jacksonville for protection" by "Jackknife" O'Brien, one of the heads of the confidence ring.

Woodward stated in his alleged letter that O'Brien wired the money to him and that he indorsed the telegraph company voucher to Attorney Joe Ewing, who agreed, according to the letter, to have Boykin nol pros the cases against O'Brien.

Sum Drawn Out.

In regard to the $500 which the letter said was deposited by Woodward in the Lowry National bank for Boykin's campiagn fund, the records of the bank given to a Constitution representative Wednesday shows that on March 5, 1919, Joe Ewing brought Floyd P. Woodward to the bank and introduced him.

Woodward opened an account by placing $500 in currency, as shown by the original deposit slip in the bank. A notation was made on the back of the signature card that Woodward was in the motion picture business in Petersburg, Va.

This account was neither added to nor checked on until September 4, 1919, when the entire sum was drawn out. The canceled check was called for, but the officials of the bank have not completed going through their files, which are voluminous, in order to find if Woodward or if not, who, signed for the statement which contained the cashed check.

In the meantime, the grand jury continues its daily grind of investigation into the bunco activities. Scores of witnesses are examined every session and much documentary evidence is placed before them.

Free Health Lecture.

Sunday will be a big day at the Free School of Health, which meets in the auditorium chamber of commerce at 3 o'clock. Community singing from 3 until 3:30, led by J. E. McRee. Additional features will be vocal selections by Mrs. Claudia Welch Bass and Miss Nelle Laing. At 3:30 Robert Bryan Harrison will lecture on "Health From the Kitchen—A Study in Domestic Science." Domestic science sections of the Atlanta Woman's club, Cox college and the Girls' High school have been invited to attend this meeting.

SUPPORT IS URGED FOR JOHN BOYKIN

Enthusiasm Greets Address of Robert Alston at Meeting of Atlanta Retail Merchants.

Robert C. Alston, whose address Tuesday night was the high spot of a meeting of 1,000 Atlantans called to pledge aid to Solicitor-General Boykin in his efforts to uncover corruption or inefficiency in the police administration, and in his fight on crime, was enthusiastically received by the Atlanta Retail Merchants' association when he repeated his plea for support from the solicitor-general at a banquet of the association Wednesday night at the chamber of commerce.

"We want Atlanta to be the southeastern headquarters for business," he said, "but not the southeastern headquarters for crooks. Now for 20 years John Boykin has walked the path of a straight man, and the charges are brought against him just at the moment when he undertakes to enforce your laws and do his duty. The charges come from Floyd Woodward, arch enemy of Atlanta, through the police department. Will you enroll under the flag of Woodward or Boykin?

Speak Woodward's Thoughts.

"The men who cry that Boykin should be investigated speak the thoughts and do the acts of Floyd Woodward. Every third line in the interview of Mrs. Woodward has the unmistakable earmarks of a ward politician. If I want to do a service for a man, I go to his friends. The letter from Woodward was unaccountably in the hands of the chief of police, to do a service to Woodward."

Colonel F. J. Paxon urged the merchants to write to their congressmen, stating their attitude on pending legislation, "just as the farmers and laborers do," he said. He said that passage of the soldier bonus bill would mean $5,000,000,000 expenditure, to be raised by taxation, and recommended that the merchants oppose the bill. He gave great credit to the soldiers and said that he did not think many soldiers want the bonus, and would be satisfied if the wounded soldiers were well cared for. He also urged support for the 1 per cent turnover, or gross profits, tax being considered to replace the present tax system.

That the fittest will survive in business was the prediction of M. B. Wellborn, governor of the Federal Reserve bank, and those improvident, foolish and lacking in business sense will go to the wall.

Resources In Use.

He said all the resources of his bank were now in use in this district for commerce, industry and agriculture, and that all available capital, together with $50,000,000 from other Federal Reserve banks, had at one time been in use to assure an orderly marketing of the cotton crop. By preventing dumping, he claimed that the Federal Reserve system had obviated a drop to 5 or 6 cents in the cotton prices.

The benefit to retail merchants of the week of grand opera was outlined by Cator Woolford, and H. G. Hastings, president of the Southeastern fair, showed how that annual event increases the business of retail merchants. C. J. Hastings spoke briefly, outlining the work of the Young Women's Christian association in caring for the 2,500 country girls who annually come to Atlanta seeking work. For every man buncoed by the Woodward ring, he said, ten girls are led astray by equally plausible and equally reprehensible confidence men.

NEW-BORN INFANT FOUND IN BASKET AT DOOR OF HOME

Thomasville, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—A basket containing a new-born baby boy was yesterday found at the door of Mrs. B. Edwards' home in this city. There was no clue to indicate who had left the child. This is the third time that a child has been left at the door of Mrs. Edwards, probably because of her well known goodness and charity. She states that although she would like to adopt the child, she cannot do so because of feeble health. She has had a number of offers from people wishing to adopt the infant, but she says that she will not give the child up until it can be placed satisfactorily.

SOIL SATISFACTORY FOR COTTON PLANTING

Washington, March 30.—The soil is in satisfactory condition in the cotton states, but it is getting dry in some eastern [illegible], and precipitation is needed for the top soil in eastern and southeastern Texas, according [illegible] National Weather and Crop Bulletin issued today by the department of agriculture.

Cotton planting has become general in the southern portion of the belt, although but little was planted in Texas, says the bulletin. The work has extended northward to the central counties of South Carolina, and excellent progress was reported in Georgia.

TURKISH PROTEST ON GREEK INVASION

Constantinople, March 30.—Greek forces on the northern front in Asia-Minor are engaged in rear guard skirmishes with the Turks, it is said in advices received here. The Greeks marched into the city of Eski-Shehr on Monday night.

The Turkish government today made public a note to the allies, protesting formally against the Greek offensive in Asia-Minor.

The government declares the offensive constitutes an unjustified aggression against Turkey at the moment when the allies are seeking to solve peacefully the Near-Eastern problem.

Revival Services to Begin At Tabernacle Tonight

With one of the most powerful sermons Atlantans have heard him deliver, Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, eminent English minister, closed the twentieth annual session of the Bible conference at the Baptist tabernacle Wednesday night.

Tonight at 7:30 a two weeks' series of revival services will start at the tabernacle, conducted by Dr. R. W. Thoit, an evangelist of wide reputation.

Dr. Morgan selected as his final subject, "Christ's Central Call to Man," and his exposition of this theme, vivid and forceful, in which his utterances were more evangelistic than in previous sermons, gripped the attention of his audience.

To his fame as a preacher Dr. Morgan added a new prowess Wednesday night. In two minutes of time he raised $150 in fourteen subscriptions to clear up a deficit facing the conference.

Announcement was made by the pastor that the conference was $198 in debt and he asked the congregation to contribute liberally as the donation plates were passed.

Quickly Raises Fund.

"Sit down," said Dr. Morgan, "and let me say a word. I'm not going to speak tonight until this deficit is off," he announced. "I want four subscriptions of $25 each and I will lead off with the first $25." Three hands shot up. "Now," he then said, "I want ten subscriptions of $5 each." One after another ten hands went up as fast as they could be counted. "Now, you can raise the rest," he said to the pastor.

In his sermon the speaker rested his theme on three words of Christ's invitation to overburdened humanity—"Come unto me." Although Chirst is no longer present in the flesh the spiritual significance of his call still abides, he asserted.

Attacks "Society."

"Dr. Morgan dwelt on the compassion and forgiveness of Jesus and scored modern synicism. He also attacked "society" in its modern acceptance, as a "rotten thing," whether it be the "upper ten of London, the 400 of New York, or the 250 of Atlanta."

The revival services which start tonight will be continued each evening until April 17. There will be no day services except on Sunday.

Dr. Thoit, who will preach at each service, has been a member of the evangelistic staff of the home mission board of the Baptist church, and has been a leader in religious campaigns in the largest cities in the south and east. He is declared to be a speaker of great dramatic power.

The song services will be under the leadership of Professor D. L. Spooner.

City Evangelistic Campaign Drawing Immense Audiences

With the opening of the revival services at St. Mark's church Wednesday night, which is being conducted by Dr. H. W. Browley, noted evangelist from Nashville, Tenn., the Methodist churches of the city now have a total of twenty-nine churches co-operating in the great city-wide evangelistic campaign, which was started last Sunday at Wesley Memorial and which is to continue throughout the middle of April.

Friday afternoon at Trinity Methodist church, the pastor, Rev. S. R. Belk, will preach a special sermon for young people and children. Other meetings to be held by the church will be at the 7:45 o'clock evening hour, when the pastor will be assisted in the revival by Rev. J. H. Eakes, well-known evangelist of the state.

Presbyterian Churches.

Among the other denominations holding afternoon services for young people is the North Avenue Presbyterian church, which has set aside the 6:30 o'clock afternoon service the boy's prayer meetings.

Dr. Charles Myers, noted evangelist of Greensboro, N. C., is in charge of the North Avenue meeting, and is expected to hold services throughout the three weeks' campaign. Joseph Ragan, leader of the choir, has announced that a musical program consisting of six quartets has been arranged for the night and Sunday morning services.

A number of the Presbyterian churches of the city have already started prayer meetings in preparation for the large campaign and the total force of the denomination is expected to be engaged by Sunday.

The noon hour union prayer meetings of all the Presbyterian churches of Atlanta will continue to be held at the Harris Street church during the campaign with the exception of next Monday, when all the churches of the city taking part in the interdenominational movement will hold a union service at the Baptist Tabernacle.

Indications for successful meetings have been reported by pastors of the Central and Westminster Presbyterian churches.

Baptist Church Revival.

Forty-two Baptist chuches of this city launched revival campaigns simultaneously Wednesday night, with special services and elaborate preparations. The evangelistic services will continue for two weeks, and a number of out-of-town pastors will take part.

James W. Jelks, a well known evangelistic singer, will sing at the Second Baptist church services, assisted by a chorus of 50 voices. At the first service Wednesday night, Rev. Henry Alford Porter, the pastor, preached on "The Challenge of Christ," as the first of a series of "Evenings With Christ," Tonight he will take "Stopping Christ" as his subject, and on Friday night he will speak on "Turning One's Back on Christ."

Rev. M. Ashby Jones, pastor of Ponce de Leon Baptist church, and Rev. R. L. Reeves, pastor of North Atlanta church, also preached Wednesday night in their own churches. They will conduct their own revival services.

Dr. W. W. Hamilton, superintendent of the evangelistic department of the home mission board of the Southern Baptist convention, will conduct the services at the Capitol Avenue church.

Rev. Robert Lee Cole, of Texas, and Rev. Grady D. Feagan, pastor of Cooper Street Baptist church, are co-operating in the revival series at that church. Rev. Mr. Cole preaching every night at 7:30 o'clock. Penn S. Law is in charge of the singing.

FALLS 9,000 FEET, BUT ARMY PILOT KEEPS HIS DATE

Ithaca, N. Y., March 30.—Lieutenant J. A. MacReady, chief pilot of McCook field, Dayton, O., kept his lecture date at the annual banquet of the Ithaca Airplane club Wednesday night after falling 9,000 feet and crashing in a disabled Thomas Morse pursuit machine in the afternoon. The plane dropped during a test tail-spin and was demolished.

"Reckon I'm all right," said the officer when extricated from the debris.

WARM PRAISE IS GIVEN TO NORMAL INSTITUTE

Rev. H. H. Long, pastor at Dublin, Ga., addressing the faculty and students of the Atlanta Normal and Industrial institute Wednesday morning told them that they have an opportunity to make their parents, the school and the place from which they come, feel prouud of them. "It is your duty to make good these chances," he said. "Whatever may be your hindrances, you have remarkable chances to make good.

"We are in need of schools to prepare preachers, teachers, lawyers and doctors. Schools of the Atlanta ta Normal and Industrial type with a man of Stinson's views, who can have no other motive but to bless the negro boy and girl, should be established within the reach of all our people.

"Whatever may be our setbacks it is up to the negro race to make good in the communities where we live."

Rev. R. H. Ward, Allen Temple city, spoke very encouragingly of the school and gave his personal check to aid the work. Principal Stinson said this has been the most encouraging year of the school's history.

COUNTY OFFICIALS WILL CONVENE IN MAY

The seventh annual convention of the Association of County Commissioners of Georgia will be held May 5 and 6, it is announced by Charles L. Davis, of Warm Springs, president, and Fred C. Houser, secretary.

Improvement of Georgia highways will be the keynote of the discussions at the meeting, it is announced. A large federal and state appropriation already has been made, and construction work in many parts of the state will be in progress during the summer.

Unusual Sale of Boards

A few weeks ago we announced a sale of No. 2 Common Boards at $19 a thousand, stating that we were overstocked.

This being an exceptionally low price, the boards sold rapidly, and there is only a small quantity left.

We will continue to sell at $19 for the remainder of this week, after which time boards will sell for our regular price—Cost, plus a legitimate profit.

We think it sound policy to keep our stock moving and keep it fresh and clean. We shall keep a large and well assorted stock of lumber, but it is not our purpose to speculate by carrying a surplus.

Our equipment and service are valuable to you. We have in our estimating department men of ability whose experience and practical suggestions are worth much to our customers.

GIFT OF $50,000 MADE UNIVERSITY

Fund to Aid in Education of Poor Students Is Bequeathed by Late T. J. and Rebecca Treadwell.

To aid in the education of deserving students at the University of Georgia, a bequest understood to be about $50,000 has been made by the late Thomas J. Treadwell and Rebecca Treadwell, both of this city, it became known yesterday through Attorney Willis M. Everett, of Atlanta. The gift was accepted at a meeting Wednesday morning of the prudential committee of the university in Athens.

In a letter to Chancellor Barrow, of the university, from Mr. Everett, it was stated that her property is bequeathed to S. W. Carson, as trustee. By the terms of the will the money shall be used in the education of poor and deserving boys, and the fund is to be known as the "Thomas J. and Rebecca J. Treadwell memorial."

Letter to Chancellor.

The letter sent Chancellor Barrow follows:

"I have the pleasure of notifying you that Mrs. Rebecca J. Treadwell, deceased, made the following provisions in her will for the university: 'All the rest and residue of my property of every kind and description, whether real, personal or mixed, and wherever located, I will, devise and bequeath to S. W. Carson, as trustee, for the following trust: I desire that said trustee shall as rapidly as possible convert said residue into cash, and loan the money derived therefrom to responsible persons, taking security first loan deeds on property located in Atlanta or vicinity, with as large a rate of interest as can be secured, and at the same time have ample security.

Fund for Education.

"'Said trustee shall turn over the net income from said loans to the State University of Georgia, at Athens, Ga., for the purpose of educating poor and deserving boys, no boy to receive more than $200 per year; said fund to be known as the "Thomas J. and Rebecca J. Treadwell Memorial."

"'In case of the resignation or death of the said S. W. Carson, I hereby direct that the ordinary of Fulton county, Georgia, shall designate in writing a successor who shall at once become vested with all rights and powers of the said Carson, except that the successors of the said Carson shall, before entering upon their duties as such trustees, execute a good and sufficient bond for twice the amount of said trust estate payable to the said ordinary of Fulton county, Georgia, and his successors, in office for the faithful discharge of their duties; and said ordinary of Fulton county, Georgia, shall in like manner from time to time to fill all vacancies in said trusteeship so that said fund may be a perpetual fund for the purpose aforesaid.'

"I cannot tell the amount of money that will pass under this provision at this time, but will say that it will be quite large bequest. This bequest will be available some time after the rest of the estate has been distributed. We will keep you informed so that you may know when the income from this bequest will be available.

(Signed.) "WILLIS M. EVERETT,
"Attorney for S. W. Carson, Executor."

ENGINEERING EXPERT MAKES TALK AT Y.M.C.A.

John A. Stevens, of Lowell, Mass., was the principal speaker at a meeting of technical men held Wednesday night at the Tech Y. M. C. A. under the auspices of the Atlanta section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Taking as his subject "Super-Power House Design," Mr. Stevens discussed a number of problems of importance that have been before the engineers in different phases for a great length of time.

Two Men Crucified By Old Religious Sect in Mystic Rite

Albuquerque, N. M., March 30.—Two men were crucified at the penitente village of Abiquiu in northern New Mexico on Good Friday in observance of holy week in rites performed by members of the Hermanos de Luz, Brothers of Light, a religious order, according to B. J. Nordfeldt and Gustave Bauman, artists of Santa Fe, N. M., who arrived here yesterday.

For more than a half hour, the artists said, the two human sacrifices were tied to huge wooden crosses, at the end of which time they were taken down, bleeding and exhausted. The condition of the men is said to be serious and their recovery in doubt.

The penitentes, as the Hermanos de Luz are more commonly known, are Indians with a Mexican mixture. The order has many followers, it is understood, in remote villages of this state. Although supposed to be dying out, the order still attracts wide attention because of its mysterious ceremonies. The principles and practices of the order are said to have come from Italy through Spain and Mexico.

"The penitentes formed in a long procession," said Mr. Nordfeldt, "and, marching to slow, weird music, beat themselves with thorn whips soaked in brine water to wound themselves and make their wounds smart. One man carried a large wooden cross under the weight of which he fell exhausted frequently. The procession ended with the erection of two crosses with members of the order tied to them."

It is considered an honor among the penitentes to be selected for crucifixion.

BRITAIN APPROVES CHARITABLE WORK FOR IRISH RELIEF

Washington, March 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—Charitable organizations constitution on a strictly non-political basis" in this country which desire to deal "in an impartial spirit with any case of Irish distress" will find no unnecessary difficulties in their way, the British embassy said in a communication on the subject made public tonight.

Were it not for the fact that counties and cities of Ireland, which are Sinn Fein in sympathy, refuse to accept money raised for their assistance in the United Kingdom and prefer to appeal to America for charity, the communication added, there is no case of distress affecting any individual or his property which "could not be adequately met from the British sources."

PUBLICATION OF LIST OF EVADERS DELAYED

Washington, March 30.—Publication by the war department of the list of war-time draft evaders has been postponed until Attorney General Daugherty can prepare an opinion on the question of the legal liability of the government, in the event names of innocent mens hould by accident appear on the lists made public.

Secretary Weeks explained today that every effort had been made to check the lists carefully to guard against any innocent man's name appearing, but he admitted it was probable some such errors might occur.

The final check of the lists by former members of the draft board is rapidly being completed. The original plan was to give the lists out by districts, beginning about April 1, but it is probable that the publication will be considerably later now.

Newbern Plant Burns.

Newbern, N. C., March 30.—Fire of undetermined origin early today destroyed the Neuse Veener and Box plant here, entailing a loss to building and stock estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000, with $30,000 insurance.

GOVERNOR AND STAFF INSPECT TECH BOYS

Visitors Much Impressed by Showing Made by the R. O. T. C.

Governor Hugh M. Dorsey and his official military staff, were the honorees at the weekly regimental parade and review of the reserve officers' training corps, held Wednesday afternon at Grant's field by the student body of the Georgia School of Technology before a large and enthusaistic attendance.

The review, which was composed of one regiment with four battalions of three companies each, including artillery, infantry, signal corps and aviation and motor transport seetions, under command of Major A. L. Pendleton, Jr., commandant, filed through the north gate of the field in company formations, finally coming to attention before Governor Dorsey and his staff, who were stationed at the main grandstand, where a salute of seventeen guns was fired in honor of the state executive.

Following the governor's salute, color ceremonies were performed, after which a number of impressive drills were gone through in various company formations.

Members of Governor Dorsey's staff present included prominent heads of the various national guard units of the state as follows:

Colonel Edwin Lyle, of Atlanta; Colonel Edwin F. Johnson, of Atlanta; Colonel J. F. McCrackin, of Valdosta; Colonel J. Y. Swift, of Elberton; Colonel Miller S. Bell, of Milledgeville; Colonel William Butt, of Blue Ridge; Colonel S. B. Yow, of Lavonia; Colonel H. R. McClatchey, of Columbus; Colonel M. J. Daniel, brigadier general, retired, of Griffin; Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash and Colonel Albert Howell, of Atlanta.

Major Pendleton, commandant of the Georgia Tech R. O. T. C., announced that special parade and reviews would be held by the regiment on Wednesdays throughout the college season, in honor of representatives of the state department and other officials. Reviews will be held during the following weeks for Senator William J. Harris, Senator Thomas E. Watson, Governor-elect Thomas W. Hardwick and heads of the various civic organizations of Atlanta.

Among the prominent out-of-town visitors at the parade were the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Wyatt Brown, rector of St. Michael's, of Baltimore, Md. Mrs. Brown is a niece of Colonel Edwin Lyle, of the governor's staff.

Crackers Are Helpless Before the Sand Crabs; Konemann Is Very Wild

Galveston, Texas, March 30.—(Special.)—The Crackers lost to the Sand Crabs here today, 4 to 0, the Georgians being helpless before the pitching of Glenn and Knight, who held them to three hits.

Konemann's wildness proved fatal on several occasions, and a timely triple by Bittle, in the sixth, put the game on ice.

The Crackers had only one real opportunity to score—when Konemann led off with a double in the sixth. He was sacrificed down by Tow, and Ritter walked. Graff popped to short, and then Hunson walked, filling the bases. Fred Smith made a fine bid for a hit over second, but Brownlow, who was playing short, made a beautiful stop and a fine throw over his shoulders to Distel, and Munson was forced.

The Sand Crabs got their first run in the first inning on a base on balls to Brownlow, a sacrifice hit by Grub and a single by Pitcher Glenn. The locals threatened in nearly every inning after that, but it was not until the sixth that they tallied again. In this frame, Brownlow walked and was sent down by Grub. Graft fumbled O'Brien's bounder, and then Fuhrman made a nice catch of Knight's foul fly. Bittle then delivered with his triple, scoring the runners on the sacks.

The last run came in the seventh. Callahan walked; stole second, and scored on Brownlow's single. Roy Elam, the manager and regular shortstop of Galveston, was on the bench with a lame foot, but Brownlow, who substituted, was one of the big stars of the pastime.

The game was called after the eighth inning on account of darkness. A stiff wind blew over the field, and black clouds hung low.

The Crackers will leave early Thursday morning for Houston, where they have two games scheduled with the Buffs. If Konemann had been able to locate the plate, the score would have been much closer and probably a 0-to-0 tie. He had plenty of stuff when he did get it over.

Prep Season Opens Tomorrow

BY LAUREN CLARK

All Teams on Edge for Clash

After seven months of waiting prep baseball fans will again be in their glory as their baseball season opens up tomorrow. All the prep teams have been practicing for the greater part of last month and each team seems in great shape for the opening. All the coaches have long ago predicted that their team would win or push some other team for the honors this year, and after that statement is made everything is complete.

When the lid is officially lifted Friday afternoon G. M. A. plays Boys' High at Boys' High; Marist at Tech High; and University school at Commercial.

The game between G. M. A. and Boys' High should be the best of the afternoon. The game will be played at Ponce de Leon. Both teams boast of an all-prep pitcher, Fred Sale, of G. M. A., and Duby White, of Boys' High. No doubt but what these two men will oppose each other in the opening game.

Coach David, of Boys' High, has been drilling his men for the past month every afternoon at Piedmont park, and their improvement has marked the close of each practice. His team will line up as follows: White, pitcher; Robertson, catcher; Clarke, first base; Roane, second base; Smith shortstop; Smith, third base. The outfield will be composed of Wallace, T. Ellis and R. Ellis.

Tough at G. M. A.

Coach Burbage, of G. M. A., is having an awful time with his squad. With the exception of the three vets all the other places are in doubt. He is still carrying 30 men on the squad and his line-up for tomorrow is as much of an unknown quantity as the color of the people who inhabitate Mars. The only known fact about the team is that Carter and Sale will compose the battery, and Clarke will hold down second.

The rest of the team will be picked from the following men: Hunt, Sanders, Ferdon, Robinson and H. Hunt are still candidates for the pitching staff. Carter will hold down the catcher's position, King and Carlisle, first; Clark, second; Talliferro, Hill and Anderson, short; Whipple and Loving, third. The outfield will be picked from the following men: Blackwood, Power, Turner, Shute, Rogers, Alford, Joselove, Fair, Hungerford and Gibson.

Marist-Tech High.

The Marist-Tech High game will also be quite interesting. Coach Tolbert, of Tech High, says that he has the best team that he has coached in prep baseball, and that is going some. He has had his first team working together for the past two weeks and it is in fine shape. The Smithies boast of the best infield in the league on paper and this combination will get a chance to live up to its rep against Marist. Tech High will line up as follows: Hammell, catcher; Peel or Miles, pitcher; Terrell, second base; Wetherly, second base; Richardson, shortstop; Murray, third base; Cousins, Williams and Hester, outfield.

Marist has had a hard time getting together on account of the lack of experienced material. Coach Bean will most probably start the following men against Tech High: Murphy, catcher; Dorsch or Bradley, pitcher; Logarmarsine or Rapp, first base; Joel, second base; Doyle, shortstop; Dorsch or Bradley, third base, and Martin, Hearsch and Madden in the outfield.

The Bluebirds should win their game from Commercial, that is if the Pryor Street school does not put a better team into the field than it did last season. Both teams have not given out their line-ups, so it is not known who will start the festivities.

Fulton will have an off day. The rest of the schedule for the first half will be as follows:

April 5.

Fulton High at University school. Marist at Boys' High. Tech High at Commercial High. G. M. A. off.

April 8.

Fulton High at Marist. Boys' High at University school. Tech High at G. M. A. Commercial High off.

April 12.

G. M. A. at Fulton High. Marist at Commercial High. Tech High at University school. Boys' High off.

April 15.

University school at G. M. A. Fulton High at Tech High. Boys' High at Commercial High. Marist off.

April 19.

Commercial High at G. M. A. Marist at University school. Boys' High at Fulton. Tech High off.

April 22.

Tech High at Boys' High. Marist at G. M. A. Commercial High at Fulton High. University school off.

The second half is an exact duplicate of the first half except the visiting teams in the first half will play on their own diamonds in the second period. The games will be played every Tuesday and Friday.

TEX SPEAKS ON BIG BOUT ON APRIL 9

New York, March 30.—The place, date and all details of the Dempsey-Carpentier heavyweight championship bout will be announced in this city on Saturday, April 9. This statement was officially made by Promoter Tex Rickard here today.

Rickard said that while he was not prepared to designate the site of the contest at this time he had finally decided to hold the match in the United States and that all offers from points outside of this country had been carefully considered and rejected.

While the date of the contest has been semi-officially fixed for Saturday, July 2, the place and the general conditions to govern the bout have never been authoritatively stated.

HY MYERS WINS RAISE FROM DODGER CLUB

New York, arch 30.—"Hy" Hyers, outfielder, has agreed to terms offered by the Brooklyn National baseball club and will join the team next week, messages from the training camp in New Orleans today reported. Myers, who has been a hold-out, was given a salary increase and promised a bonus of $1-000 of the team finishes first, second or third in the present race.

American producers of motion pictures are turning out sufficient films every twelve months to provide the earth with a double girdle of celluloid.

BARONS DEFEAT ALABAMA

University of Alabama, March 30. (Special.)—Molesworth's Birmingham Barons defeated the University of Alabama tossers this afternoon. Although the Crimsons lost by the rather heavy margin of 7 to 2, they gave Moley the scare of his life. For up to the sixth inning they had held the score to 1-to-1 and seemed to have the victory in their clutches.

The teams were running neck-and-neck when, in the seventh inning by a combination of hits and errors and wild pitches, three runs were pulled over on the collegians. In the ninth inning Clarke landed a two-bagger and went to third on an error that put Taylor on first and they were both brought in by a three-bagger from Kayne, Kayne scoring on a hit by Morrison. The Barons' hits seemed to come in groups and were therefore more effective than those of the Crimsons, which were rather scattered.

G. I. A. A. Baseball Season Gets Under Way This Week

The G. I. A. A. baseball season will get under way Friday. Last year Gordon Institute, of Barnesville, won the championship and the cadets will make a strong bid to repeat this year. All the other teams have reported that they have very strong diamond squads and a hot race is expected.

Riverside will take on Gordon in Gainesville tomorrow. These two teams are among the best in the league and a hot battle is expected. Peace will occupy the mound for Riverside, while either Daniel or Brewster will do the twirling for Gordon. All three men are vets of last season.

G. M. C. will meet Lanier High in Milledgeville. The Lenier team dropped a practice game to Monroe last Saturday by a very lop-sided score, so G. M. C. is expected to emerge the victors tomorrow. Holland or Walker will do the pitching for G. M. C. Both men are capable twirlers.

Tech High will invade Milledgeville for a game with G. M. C. Saturday. The advance dope points to a close game.

Boys' High was scheduled to meet Lanier High in Macon Saturday, but on account of Yale training in the central city the game has been postponed until a later date; most probably May 6.

Monroe will play Riverside in Monroe Saturday. Coach Satterfield has turned out a splendid baseball team at the Monroe school.

North and South Golf Title Again Won by Mrs. Hurd

Pinehurst, N. C., March 30.—Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd of the Westmoreland club, Pittsburgh, retained her title as North and South champion today by defeating Mrs. F. C. Letts, Jr., of the Onwentsia club, Chicago, 4 to 3, in the final round of the annual tournament.

Mrs. Letts, the present western champion, played a strong game for the first nine holes, being only one down at the turn. Coming in, however, Mrs. Hurd sank two approaches for wins and established a lead which Mrs. Letts was unable to overcome. Miss Glenna Collatt, of the Rhode Island Country club, won the consolation division, defeating Mrs. Eleanor E. Harwood, of the Olympia Field club, Chicago, 2 up.

BAY STATE CHAMP AFTER BRITISH TITLE

Boston, March 30.—Fred J. Wright, of Watertown, state amateur champion, will sail for England late next month to participate in the British amateur and open golf tournaments in May. He announced today that he had accepted an invitation to join the United States golf team, telegraphed him by Captain W. C. Fownes, of Pittsburg.

Wright said he understood F. C. Newton, of Lowell, who came east from California recently, also would play in the English events. Newton, before going to Pinehurst, N. C., several weeks ago, said he expected to enter the British tournaments if P. W. Whittemore, of Pinehurst, formerly a Massachusetts player, would accompany him. Both Newton and Whittemore are understood to be at the North Carolina resort now.

Clemson Tigers Here to Tackle Petrels and Yellow Jackets; Splendid Battles Are Promised

BY WALLACE GEORGE.

Fifteen strong the Clemson Tigers come to town today for a three days' stay and this afternoon tackle the strong Oglethorpe nine on the Ponce de Leon diamond. The game is called for 3:00 o'clock sharp and if it is anything like that Georgia-Oglethorpe scrap of Tuesday it will certainly be worth the price of admission.

The Clemson nine dropped a brace of scraps to the Red and Black last week-end, the first one 2 to 1 and the second 10 to 2. It was their first test of the year and today should see them able to put up a much steadier front. The Petrels should be right, too, for Coach Anderson's boys clearly showed themselves able to play the game in Tuesday's contest. In the event that Big Turk attempts an iron man stunt and goes back to the mound this afternoon for the Petrels, the fans may look for a local victory, unless the Oglethorpe moundsman shows up with a sore arm.

Tackles Tech Friday.

Friday and Saturday the Clemson nine is billed to tackle the Georgia Tech ball crew and here again the Clemsonians will find all they can take care of. The first game is scheduled for 3:30 p. m. and the other 3:00, both of these being played on the Grant Field flats. Clemson hasn't won from the Jackets on the diamond in years and will probably throw all her forces behind Boozer, her star flinger, tomorrow to take the first of the series.

Boozer it was who pitched such a nice exhibition out on Grant Field last year when the Jackets won a 2 to 1 verdict on four scattered hits. Only last week the Red and Black from Athens went ten innings before they were able to squeeze out a 2 to 1 win of their own off his delivery. There's a are possibility that he will hurl today for the Tigers against the Petrels and try a come-back Saturday. It's more than likely, though, that the Clemson mentor will use him Friday rather than take any chances on two smashing defeats at the hands of the Tech nine.

Heavy Artillery Ready.

Coach Clay intends to let his heavy batting artillery cut loose full force again against Clemson and Boozer or anyone else who occupies the box for them will have a hard time of it. A pitcher who goes up against a line-up like Tech puts out to head the batting list certainly has his hands full of it. Morgan and Settle, two left-hand hitters lead off, Red Barron follows from the other side of the plate, then up comes Soc Ingram and Benny Webb from the portside again.

Five big hitters like these in a row, to say nothing of the other four who aren't a bit below par, are enough to wreck the ambitions of any college moundsman nine times out of ten and the talk of Tech having a championship team certainly is well based.

It was singular to note that out of the 20 hits the Georgia and Oglethorpe batsmen bagged in their battle Tuesday that not one ball was driven hard enough to cause an outfielder to back up. This offers a distinct contrast to the heavy slugging proclivities of the Jackets and while a hit is a hit in the grand old game, extra base smashes sure go a long way to break up the morale of the opposition.

Wild on Paths.

The wild base running of the Jackets is something else that is going to worry their opponents throughout the season. Coach Clay has six men on the team that could do the hundred in under 11 seconds and the way they get down to first certainly looks convincing. The bunting stunts of the Techsters looks good, too, and the Jacket coach has taught his men to place the ball in the precise and desired spot.

One bright thing in the Jacket work, though, is the brilliant way the hurlers are coming into form. The two-hit shut-out to open the season as accomplished by O'Leary against Cincinnati last Friday was indeed a neat exhibition. The work of Collins and Thompson has been improving right along, too. Captain Frank Asbury worked out with the varsity Wednesday afternoon for the first time since he turned his ankle a couple of weeks ago, taking things rather cautiously. His return will give the Jackets four steady and dependable flingers.

STATE SPEED KINGS TO RACE AT LAKEWOOD

Interest in the automobile races which will open the Lakewood park season Saturday, April 16, began to pick up along motor row Wednesday when Huff Dorward at the Piedmont hotel, representing the International Motor Contest association, received word from the contest board sanctioning the races, that permission would be given to add a non-professional event to the speed program.

Lakewood race officials plan to make this event a state championship race, open only to Georgia cars and drivers and the entrants will not be required to be registered with the International Motor Contest association, due to the fact that the race will be held before the professional program of races start and therefore before the official race sanction for the track is in affect.

Elimination trials to pick the six fastest cars to start, will probably be held, as the sanctioning board has specified that no more than six cars can start in the event. In case ten or more entries are received, the three-heat plan will probably be used, picking the first three cars to finish in the two qualifying heats to start in the final.

Requests for information and entry blanks for the state event have been received from Macon, Ga., for the entry of an Essex and a special built racing car from Montezuma, Ga. In Atlanta, the King agents have built up a King Eight for racing in addition to two Dodges, a Hupmobile, Chevrolet, Elgin and an Essex that have been cut down and rebuilt for speed in anticipation of the coming spring meeting.

Ten miles is the limit of distance placed by the contest board for the amateur event.

"Jitney" Autos Prove Vexatious Problem To Savannah Council

Savannah, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—The "jitney" autos are proving the big, vexatious question for council to settle just now in Savannah. The street car company is in the hands of a receiver, and was given some months ago the right to raise car fares to 7 cents—in order to reduce the losses. Jitney lines began operation upon the same streets on which the street cars operate more than a year ago when a strike of the motormen and conductors gave an opportune occasion for such inauguration of rival transportation. The car company complains that the jitneys are working only such streets as have car lines and are crippling the trolley receipts. Various shifts of regulations have been tried and it is now being discussed whether or not jitneys shall be operated only on streets which have no street car lines.

CRISP TO SUPPORT KITCHING AS LEADER

Americus, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—Congressman Charles R. Crisp, of the third Georgia district, who lives in Americus, today announced he would support Representative Claude Kitching, of North Carolina, for democratic floor leader in congress. Crisp, who is a son of former Speaker Charles F. Crisp, had been asked to offer for the house leader by many members of congress, and announced his declination to be a candidate only after giving the matter deep thought.

INSURANCE COMPANY FORCED TO PAY LOSS

Americus, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—In the case of C. C. Griffin versus the Aetna Fire Insurance company, a jury in the city court of Americus yesterday returned a verdict giving Griffin judgment for $2,500. The action was a suit brought to recover from the insurance company damages sustained by fire on a house owned by Mrs. Cara Ella Harris, and located in Lee county.

NEW YORK ASSEMBLY UNSEATS SOCIALIST

Albany, N. Y., March 30.—The state assembly, by a vote of 77 to 62, tonight declared vacant the seat of Assemblyman Henry Jager, socialist, of the fourteenth district, Kings county.

JOE DOWNEY TO OPPOSE MARTY BURKE

Joe Downey, of Columbus, Ohio, the youngest scion of the famous fighting Downeys, will be the opponent of Martin Burke, the famous New Orleans light heavyweight when he makes his long-heralded appearance in the Auditorium ring on the night of April 5.

Promoter Miller closed with Downey last night, putting him in the place of Bill Bailey. "I was afraid that Bailey wouldn't prove strong enough for Burke rignt at this time," explained Miller. "He has been out in Texas for some weeks and I dont' know what shape he's in—for unless Bill has somebody watching him carefully he's likely to cut up.

"But in Downey I have a man that will make any light heavyweight in the world step. You can count on that. He is a brother of Bryan Downey, the famous Ohio welterweight, and he's never been beaten yet, though he has met some of the best middles and light heavyweights in the business.

"His press clippings say that he is a glutton for punishment and kicks with either hand. He and Burke should make a great match. The freckled Pelican is a splendid boxer, but he'll have to do a lot of boxing to get the edge on this bird."

Miller is taking advantage of the opportunities offered in Young Stribling. He is going to show the Macon youngster in the semi-windup this time. His opponent will be Battling Michaud, also of New Orleans, a boy who has made a great reputation down there. "Michaud's record might indicate that I'm overmatching Stribling, but I have not seen anybody make the Kid extend himself and I believe he is right for any sort of company," says Miller.

Another ten-rounder will be between Fearless Ferns, Miller's popular lightweight, and Battling Brooks, a hard-hitting young warrior of the Hebrew persuasion, who has shown to advantage here on several occasions.

A four-rounder between Tim O'Dowd, who looks promising, and Young Horace, a novice who thinks he can go, will open the show.

Miller announces that he is making an effort to have a referee who is one of the foremost figures in the world of sport officiate in the windup match. He will endeavor to close negotiations with him in a few days.

CAMBRIDGE IS VICTOR IN OAR CLASSIC

London, March 30.—Cambridge vindicated the predictions of rowing experts and won the annual boat race with Oxford today over the Putney-Mortlake course of about 4 1-4 miles on the Thames in 19 minutes, 44 seconds. It was only after a desperate battle, in which it appeared to be either crew's race until near the finish, that the light blue won. So gruelling was the pace that F. B. Lothrop, of Harvard and Trinity, at No. 4 for Oxford, who was the sole American among the competing oarsmen, together with H. O Boret, the Cambridge bow, and D. I. Coates, No. 3 for Oxford, collapsed at the finish under the strain.

At the end of the first mile Cambridge was in the lead by a length and a quarter. In the next mile, however, Oxford more than made up up this handicap and at the two mile mark was leading by one-third of a length, after an exciting struggle.

Oxford Holds Lead.

Oxford maintained this lead in the succeeding mile of the race and even increased her advantage slightly, pulling out to a lead of a half a length when the third mile of the race had been completed.

At the end of four miles Cambridge had taken the lead by a quarter of a length.

Cambridge went over the finish line a length in the lead.

The offical time of the winner was 19 minutes, 44 seconds.

Weather Is Ideal.

The weather for the race was ideal, the afternoon being bright and the water smooth, fanned only by a gentle southwest wind. The breeze was sufficient, however, to give a slight advantage for the first third of the race to the crew rowing on the Surrey side. Oxford won the toss and chose the Surry position.

An enormous crowd witnessed the event. The Prince of Wales, the Duke of York and Prince Henry were on the umpire's boat.

The race started at 5:14 o'clock. Cambridge at the beginning was doing 36 strokes to the minute and Oxford 35. The Cambridge crew almost took a lead of half a length.

Black Crackers Win Last Game of Series From Giants, 1-0

The Atlanta Black Crackers defeated Rube Foster's American Giants yesterday afternoon at Ponce de Leon, by the score of 1 to 0. The game was a beautiful pitchers' battle between two southpaws, Streeter for Atlanta and Brown for the Giants.

Atlanta put across the only counter of the game in the seventh inning, when Reid was hit by a pitched ball. O'Neil fouled out to the catcher, but Maddox, the one-arm wonder, laid down a perfect sacrifice and Reid reached second. Davis then pasted one of Brown's fast ones to center for two bags, and Reid counted. Davis was out trying to stretch his hit into a triple. Grant at first base played the best game for the Giants. Cox also played a great game for the Crackers.

Score by innings:		R.	H.	E.
Giants	000 000 000—	0	4	1
Atlanta	000 001 00x—	1	1	2

Batteries—Brown and Brown, Dixon; Streeter and O'Neil. Umpires—Addison and Lee.

HOREMANS BREAKS TWO WORLD RECORDS

New York, March 30.—Edouard Horemans, Belgian billiardist, has shattered two world's records at 18.1 balk line in a match game with Albert Cutler, the eastern champion.

A new high run record in a single block of 150 was set by the Belgian, whose record-breaking high average was 57 1-7. The previous record for high run in competition at 18.1 balk line, 140, was established in 1897 by Frank Ives. In the same match, played with the elder Jake Shaefer, Ives established the previous high average at 31 1-4.

What Uncle Sam Says About the Price of Cement

From "Government Control Over Prices," U. S. War Industries Board Price Bulletin No. 3, page 336

~~too many practical administrative difficulties to jus-~~ the adoption of this policy. The prices fixed in 1917 yielded the cement industry as a whole 12 per cent on its investment, and of course individual mills reaped a much higher rate, but subsequent price fixing reduced this margin to 6 per cent merely by maintaining the status quo in the face of advancing costs. The general supply of cement was so ample, as compared with needs, that the Fuel Administration on April 13, 1918, reduced the fuel allotment of the cement mills to 75 per cent of normal on the theory that part of the fuel used in the cement industry could be better employed in other war industries. There was consequently no occasion for stimulating cement production by high prices, and the lowering of the margin of profit for the purpose of curtailing production was entirely justified. Cement prices rose in the open market less than any other basic building material during the war, and the reason for price fixing in the field of cement is to be found in the desire of the Government to prevent the stimulation of prices which its own large demand would normally have caused in certain congested building areas.
~~Common brick. The markets for common brick are confined~~

The following figures from U. S. Government Bulletins show average selling prices f. o. b. cars manufacturers mills, exclusive of sacks.

During the final period of Government control over prices, which ended December 31, 1918, the average factory price of portland cement as fixed by the U. S. War Industries Board was $1.78 per barrel. (See page 800 U. S. War Industries Board Price Bulletin No. 3.)

United States Geological Survey Press Bulletin No. 466 shows the average factory prices of portland cement for 1919 and 1920 were $1.71 and $2.01 per barrel respectively.

The largest single factor of cost in the production of portland cement is fuel.

The United States cement industry produced in 1920, 100,000,000 barrels of portland cement (several million barrels in excess of shipments—because of lack of cars), in the manufacture of which the equivalent of 10,000,000 tons of coal or 37,000,000 barrels of fuel oil were consumed. Compare your own 1920 and 1918 fuel bills!

The freight rate advances which occurred in 1919 and 1920 are also necessarily reflected in manufacturing costs, thus affecting factory prices.

Large wage advances to meet increased living costs have also been made to nearly 40,000 people employed in the cement industry.

Increases in these items of cost alone greatly exceed the moderate advance of 13 per cent in the 1920 average factory price over the price fixed by the Government in 1918 after its investigation of manufacturing costs.

Similar conditions undoubtedly hold in other building material industries. Since the 1920 season closed, factory prices of portland cement and other basic building materials have made very substantial declines. Producers' selling prices are in line with present manufacturing costs.

THE CONSTITUTION'S FINANCIAL NEWS AND REVIEWS

Shorts Have Big Day As Industrials Slump

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, March 30.—As a result of the sudden activity that developed in the rails late yesterday, many Wall street people expected the upward price movement in those shares to continue. But it did not. There was no new buying power in the market at the opening this morning. This encouraged traders to sell this and that stock short. In brief, it was generally believed today that yesterday's sudden and sharp upward movement in the rails was hand-made to permit profit-taking in the industrials.

International Harvester afforded the largest profits today to those who sold the industrials short. That stock, which closed at 95½ yesterday, declined steadily today until 85 was reached. That price compares with 100½, the high for 1921, and 88, the low level touched in last year's general decline in the stock market. Despite today's official denial that the company was in the money market for a loan, it was learned that there is a large floating debt in the form of bank loans, that production is running well below 50 per cent of output, that there is a chance of further drastic curtailment unless orders from the farmers pick up. Undoubtedly this company, like many others, expecting last year's record-breaking business to continue, was loaded with heavy inventories when buying began to fall off.

As an indication of what the farmers are doing in the way of buying, today, General Motors announced a cut of 10 per cent in the prices of all power implements and reduction of 20 per cent in tractors.

Today's Iron Age states editorially that increased operation of automobile plants is mainly the cause of the betterment in the steel situation. It is then added: "Aside from Ford, the motor industry is running about 25 per cent of capacity. The effect on the steel industry as a whole is being overrated in current news. All of the motors turned out in 1920 consumed only 5 per cent of the year's steel output."

Beyond question, the falling off in the output of the steel, harvester and other industries accounts largely for the continued strength in foreign exchange. With smaller exports there has been a let-up in the pressure of foreign bills on the market. Today sterling made a new high record for this movement, touching the highest level since July 13 last. Practically all foreign exchange was strong today.

Another shipment of gold was received. Lazard, Freres & Co. added $2,400,000 to the $27,600,000 previously received on this movement from France. This steady inflow of the yellow metal is bound to be felt sooner or later in the rates for call and time money.

According to information obtainable today in reliable quarters earnings of the Central Leather company for the March quarter to be published around the middle of April will show a deficit that will wipe out practically all of the company's remaining $4,000,000 profit and less surplus. At the close of 1919 this surplus amounted to $30,500,000. But despite the poor showing for the March quarter of 1921 those in close touch with the company's affairs are of the belief that the leather industry has about finished its readjustment and is ready for the upward turn.

One interesting bit of gossip picked up today was the information that Jesse Livermore's stock ticket in the Broadway house he has traded in has just been placed in commission. When this large trader is in the market he shuts himself up in a room by himself from 10 to 3 with only a stock ticker as a guide. Wall street is watching to see which side of the market he will take after his return from the south. He has been known to make and change markets. Today the best stock market opinion obtainable in Wall street is to buy stocks on weak spots, rather than follow the new time-honored policy of selling on the bugles.

Bell telephone and Pennsylvania, a subsidiary of American Telephone and Telegraph, which yesterday unexpectedly increased its annual dividend rate from 8 per cent to 9 announced today that a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent had been declared against the old rate of 1½ per cent. As American Telephone and Telegraph is merely a holding company paying its dividend from the dividends received from subsidiary corporations, the telephone dividend increases are likely to be be announced to make safe the higher rate just announced by the interstate commerce commission today at Washington it appears that the telephone companies had a good year with earnings still on the increase.

For December sixty-four companies reported gross earnings of $42,947,000 with operating income of $7,428,000 a gain of $680,000. For the twelve months gross amounting to $486,000,006 showed an increase of $77 with operating income of of $81 higher by $4,358,000.

Sinclair consolidated made public today a very good statement for the fiscal year ended December 31, 1920. Gross amounting to $131,000,000 increased $76. The surplus after allowing for depreciation, federal taxes and the dividend on the prefered shares was equal to $4.74 on the 3,909,944 shares of no par value outstanding compared with the $2.55 earned on the 3,757,593 shares outstanding the close of 1919.

From the figures given out by the government today, however, it appears that the outlook so far for the oil companies for 1921 is not as promising as it might be. For the month of February consumption of both domestic and imported petroleum was 38,203,000 barrels, a drop of 10,172,000 barrels compared with January. And while consumption was thus falling off the gross stocks of domestic crude oil increased 4,957,000 barrels over January, with total imports from Mexico for the two months of 1921 up to 24,576,000 barrels against 11,233,000 for the same period of 1920.

Sugar.

New York, March 30.—The local market for raw sugar was more active today, and while prices were unchanged for Cubas, uncontrolled sugars seemed to be offered more freely and in some instances at lower levels. There were sales of 13,400 bags of San Domingos, about 25,000 bags of Porto Ricos, and 2,450 bags of Philippine Islands at 6.27 for centrifugal and 10,500 bags of Philippine Island at 6.15 for centrifugal.

There were no changes in refined prices, which are quoted at 8.25 for fine granulated, but the demand was said to be less active.

In futures prices were higher for near positions, although later deliveries were lower under scattered trade selling, prompted by theincreased offerings in the spot market. Closing prices were 3 joints higher to 6 net lower. March closed at 5.11; May at 5.20; July at 5.29 and September at 5.31.

HOPEFUL FEELING SOON DISPELLED

Extensive Selling of Special Issues at Declines Unsettles Entire Stock List.

New York, March 30.—The hopeful feeling created yesterday by the increased American Telephone dividend rate and signs of greater industrial activity were dispelled today, extensive selling of special issues at net reactions of 2 to 10 points unsettling the general list.

Shares under greatest pressure comprised those of companies which rumor associates with financing or dividend revision. Chief among these were International Harvester, American Linseed, International Paper and Mexican Petroleum.

Sentiment was also adversely influenced by the circumstances attending the offering of $47,000,000 of New York city short term issues. Bids aggregated little more than half the amount authorized and these were mostly at 6 per cent or higher, a figure regarded as excessive by the municipal authorities.

Aside from the motor industry, weekly reviews of the iron and steel trade failed to sustain the belief that any pronounced increase of demand for fabricated products is underway. Consumers, according to latest accounts, continue to hold aloof in expectation of lower prices and freight rate reductions.

Average quotations were at lowest levels in the last half hour, the reaction being accelerated by an unexpected rise in call money from 6 1-2 to 7 per cent. This hardening of rates was attributed to withdrawal of funds required to meet payments maturing tomorrow, the end of the year's first quarter.

Sales amounted to 665,000 shares.

The foreign exchange market was unusually active, decided strength being shown by British and Italian rates. French, Dutch, Swiss, Swedish and Danish remittances also hardened.

Liberty issues closed at fractional gains and Paris sixes strengthened, Pennsylvania 6 1-2 made a new low at 96 and other prominent bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $10,375,000.

A BANK CATECHISM

BY STUART H. PATTERSON

Comptroller, Guaranty Trust Company of New York

Endorsed by the Educational Committee of the Georgia Banker's Association.

Q. Has a bank any other functions besides receiving money on deposit and paying checks drawn against it?

A. Yes. One of the principal functions of a bank is in loaning out its funds to facilitate business operations. A bank also performs many other functions, such as collecting drafts and checks for its customers and correspondents in other cities, without which facilities it would be almost impossible to conduct business. It also supplies the machinery for collecting the money for our vast export business, and without the banks' help it would be exceedingly difficult for the farmer or the manufacturer to collect his money for the crops or products shipped to foreign countries.

Q. How is this export business handled?

A. The foreign exchange business is complicated and presents many phases, but possibly the reimbursement for a shipment of cotton from the United States to England will illustrate the transaction most simply. A cotton spinner in England, desiring to buy cotton in this country, first goes to a local cotton broker or import merchant in Liverpool and informs him of his special requirements. This broker gets in touch with exporters in this country by cable, secures a firm offer at a fixed price and submits it to the manufacturer. If they agree, the purchase is confirmed and the manufacturer then goes to his bank in Liverpool or London and establishes a credit for such amount as he estimates will be sufficient to cover the purchase he is about to make. As a rule the reimbursement is 60 days' sight drafts on English banks, such drafts being drawn in pounds sterling, which is the English currency.

The exporter or shipper of cotton in the United States must secure United States currency for such shipment so that settlement can be made with the farmer who could not use the English currency. The exporter therefore sells the 60-day English drafts to some bank in New York, New Orleans, Boston or Philadelphia, or he may sell to a local bank and the local bank sell to one of the banks in the larger cities.

So far the transaction is comparatively simple, but now come the phases which require expert knowledge, foresight and sound judgment. These drafts carry no interest and the sixty or ninety days they have to run only begins from the date they are accepted by the English bank, so that the American bank when purchasing them must take into consideration the time the drafts will be in transit before acceptance, as well as the time to run after that date in order to collect interest during the time it has the money invested. It must also estimate what the exchange rate between English and United States currency will be at the maturity, so that the English money, when converted into dollars, will be sufficient to repay the original dollars invested as well as the interest thereon. While these are the principles on which the transactions are based, they are much more simple in actual practice, as the drafts are usually sold in London by the American banks as soon as they have been accepted or when exchange or discount rates are favorable.

Tho farmer does not know or care anything about all this intricate figuring and calculating, as he simply sells his cotton at so much per pound, but this must be gone through with and the machinery must be there to do it, or he could not get his money without great delay.

Q. Why could not the local banks send the drafts direct to the English banks without making use of the banks in the larger cities?

A. There are a number of reasons why the local banks are unable to do this, the chief of which are as follows:

(a) The local banks have not sufficient capital and deposits to await the maturity of any considerable amount of drafts, or even the time necessary to send them to Europe for acceptance, so it is to their advantage, as well as to that of the cotton grower, to handle a greater amount of drafts and turn them over quickly at a moderate profit. Even the largest banks in the United States have not sufficient resources to hold all of these drafts until maturity, and therefore the banks sell or discount such drafts in Europe at every favorable opportunity, so that they can be in a position to take care of the constantly increasing demands on them by the producers of raw materials in this country.

(b) These drafts are drawn by many people on a great many banks, and the credit and standing of the drawers, the drawees and foreign banks must be carefully looked into and watched, in order to prevent loss through fraud or failures. This requires a credit department and extensive system of credit reports which a small bank could not support.

(c) It requires the undivided attention of a highly trained expert to deal successfully in foreign exchange, and a small or even a moderate size bank could hardly afford to pay for the services of such a man.

GRAIN UNDERGOES SEVERE SETBACK

Liquidation on Part of Rural Holders of Corn Drives Down Price.

Chicago, March 30.—Grain underwent a severe setback in price today largely as a result of liquidation on the part of rural holders of corn. Wheat closed heavy 3 to 5 1-4c net lower with May $1.39 3-4 to $1.40 and July $1.21 to $1.21 1-4. Corn lost 2 1-8@2 1-4 to 2-3-4c, and oats 1 1-4@1 3-8 to 1 5-8c. Provisions gained 5c to 50c.

Likelihood that no harm to the growing wheat crop had been done by recent unseasonable weather made by the wheat market open to the influence of unusual depression in the corn trade. Some reports, indeed, were to the effect that lower temperatures had been a benefit instead of a detriment to wheat, because too rapid growth had been given a needed check. Bearish sentiment was also emphasized owing to the nearly complete absence of new export business. The lack of confidence on the buying side became especially apparent in the last hour when the corn market was under heavy selling pressure. It could scarcely be said that wheat offerings were of larger volume, but no support developed, and values crumbled away.

All deliveries of corn and oats dropped to the lowest prices yet for the present crop. No industries were in the market as buyers of corn, and offerings to arrive had shown a material increase. Persistent selling of small lots by houses with country connections was a feature.

Packers buying at the last rallied the provision market from declines due to the weakness of grain.

Chicago, March 30.—Cash: Pork, nominal; lard, 11.00. Ribs, 10.50@11.25.

Coffee.

New York, March 30.—Reports of a very sharp advance in Brazilian milreis quotations were followed by increased activity and a big jump in prices for coffee futures here at the opening today. Rio exchange rates were easy, but the strength in the Rio and Santos markets were regarded as tending to confirm recent reports of buying by the Brazilian government to stabilize prices, and the local opening was 30 to 38 points higher. This carried May up to 6.60 and July 6.95, or just about 150 points above the recent low records. A disposition to take profits at this level was prompted by later reports of irregularity in Brazil and a good part of the advance was lost, May selling off to 6.28 and July to 6.63, in the late trading. The general market closed at a net advance of 6 to 21 points. March, 6.18; May, 6.28; July, 6.65; September, 7.32; October, 7.14; December, 7.36; January, 7.54.

Spot coffee, firmer; Rio 7s, 6½@6⅝; Santos 4s, 9½@10. A sale of Santos 4s was reported in the cost and freight market at 11½c. London credits, equal to about 9.45 American credits. The lowest offer of 4s was at 9.10, American credits. No fresh Rio offers were received.

The official cable reported an advance of 100 reis in the dollar buying rate with a decline of 3-16d in Rio exchange on London. Rio quotations showed an advance of about 1,000 to 1,200 reis. The early cable quoted Santos 50 to 150 reis higher, this being followed by a further advance of 675 to 1,050 reis. Later Santos was 50 reis higher to 375 reis lower and there were rumors of a further decline of ¼ pence in Rio exchange on London. Brazilian port receipts, 33,000; Jundiahy, 18,000.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE.

New York, March 30.—(Special.)—Following were the ruling prices on the American Cotton and Grain Exchange, Inc., today:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Last.	Prev. Close.

Dec.	12.50	13.67	13.55	13.54	13.48

New York, March 30.—A moderate forenoon advance was followed by reactions in the cotton market today, with May selling off from 12.48 to 12.27 and closing at 12.34, compared with 12.22, the clse of the previous day. The general market closed quiet at a net advance of 6 to 12 points.

First prices were 5 to 16 points higher owing to renewed firmness in Liverpool, Wall street and local buying. The south was a considerable seller, and there were reactions right after the call, but offerings seemed to be readily absorbed and active positions sold about 22 to 26 points net higher late in the morning, with July touching 12.96 and October 13.43. An idea that the pending conference between the war finance corporation and southern bankers might result in the formulation of more definite plans for financing exports doubtless contributed to the advance. Private cables reporting that the improvement in Manchester had been maintained, and the failure of the English markets to show any special weakness because of the threatened coal strike, were also encouraging features. Demand did not broaden materially, however, while there was further scattered southern hedge-selling during the early afternoon, and some liquidation by early buyers. This eased off July to 12.73 and October to 13.22, or with two or three points of last night's closing figures. Later fluctuations were irregular, with the close showing rallies of 6 and 7 points from the lowest. Berlin advices, indicating that the communist uprisings were subsiding, probably helped the undertone of the market, but according to local brokers, business was restricted by the uncertainties of the export outlook generally, and a disposition to wait for British labor developments. The weekly report of the weather bureau indicated a good progress with new crop preparations. Exports today 9,231, making 3,738,265 so far this season. Port receipts 17,368. United States port stocks 1,385,798.

NEW YORK SPOTS.

New York, March 30.—Cotton, spot quiet; middling 12.25.

ADVANCES PERSIST IN NEW ORLEANS MART

New Orleans, March 30.—Advances persisted in the cotton market today, but they were narrow and not well maintained, especially during the second half of the session. Better cables than expected, and a favorable view of the announcement by the war finance corporation that it would hold a conference with southern bankers regarding the financing of cotton exports, were back of the buying, which set in on the opening, and at one time had prices 19 to 22 points higher than the close of yesterday, with May up to 12.02. During the second half the session there was a gradual sag under the influence of the favorable weekly crop and weather reports from the government, and at the lowest the active months were 1 point over to 2 points under the final prices of yesterday, with May down to 11.81. On the close the tone was stronger, and last prices showed net gains on the day of seven to ten points.

According to the government returns, planting has become general in the southern portions of the belt.

Some little surprise was caused by the statement that planting had extended as far north in South Carolina as the central counties. The trade expected an unfavorable report, owing to recent weather conditions, but the review contained no really adverse comment on the crop, and it was against values, in a mild way, from mid-session to the close.

SPOTS IN NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, March 30.—Spot cotton steady and unchanged. Sales on the spot, 820 bales; to arrive 56. Low middling 13.25. Receipts 3,932; stock 408,073.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, March 30.—(Special.)—A general better feeling is imbedding itself throughout the trade generally, and though most everyone is satisfied to stand by and await developments all around. One will admit that the market in the past three weeks has withstood violent bear attacks and has developed a firmer undertone, a very encouraging feature. The south still complains of a surplus of cotton, but we believe present prices discount the stocks, and the future trend of the market will be almost wholly with the growing crop. A short crop is expected, and farmers throughout the entire belt are determined to curtail their production, in fact it is a case of necessity with many of them as credit and ready cash are very scarce this season.

HUBBARD BROTHERS & CO.

New Orleans, March 30.—(Special.)—Liverpool cabled Manchester reports improved tone maintained. Fluctuations raw cotton disconcerting but larger cloth inquiry from India at fair rates. Some manuacturers restarting looms. Yarns, steady; irregular business.

In England spinners have been running on half time since December 15 or for over three months, which is an unusually long period for so great a curtailment in mill production. Now that trade seems to be reviving in Manchester an early modification of the present half time is not at all unlikely.

Washington's weekly weather and crop summary dwelt mainly upon progress in planting, which is reported as becoming general in southern portions of the belt, although little has been planted in Texas, this work extending northward to the central counties of South Carolina. Excellent progress was reported from Georgia.

Commenting on climatic conditions in the cotton region the past week a private report from Memphis reads last half of week generally unfavorable, heavy rains Arkansas eastward followed by general cold wave and a moderate freeze in northern half of the central and western belts, cold temperatures far enough south slightly retard early planting in portions of Texas. General preparations of ground in central belt reported in good condition.

COLD WAVE LOSS TO FRUITS NOT THOUGHT SEVERE

Washington, March 30.—With the passing today of the cold wave which came on the heels of Easter, officials of the department of agriculture tonight expressed the belief that the fruit crop surplus of the country as a whole had not been materially affected, despite reports from various sections of heavy damage. First reports in such cases, they said, usually are "hysterical," for those suffering loss are inclined to judge conditions generally by the situation in their own districts.

It was pointed out that no reports had been received of damage to fruit crops in New England, New York state, Michigan, the Great Lakes region, the Pacific coast or the extreme south. The principal apple sections affected, officials said, appeared to be those of the Ozark mountains and the Cumberland and Shenandoah valleys.

At the weather bureau it was said tonight that the weather in the east and middle west, over which the cold wave spread Monday, would be warmer with probable rains.

Uncover Free Gold.

Fifteen inches of quartz, studded with free gold, has been uncovered in the face of the south drift in the Crackerjack lease, in the Florence goldfield mine, at Goldfield, Nev. Superintendent R. C. McCarthy, who telegraphed this important news to the New York office of the company, reported that the best showings were overhead and that raising would begin immediately.

The No. 1 raise in the new east vein, where ore worth $1,120 a ton was recently reported, continues to show ore, but as the values are erratic, it will require more work to determine the amount and value of this discovery.

"Three Wise Fools."

(At the Atlanta Theater.)

Coming to the Atlanta theater tonight (Thursday) and for the balance of the week, with matinee Saturday, will be the much-heralded original company of "Three Wise Fools," Austin Strong's sparkling comedy gem, about which so much has been written in the magazines of the country during and since its year's run at the Criterion theater on Broadway. Local theater-lovers will see this play, said by critics who know to be the best-acted comedy in years, exactly as it was presented in New York, Chicago and the other theatrical centers of the east. Claude Gillingwater, Harry Leighton, Howard Gould and the other members of the original cast are, in no small measure, responsible for the great success enjoyed by this unusual play.

The scenes of "Three Wise Fools" are laid in New York City, in that quaint part of town known as the Washington square district. But not the Washington square of modern days with its short-haired women and artistically-inclined anarchists who live in red and green garrets. The Washington square of "Three Wise Fools" is the old and aristocratic quarter yet uninvaded by the cubists and futurists.

There in undisturbed peace live the three wise fools and their servants. Nothing is allowed to annoy them. All is harmonious—and deadly monotonous.

Suddenly chaos replaces order. What cataclysm occurs, and why, must not be divulged. Suffice to say that there are plenty of thrills, heart throbs and laughter to please the most blase habitue of the theater.

Robert B. Mantell.

(Coming to the Atlanta.)

The power of Robert B. Mantell, coming to the Atlanta next week, to alter his personality completely and identify himself intimately with the particular character he is portraying, has, for many years, been the marvel of play-goers, and he carries this power, it is said, into his new embodiment of Jaques in "As You Like It," to be seen in Atlanta for the first time at his Wednesday matinee. Nearly all actors, even the greatest, have their little mannerisms which they cannot discard and which give a "family likeness" to everything they are doing. Mr. Mantell is one of the few exceptions recorded in stage history. When he is playing Richelieu, he is the cardinal through and through, apparently mentally as well as physically. Mantell is lost sight of completely. And so it is with Lear, Shylock, Macbeth, Jaques, and the rest.

Mr. Mantell's week opens with "Richelieu," to be followed by "Hamlet," Tuesday night; "As You Like It," Wednesday afternoon; "Julius Caesar," Wednesday night; "King Lear," Thursday night; "Macbeth," Friday night; "The Merchant of Venice," Saturday afternoon, and "Richard III," Saturday night. The seat sale opens tomorrow (Friday) morning.

"The Devil."

(At the Howard.)

"The Devil"—the only authentic production with George Arliss himself playing the role he made famous on two continents—begins today its limited run of three days only at the Howard theater. Many loge reservations have been made at the Howard by Atlantans who are eagerly anticipating their first view of the celebrated picture, and indications point to a large attendnace during Thursdy, Friday and Saturday.

"The Devil" is said to be one of the most elaborate screen productions of the year.

Loew Vaudeville.

(At the Grand.)

The Five Virginia Belles, one of the most gorgeously mounted musical productions on the Loew circuit, is the attraction heading a great bill of vaudeville and pictures at Loew's Grand for the last half of the week.

The Belles appear in picturesque colonial costume and their repertoire includes many varied numbers on the piano, violin, harp and other instruments. Four other feature acts are on the program.

Mildred Harris.

(At the Criterion.)

That mothher love may triumph, even when science has failed, is the story told in "The Woman in His House," the attraction this week at the Criterion theater. It deals with the sacrifice and devotion which went to the cure of a child whom science had said would always be a hopeless cripple. An all-star cast appears in the picture, headed by Mildred Harris, who is splendid in a most difficult role. In addition to the usual fine musical program by the Criterion orchestra, George McManne, a boy soprano, is being featured this week.

"What Happened to Rosa."

(At the Forsyth.)

The distance between the carefree, romantic days of old Spain, and the drudging, dragging hours of the basement shop girl lies between the characters of Mayme Ladd and Rosa Alvaro, both of which are portrayed by Mabel Normand in "What Happened to Rosa," which comes to the Forsyth theater for three days, commencing today.

In addition of this skilful bit of character portrayal is the irrepressible Normand humor that puts a laugh into every foot of the film.

"What's a Wife Worth?"

(At the Rialto.)

William Christy Cabanne's big special, "What's a Wife Worth?" is one of the strongest dramas of the season. The picture is the very latest thing that this famous director has contributed to the silent drama, and is considered one of the best productions of the year.

Ruth Renick, who has headed some of the largest casts this season, plays the stellar role, and is winning new admirers by her clever work in the part of the wife.

WILL PLAN RELIEF FOR IRISH PEOPLE AT DINNER TONIGHT

The Atlanta branch of the American committee for relief in Ireland will hold an informal dinner at 6:30 o'clock tonight in the Ansley hotel, at which it is expected that more than 125 persons will be present. Mayor Key and Rabbi Marx have been invited to speak, and George McNamee, the Irish boy soprano, will sing.

Endorsement of the Irish relief drive has been given by President Harding and Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, and the national drive for $10,250,000 is well under way. Present indications point to a large oversubscription of the quota, according to Dr. F. J. McCarthy, southern organizer of the committee. Florida, Louisiana and North and South Carolina have already passed their quotas, he said, and it is probable that Georgia has also oversubscribed. Atlanta's quota of $7,500, he said, will be oversubscribed by about $5,000, judging from the early responses, and the national sum raised for Irish relief may reach $20,000,000.

The New Jersey Red Cross donated $1,000 for Irish relief, Mr. McCarthy said, and the Atlanta chapter will be asked to follow this example.

An entertainment for the benefit of the fund for relief in Ireland will be held April 11 at the Auditorium, and a dance will be arranged at an early date for the same purpose.

Congregation Adopts Resolutions on Death Of Dr. S. Y. Jameson

Unanimous adoption of resolutions on the death of Rev. Dr. S. Y. Jameson, the first pastor of the West End Baptist church and later president of Mercer university, marked a meeting of the congregation of the West End Baptist church last Sunday. He was pastor of the church from 1888 until 1900, during which time the church grew from a few organizers to a large congregation, with power and influence. After resigning the pastorate, he was prominent in missionary and educational work in Georgia, heading Mercer university and later being the leader of enlistment work for the Baptist institutions.

Haase Stakes Reputation On "Three Wise Fools"

Claude Gillingwater and Helen Menkes in "Three Wise Fools."

If the people of Atlanta do not approve of "Three Wise Fools," the comedy which opens a short engagement of four performances at the Atlanta theater tonight, they the privileged to wreak all manner of verbal violence on Lewis Haase, manager of the playhouse, because he comes right out in the open and recommends it, lock, stock and barrel.

It may not sound so unusual for a manager to openly assert that something he has at his house is bound to please, but when he is willing to stake his managerial dignity and prestige upon the outcome of his promise, his assertion deserves attention. He has been here four years and this is the first time he has opened up and defied Atlanta to be disappointed.

In the first place, sets forth Mr. Haase, he saw the play five times in New York. A bit unusual, you'll grant, for one who has dabbled with theatricals for more years than he would care to confess. There must be something to it. Another reason for his prediction is that the cast which lured him to a quintet of performances is the cast that comes to Atlanta Thursday night.

Play Is Exceptional.

Mr. Hasse, after enthusing rather elaborately over the cast for some minutes, declared that the play itself is exceptional. He said this without even suggesting quotation of "the play's the thing." Sparkling dialogue, said he, combined with an attention to detail in characterization, has made "Three Wise Fools" the comedy of the past year or so. John Golden, who has given the the theater attending nation "Lightnin,'" "Turn to the Right," and others as well known, is the producer of "Three Wise Fools," and has been universally commended for picking a winner. This didn't come from Mr. Haase.

The story is of three old bachelors, who take it upon themselves to raise the child of a fourth, who has died, and who had lived their routine with them for years until he was ostracized forever upon taking unto himself a wife. The old men expect a young boy as their ward, but get a most attractive young girl instead. They each advance their theories of raising the lass, differing widely on the modus raisandi. So deftly does she handle them that they each think their mode is succeeding, when she really is proceeding to convert the trio from grouches to human beings. There is a love story entwined in the play and it fixes things so the final curtain may descend most satisfyingly, if too early.

Brings Original Cast.

The recent successes of Mr. Golden, and the fact that he is comparatively young in the producing game, have evidently fade him careful in maintenance of his reputation, since he has sent no "number two" company on the road, and brings to Atlanta the same cast which had a straight run of ten months at the Criterion theater in New York before visiting Chicago, and subsequently the Pacific coast.

The critics have praised the show with unanimity, and have particularly directed their laudatory comment to Helen Menken, the heroine of the piece, and Claude Gillingwater, who plays the especially grouchy old bachelor. The rest of the cast, too, comes the verdict, is so finely adapted to the requirements made of it that the audience inevitably feels that it has seen a cast of artists, complete in every detail.

Urge Commissions In Reserve Corp For Able Pastors

Army chaplains of the fourth corps area held a two-day conference at Fort McPherson, which ended yesterday. The meetings were well attended, and brought out some interesting discussions regarding the status and the policy of army chaplains.

That civilian ministers be commissioned in the reserve corps, in sufficient numbers to be prepared for any emergency and in rangs equal to their success in civil life, was one of the important resolutions adopted by the fourth corps chaplains. It was recommended that the reserve chaplains be distributed in denomination on the same basis as applies to regular army chaplains, and that all reserve chaplains, national guard chaplains and regular army chaplains should be called together by competent authority annually, on a duty status, just as line officers are called for an annual tour of duty.

General Hagood, in an address to the chaplains, advocated a "church parade" as one of the military formations on the Sunday schedule, to emphasize the interest which the government takes in the spiritual welfare of its soldiers. He pointed out that such a formation would be in harmony with the traditional policy of West Point, and would also be similar to compulsory chapel attendance at schools and colleges. He did not urge compulsory attendance, however, but suggested that a military formation in connection with church attendance in the army would tend to make the Sunday service more formal and interesting.

CORRUPTION CHARGED TO WESTERN GOVERNOR

Move On Foot to Impeach Oklahoma's Chief Executive.

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 30.—Gross neglect of duty and corruption in office are charged against Governor J. B. A. Robertson, of Oklahoma, in the report of an investigating committee, submitted to the legislature late today. Impeachment proceedings are recommended in the report.

The report charges the governor also with "unwarranted use of his executive power" in regard to reprieves, pardons and paroles, declaring the present administration has extended clemency to 1,900 persons. The charge is also made in the report that the governor evaded payment of his state income tax.

The report further charges there were "rumors of evidence that the resulted in the efforts on the part of certain attorneys to receive good fees in pressing cases for clemency."

LIVE STOCK EXCHANGE FILES RAIL PROTEST

Washington, March 30.—The national live stock exchange filed a brief today with the interstate commerce commission supplementing its complaint against present railroad rules which base carload charges on live stock shipments upon the highest rate on any species in the car. The rule discourages farm diversification in that many farmers outside of the stock raising territory are unable to make up complete carload lots of cattle, calves, sheep and hogs, it declared.

Memorial to Gorgas.

Buenos Aires, March 30.—President Irigoyen, of Argentina, is understood to have under consideration participation by this country in the construction of a great scientific laboratory at Panama, which is planned as a memorial to the late General Willaim C. Gorgas.

Strawberry Record Broken.

New Orleans, March 30.—All records have been broken by this spring's shipment of strawberries to northern markets from the berry growing parishes of Tangipahoa, according to an announcement today by Charles Weinberger, president of the Strawberry Growers' Selling company.

Up to last night 475 carloads have been shipped as against 42 carloads on the same date last year. A carload was shipped today to Butte, Mont. Early spring weather and improved methods of fertilization were held responsible.

NOTICE

The annual meeting of the stockholders of THE ATLANTA & WEST POINT RAILROAD COMPANY will be held in room No. 9, Atlanta Terminal station, Atlanta, Georgia, on Tuesday, April 19, 1921, at twelve o'clock noon.

W. H. BRUCE, Secretary.

This is what healed my skin trouble

Resinol

"Now I don't have to avoid people because of embarrassing skin trouble, or lie awake hours at night, tormented by intense itching. Resinol Ointment did it! After the first application of this soothing ointment, I felt such blessed relief. In a short time the inflammation was reduced and the itching stopped. Now my eczema is entirely gone. I used Resinol Soap as directed with it and have found Resinol Shaving Stick to be the best on the market for a clean, easy shave." Resinol trio at all druggists.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sealed proposals will be received by the State Highway Department of Georgia at its office, 700 Walton Building, at Atlanta, Ga., until 12 o'clock noon, central time, on the 30th day of March, 1921, for the furnishing all labor, material, equipment and other things necessary for the construction of a bridge over Echeconee Creek, where the same crosses the Houston Road at the county line between Bibb and Houston Counties, at the end of Federal Aid Project No. 79.

The following are the approximate quantities:

680	Sq. Yds. 5-inch Concrete Paving (1:2:3 Mix).
1,446.6	Sq. Yds. 6½-inch Class "A" Concrete Paving.
446.83	Cu. Yds. Class "A" Concrete.
108.1	Cu. Yds. Class "A" Concrete in Piers.
131,383	Lbs. Reinforcing Steel.
636.5	Lin. Ft. Concrete Railing.
1,440.9	Lin. Ft. Wood Piling. Tearing down old bridges.

Bids will be received on the basis of the State Highway Department furnishing cement f. o. b. cars at Echeconee, Ga.

Said work shall begin on or about the 15th day of April and shall be completed within 250 working days.

Plans and specifications are on file at the office of the Division Engineer, Sixth District, Griffin, Ga., and at the office of the State Highway Engineer, Walton Building, Atlanta, Ga., and may be secured from the State Highway Engineer, Walton Building, Atlanta, Ga., upon receipt of $5 to cover the cost of printing.

Said work will be paid for as the same progresses, to wit: 85 per cent of the amount done in each calendar month will be paid between the 10th and 15th day of the succeeding month and the remainder will be paid within thirty days of final completion and acceptance.

Proposals must be submitted on regular forms which will be supplied by the Engineers, and must be accompanied by a certified check or bidder's bond for $3,000.

Bond will be required of the successful bidder as required by law.

Right is reserved to reject any or all bids and to waive all formalities.

This the 4th day of March, 1921.

W. R. NEEL,
State Highway Engineer.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.
Northern District of Georgia.

Will be sold on the first Tuesday in April, 1921, at public outcry before the courthouse door in the city of Atlanta, Fulton county, Georgia, within the legal hours of sale, to the highest and best bidder for cash, the following described property, to wit:

All that tract, lot or parcel of land lying and being in Fulton county, Georgia, in said district, and within the corporate limits of the city of Atlanta, and being the house and lot located at 153 East 17th street, and being the property upon which Simon Weill now lives. Said property being in the possession of Simon Weill and being levied upon as the property of Simon Weill.

Said property levied on as the property of Simon Weill to satisfy two executions issued from the district court of the United States for the northern district of Georgia, northern division, on August 13, 1920, in favor of the United States of America, and one for the principal sum of $1,404.25 and against Goodwin Davis, principal, and Simon Weill and F. S. Hall as sureties, and the other for the principal sum of $46.60 and against Goodwin Davis as principal and Simon Weill and J. A. Weill as sureties. Said executions being issued in Rem. No. 66, Marshal's No. 3705.

Said property now being in possession of defendant, Simon Weill.

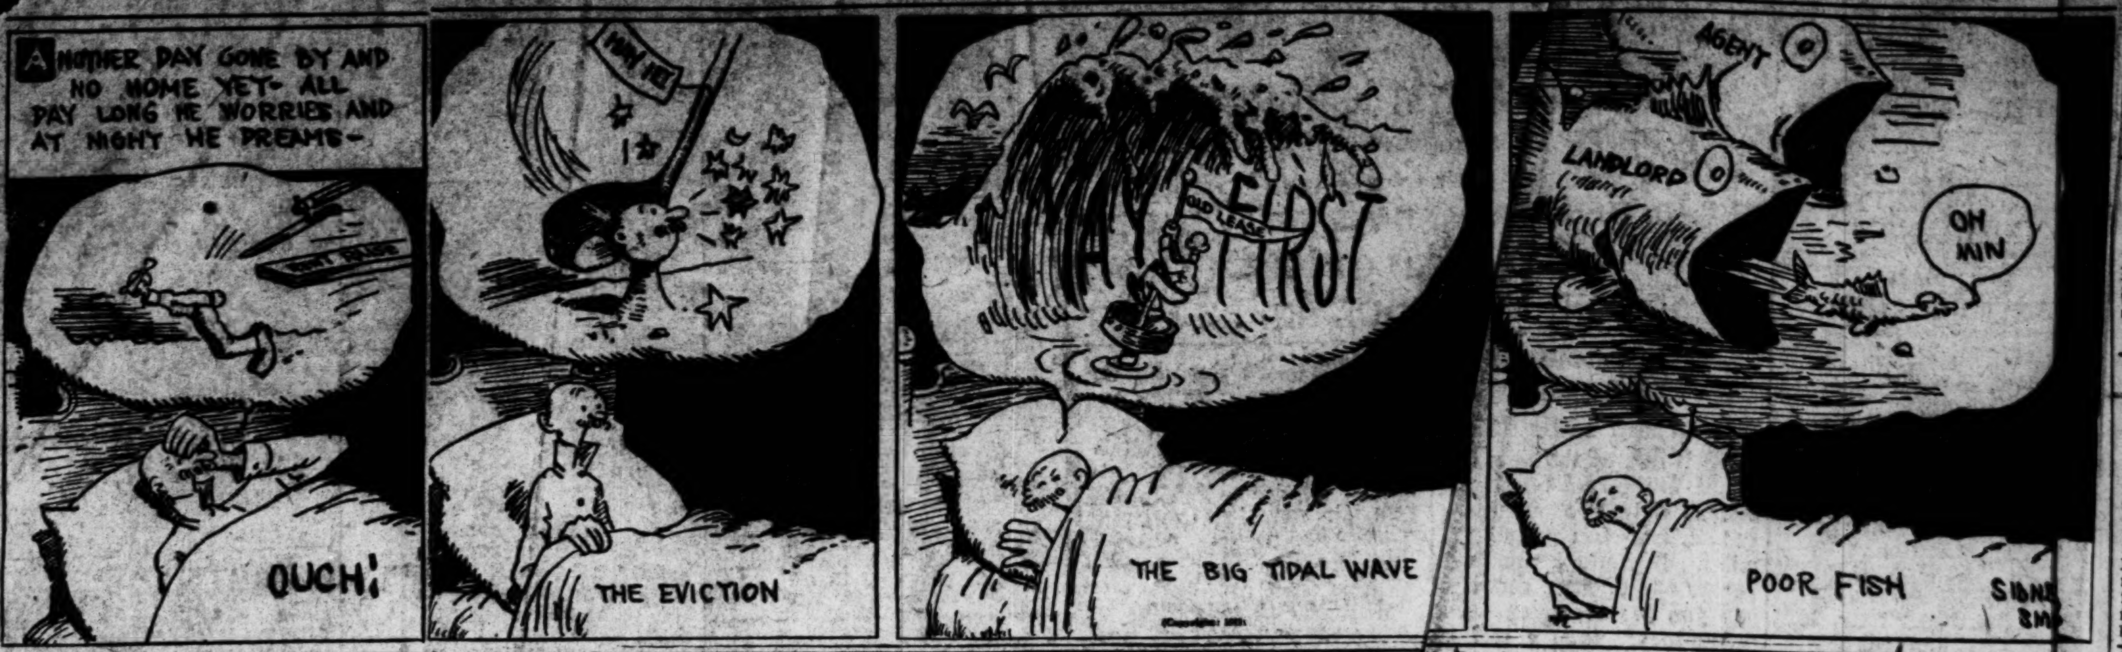
THE GUMPS—I WONDER IF DREAMS COME TRUE



60 PEOPLE SLAIN IN HUN DISORDERS

The Communist Uprising, Which Appeared to Have Collapsed, Flickers Up Again Over Nation.

Berlin, March 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—The communist uprising which had appeared to be at the point of collapse, has flickered up again in various sections of Germany, and reports today indicate that more than sixty persons have been killed in the renewed fighting.

The district between Leipsic and Halle now appears to be the chief zone of the communist operations, and train service between these two cities has been suspended.

The communists, who were defeated recently in the Mansfield district, have regrouped their forces near Grobers (Grobzig) where they are said to be in possession of a strong position. They are well-equipped, especially with machine guns, and in an effort to dislodge them the security police lost twelve killed.

60 PEOPLE KILLED IN GEVELSBERG.

London, March 30.—Fifty persons were killed in yesterday's fighting at Gevelsberg, in Westphalia, while the police were dealing with the communist rising there, according to Berlin messages today to the Exchange Telegraph company. The town, which had been taken possession of by the communists, was recaptured from them by the authorities.

During disorders at Mannheim the police were attacked and returned the fire, killing three persons and wounding five others.

A serious communist riot in Dresden has been put down by the authorities of that city, it is announced in a Berlin message today to Reuter's. Ninety-two communists were arrested, fourteen women being among their number.

Reports from Duesseldorf through the same channels declare the communist activity in the Rhine region is increasing and it is asserted that some mines in the district have been seized by workers.

The trouble at Jena, the glass manufacturing center, has been attended by some success on the part of the communists in their efforts to start a general strike. Messages report that they have occupied the Carl Zeiss optical works, a plant of world-wide celebrity, has stopped street railway traffic and forced the electrical workers to lay down their tools.

BY A. E. JOHNSON.
United News Staff Correspondent.

London, March 30.—The premiers of great Britain, France and Italy will meet again late in April, the United News is authoritatively informed, to continue their discussions on German indemnities, to thresh out the question of applying further penalties and to make a final decision regarding the disposition of Upper Silesia.

In the meantime, the entente is imbued with the hope that the pressure of the present penalties will lead the Berlin government to offer better terms than those resented at the recent London conference. To be sure, there are no present indications of weakening on the part of Fohrenbach or von Simons, and in many quarters the communist uprisings are looked upon as propaganda against the entente's reparations terms. But on the other hand Germany is beginning to realize it is felt that the allies are determined to press their decisions to a conclusion without making further concessions.

Italy as Host.

It has been decided that Italy will act as host for the next conference. The meeting probably will be held at some one of the resort towns in the lake region of northern Italy, and this implies the presence of Giolitti, the Italian premier, who has hitherto been represented by his foreign minister, Count Sforza.

Thus far the disppositión of Silesia remains in the hands of the entente. Through the wording of the Versailles treaty, it will be possible for the allies to give the entire fertile territory to Germany, inasmuch as the total vote of the province favored the central republic, but they can give to Poland the rich mine fields where the vote went against Germany.

Therefore, if the Germans realize that placating tactics will secure greater concessions from the entente than defiance, it is possible that they will make new reparations offers which will more adequately meet the demands of the entente.

LEADERS CONFER ON REPARATIONS.

Paris, March 30.—A London dispatch to The Petit Parisian says that Prime Minister Lloyd-George, Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, secretary of state for war, and Field Marshal Wilson held a conference last evening. The dispatch asserts that it is believed in London that the question discussed at the conference was the extension of military penalties upon Germany as a result of her refusal to pay the 12,000,000,000 marks in reparation before May 1, as demanded by the reparations commission.

To Probe Outrage.

Tampa, Fla., March 30.—Charges that Mexican seamen at Alvarado, near Vera Cruz, tore an American flag to shreds and threatened to kill members of the crew of the American schooner Telegram, will be investigated by the Mexican government, Rafael Ruesga, Mexican consul here, said today. The consul has forwarded to the Mexican ambassador at Washington a report of the incident.

Ministers Rap Movies.

Spartanburg, S. C., March 30.—(Special.)—The Spartanburg Ministerial association has adopted resolutions asking the city council to provide a municipal censorship, on the ground that many of the pictures shown in the local theaters are of a demoralizing character. Resolutions were also adopted urging parents to be more watchful as to the amusements and recreations of their children.

DAUGHERTY DENIES DEBS WAS OFFERED PRISON RELEASE

Washington, March 30.—Legislation to solve the problem of prisoners confined for violation of the war-time laws is now under consideration, Attorney-General Daugherty said today. Senators Sterling, and King, and other members of the senate judiciary committee, have asked Mr. Daugherty to confer with them and present his ideas on the question, he added, a bill already having been drawn to cover the matter.

Mr. Daugherty said published reports that Eugene V. Debs, imprisoned at Atlanta for violation of the espionage act, had been offered his freedom during his recent conference with the attorney-general here on promise to abandon the spread of bolshevik doctrines, were without foundation. The Debs case, Mr. Daugherty said, would be the subject of careful investigation on which an opinion would be transmitted to President Harding. Meanwhile, he added, he would not discuss it.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR DIXIE ARTIST AND WAR VETERAN

Washington, March 30.—Within sight of the confederate monument, his last and his greatest work, the body of Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor and confederate soldier, was buried today in Arlington. The committment services were accompanied by memorial exercises in which President Harding, Secretary Weeks and Rolandi Ricci, the Italian ambassador, joined in paying tribute to Sir Moses, who died in Rome in 1917.

President Harding, in a letter read at the exercises characterized Sir Moses as "a great Virginian, a great artist, a great American and a great citizen of world fame."

Secretary Weeks made the principal address while Ambassador Ricci spoke on "Sir Moses Ezekiel as an adopted son of Italy," and Colonel Robert E. Lee as a representative of the confederacy for which Sir Moses as a Virginia Military institute student fought at the battle of New Market in 1864, took as his subject, "Sir Moses Ezekiel as an American and as a Southerner."

SUPREME COUNSELLOR OF U. C. T. SUCCUMBS

Columbus, Ohio, March 30.—William B. Emerson, 49, supreme counsellor of the United Commercial Travelers of America and Canada, died today at a local hospital of complications. Emerson was born in Michigan, but came to Columbus in 1919, from Des Moines, Iowa. He became head of the U. C. T. in June, 1920.

Clem V. Holderman, Nashville, Tenn., supreme vice counsellor, succeeds Emerson as head of the Travelers' organization.

WILL REDUCE FORCE OF SHIPPING BOARD

Washington, March 30.—Substantial reduction in the number of operators of shipping board vessels and the amount of government tonnage on the various ocean trade routes will be made shortly, in the interest of economy and efficiency, Chairman Benson announced tonight.

Trade routes already established will be maintained, the chairman declared, but because of the slump in shipping it will be advisable to reduce the tonnage to the workable minimum. Shipping board operators already have been reduced from about 180 to 97, he added, and it is planned to cut this number substantially.

The Ballard Make

Years of experience, careful study of the eye, the manufacturing of glasses for the correction of eye troubles, enables us with our force of experts to give optical service that is not always found elsewhere. We will do all an honest optician can do for you. There are many cases that need the services of an oculist before they ever get comfort from their eyes—we are familiar with such cases and advise what is best for you. It is much easier for you to keep out of trouble than it is to get out after you are in. We have many thousand patients who will gladly verify the above statement—ask them, they are not hard to find.
